

IU Herron School of Art and Design

Welcome to the Herron School of Art and Design!

Indiana University's Herron School of Art and Design is the only professional art school in Indiana. As a tightly knit community of artists, scholars, art educators, and designers who push their work to its potential and themselves to exceptional careers, we carefully maintain our focus on the quality education that has fostered the successes of top artists and designers for more than a century. Our responsibility to push creative boundaries, to foster analytical skills necessary for creative problem solving, and to challenge students to be innovative is the foundation for Herron's success. We offer:

Undergraduate Degrees

- Bachelor of Fine Arts (B.F.A.) with majors in Ceramics, Furniture Design, Painting, Photography, Printmaking, Sculpture, Visual Communication, General Fine Arts
- Bachelor of Art Education (B.A.E.)
- Bachelor of Arts with a major in Art History

Minors

- Minor in Art History
- Minor in Book Arts

Graduate Degrees

- Master of Fine Arts (M.F.A.) in Visual Art and Public Life with emphases in Furniture Design, Printmaking, Sculpture, Ceramics, Photography, Painting
- M.F.A. in Visual Communication
- Master of Art Education (M.A.E.)
- Master of Arts (M.A.) in Art Therapy

Accreditation & Licenses

Since 1952, the Herron School of Art and Design has been an accredited institutional member of the National Association of Schools of Art and Design (NASAD). Herron is also accredited as a school of Indiana University by the Higher Learning Commission of the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools and by the Teacher Training Licensing Commission of the Indiana State Board of Education.

Community Learning Programs

Saturday School - Fall, Spring

Herron's Saturday School, established in 1922, provides quality art instruction to youths in grades 2 to 12 and adults seeking to learn artistic techniques, improve art and design skills, try new art forms and build a portfolio of work. Classes take place in spring and fall semesters and are held at Herron's Eskenazi Hall and at Herron's Sculpture and Ceramics building. Class offerings include drawing, painting, illustration, ceramics, photography, printmaking, and elementary art. Instructors are capable junior and senior Herron students and alumni working under supervision of Community Learning/Art Education.

The combination of quality instruction and an art and design school environment encourages exceptional development of creative skills. Partial scholarships are available through teacher recommendations. For more information, contact (317) 278-9400, sschool@iupui.edu, or visit:

www.HerronCommunity.org.

Evenings At Herron - Fall, Spring

Evenings At Herron, started in 2008, provides non-credit art classes that meet one night a week at Herron's Eskenazi Hall. Classes target adult and high school students with offerings ranging from oil painting to drawing from life and handbuilding with clay. Class sizes are limited. For more information, contact (317) 278-9400, sschool@iupui.edu, or visit:

Honors Art and Design - Summer

Honors Art and Design is a rigorous, two-week pre-college summer program for high school juniors, seniors and recent graduates who want to build their art making skills and portfolio, plus receive guidance in planning an education in art and design. For more than thirty years, the program has attracted talented high school students who want to experience a "taste" of art and design school. Each summer, two sessions of Honor Art and Design are held at Herron's Eskenazi Hall. Workshops in drawing, painting, design, printmaking, and theory - equivalent to those given to first-year Herron students - are carefully developed to build basic studio and visual communication skills. In addition, field trips provide meaningful exposure to nearby Indianapolis cultural sites. Moderate class sizes lead to quality instruction provided by Herron faculty members and alumni. To qualify for Honors Art and Design, a student must have completed the sophomore year of high school and should write a short statement of interest. For more information, contact (317) 278-9400, sschool@iupui.edu, or visit:

Youth Art Camp - Summer

Launched in 2002, Herron's Youth Art Camp is a summer day camp for young people entering grades 2 to 10. One-week or two-week camp sessions offered full day, Monday through Friday, are held during the months of June and July at Herron's Eskenazi Hall. Teachers guide campers in a fun, productive series of studio art activities where imaginative thinking and creative visual processes and expression are stressed. Campers learn basic art making skills and concepts, work with Visiting Artists and take field trips to nearby cultural sites. Each camp culminates with an art exhibition recognizing participants' successes. Art becomes a valid way to communicate, problem-solve, and learn. Tuition waivers are available on a first come, first served basis for those in need of financial assistance. ## Facilities

Eskenazi Hall

Eskenazi Hall is a 169,000 square-foot facility tripling Herrons previous square footage. The building provides the students with more than 70 art and design studios, graduate studios, four galleries, sculpture gardens, a comprehensive art library, a grand hall, a student lounge, conference rooms, up-to-date technologies, and other amenities to enhance all of the schools academic and community outreach programs.

Sculpture and Ceramics Building

The Sculpture and Ceramics Building is on the north edge of the IUPUI campus and provides state of the art technology, studios, facilities, and exhibition spaces for the Sculpture and Ceramics programs. Expansion plans to enlarge this facility are currently underway.

Herron Galleries

The Herron Galleries consist of the Eleanor Prest Reese and Robert B. Berkshire Galleries, the Marsh Gallery, and 2 Accreditation & Licenses May 26, 2010 the Basile Gallery. The Galleries provide the community, local high school students, and IUPUI students, faculty, and staff with firsthand exposure to contemporary works of art created by local, regional, national, and international artists.

The Eleanor Prest Reese Gallery, Dorit & Gerald Paul Gallery, and Robert B. Berkshire Galleries

These Galleries are committed to a program of several exhibits each year that explore all areas of visual artistic expression. Each exhibit is accompanied by an announcement and a public opening. The yearly schedule is coordinated with the school's lecture series to provide a broader understanding of the works presented in the Galleries. In addition, workshops are conducted by visiting artists, designers, curators, art historians, and scholars to give students and community members the opportunity to work directly with recognized professionals. The Marsh Gallery is generally reserved for student-led projects while the Basile Gallery usually displays artwork by Herron faculty and alumni. All three Galleries are intended to be educational resources for students as well as the community. A mailing list exists for anyone interested in receiving information about talks, workshops, and other events associated with the Galleries. The Galleries are open throughout the year. Gallery hours may vary. All shows are free and open to the public. Interested persons may call (317) 278-9423 for current gallery hours and an exhibition schedule, or go to the Galleries website at:

Museums, Art Galleries, and Culture

Situated in the heart of Indianapolis' White River State Park Cultural District, Herrons new location on the campus of IUPUI enables greater student and community access to cultural programming, gallery exhibitions, lectures, and special events. This ideal location also fosters more partnerships with surrounding nonprofit organizations, including the renowned Eiteljorg Museum of American Indians and Western Art, the Indiana State Museum, the Indiana Historical Society, and the Indianapolis Zoo. The Children's Museum and the Indianapolis Museum of Art are just a few miles away. Downtown galleries are numerous and many are within walking distance of Herron.

Career Counseling and Placement Careers in art are almost as varied as the artists themselves. Graduates of the Herron School of Art and Design can be found in professional positions throughout the United States and in various parts of the world. Many fine art graduates go on to graduate schools to continue their art preparation. Many also go directly into art professions, some working full time producing their art, others working as artists and illustrators for private and public agencies, in museums, in galleries, and in many other settings. Graduates of the Visual Communication Program have many career options open to them, including design positions in business, industry, and academic settings, as well as advertising agencies and design studios. Art education graduates from Herron have certification to teach in the public schools in Indiana. Many also teach in private settings or work with museums or public agencies concerned with art and recreational media. Some graduates in art education go on to earn masters degrees and become permanently certified. Information about employment in specific careers is available from placement offices, admissions offices, and department coordinators. IUPUI, in cooperation with the Herron School of Art and Design, works on the local and national levels to assist students and alumni in career placement. Counseling coordinators provide recommendations and maintain a schedule of on-campus recruiting dates by corporate and governmental representatives. Herron School of Art and Design has a Web site for all students and graduates who are seeking jobs. It is updated weekly and lists part-time, full-time, and freelance jobs for all fine arts majors. The job line page is located in the student services section of the Herron Web site at:

History

The Herron School of Art and Design boasts a rich tradition. The roots of the school were planted in 1877, when it was established as the first school in Indiana dedicated to the teaching of art on a professional level. A professional art school, as defined by Herron's accrediting body, the National Association of Schools of Art and Design, is one in which 65% or more of the curriculum is comprised of studio art and art history courses. After several years of intermittent instruction, the school resumed on a permanent basis in 1902. In 1967, Herron became a school of Indiana University. Two years later, with the creation of Indiana University-

Purdue University Indianapolis (IUPUI), Herron became part of this innovative approach to higher education. In 1999, Herron launched its first ever capital campaign to raise funds for a new school. Completion of part one of this two-stage process was celebrated in 2000 with the opening of its new state-of-the-art Sculpture and Ceramics Facility, just north of the IUPUI campus. Five years later, Herron opened the doors to its new home, Eskenazi Hall, on the campus of IUPUI. This new 169,000 square foot facility tripled Herron's previous square footage and brought all remaining art programs together under one roof. The new building provides the students with more than 70 art and design studios, graduate studios, four galleries, sculpture gardens, a comprehensive art library, a grand hall, a student lounge, conference rooms, up-to-date technologies, and other amenities to enhance all of the school's academic and community outreach programs. Herron has completed more than 100 years of education in the visual arts. Throughout its history, the school has educated numerous successful artists, educators, curators, and designers and will continue to be a nationally recognized arts institution.

International Travel

The experience and wisdom gained through travel abroad is vital to a student's artistic and intellectual growth. Students emerge from their adventures abroad with an expanded knowledge of art, a deeper appreciation for other cultures and ways of life, and a different perspective on how they view art. Herron has long recognized the value of such experiences and offers a variety of travel options. These have included Belgium, China, Italy, England, France, German, Greece, and the Netherlands, and range from one to three weeks. The school continues to expand on these offerings as resources become available, and as new relationships develop with other schools around the world. Scholarship opportunities are available through Herron on a competitive basis. Programs are administered in cooperation with the IUPUI Study Abroad Office. Please see Herron's Web site under Academic Programs for specific information, or contact the IUPUI Study Abroad Office.

Admission

Undergraduate Programs Admission

Admission to Herron School of Art and Design is based on the student's previous school record and may also require a visual portfolio. All Herron applicants must first be fully admitted to IUPUI. Students may be admitted to Herron based upon outstanding academic achievements. Other students who qualify for admission to IUPUI may be admitted to Herron through a visual portfolio. Students enrolled at other schools or divisions of IUPUI may apply for Herron admission the semester before beginning Herron courses. To transfer, they must have at least 12 credit hours that apply toward a Herron degree and a 2.5 cumulative grade point average (GPA). IUPUI students must file an application for priority admission by October 1 for spring admission and March 1 for summer or fall admission. Please contact the Herron Student Services Office at (317) 278-9400 for more information. All students are admitted into Herron as pre-fine art, art history, or pre-art education majors. To be admitted to a fine art or art education major, a student must go through the portfolio review process, which occurs after students complete the freshman Foundation Program courses and credit hours of sophomore-level studio work. Students interested in art history may be directly admitted into that program and do not have to go through the portfolio review process.

Admission with Transfer Credit

Students with transfer credits from other colleges or universities may be considered for admission to Herron. Transfer students may receive credit for successfully completing academic courses (grade of C or higher) of equivalent content from other regionally accredited institutions. Transfer credit for studio art courses, however, is granted only from institutions with National Association of Schools of Art and Design (NASAD) accreditation. Credits for studio art courses from institutions not accredited by NASAD may be eligible for evaluation toward a Herron degree program. Transfer students ready to register for 300-level studio courses must submit a portfolio for review. Students who are eligible for advancement will be notified by the Herron Student Services Office after admission to the university. Review dates and guidelines will be determined by the individual degree programs.

AP Credit

A score of 5, 4, or 3 on the Art History AP Exam will be counted as either HER-H101 or HER H102. Students should contact their advisors to elect which course they prefer to use the AP credit towards. A score of 5, 4, or 3 on the AP Fine Arts Exam will be counted as a studio elective. Herron will not accept an AP score of 2 or 1.

Readmission of Former Students

Former students in good standing who withdraw in accordance with the regulations of the school and who desire to return within two years of their departure should notify the Herron Student Services Office. Students who have been gone for two or more calendar years must follow the current bulletin requirements and meet all departmental curriculum requirements offered at the time of their return. All B.F.A. students who interrupt their major course of study for more than five calendar years are required to pass a portfolio review prior to enrollment in 300- or 400-level studio courses. B.A.E. students who interrupt their art education program for more than five years must re-apply to the program and complete the requirements in place at the time of return. For visual communication students, no major course completed more than five years previously will be accepted toward the visual communication graduation requirements. Former students whose standing was not satisfactory at the time of withdrawal, former students who withdrew without compliance with the regulations of the school, and former students who were terminated on the basis of performance, must apply in writing to the Herron Student Services Office, 735 West New York Street, Indianapolis, IN 46202, for consideration by the Student Affairs Committee. See section on "Petition for Readmission." Petitions are due to Herron Student Services Office by October 15 for spring admission and April 15 for fall admission.

Academic Sequencing

The studies at the Herron School of Art and Design are sequential, in that a student moves through definite programs of prescribed and optional studies on a year-to-year basis until all the requirements for a particular degree are fulfilled. Students who fall behind in fulfilling degree requirements at a particular year's level will be expected to fulfill those requirements in sequence, either in conjunction with or in place of courses offered at the next level. Conflicts in scheduling may occur when students try to make up requirements, and they may find that their enrollment must be extended beyond the original graduation date. Students are therefore strongly advised to carefully plan their academic schedule.

Awarding of Credit

Herron School of Art and Design awards credit in accordance with the standards and guidelines of the National Association of Schools of Art and Design.

An undergraduate credit hour corresponds to approximately 3 hours of work per week for a period of one semester. Thus, a 3-credit course corresponds to approximately 9 hours per week for a period of one semester. A 3-credit lecture/discussion course typically meets with the instructor 2.5 - 3 hours per week, with the expectation that students will work, on average, 6 or more hours outside of class per week. A 3-credit studio course typically meets with the instructor 4.5 – 6.5 hours per week, with the expectation that students will work, on average, 3-5 hours per week in the studio outside of class meeting time.

When a course is offered for a period shorter than or longer than one semester, or when the course is taught in a hybrid or alternative format, the credit hours are calculated on the basis of the norms described above. Since students work at different rates, the amount of time an individual spends preparing the work required for class may differ from the averages on which credit hours are calculated. Credit is only awarded when students complete all course requirements and demonstrate the competencies defined for the course. Ultimately, the amount of credit awarded per course reflects the expectation for students' acquisition of competencies rather than the number of hours required to achieve those competencies.

Advanced courses typically require students to work more independently than introductory courses. Faculty contact for graduate courses may reflect both the expectation of significant independent work and the type of work done during class meetings.

Herron Expenses

A Herron student will spend approximately $1,300 on books and supplies during a school year. Lab fees are charged for materials used in certain studio classes. A Herron program fee is assessed to all Herron students based on the number of credit hours taken each semester. The lab and program fees are subject to change. Current information can be found at the Bursar's Web site at www.bursar.iupui.edu.

Review for Advancement

In order for students to be admitted into the majors in which they will earn their degrees at Herron School of Art and Design, they are required to pass a portfolio review for advancement (this requirement does not apply to art history majors). To be admitted to the upper level courses required for the majors, students must pass the portfolio review. Therefore, completion of portfolio review requirements does not guarantee advancement into the major. The decision of the faculty conducting reviews is final.

Policies for Sophomore Advancement Review in Fine Arts, Visual Communication, Art Education

The purpose of Sophomore Advancement Review at Herron is to evaluate student achievement in the first two years of their education at Herron prior to being accepted into the major field of study and undertaking the advanced sequence of coursework. Review is an occasion to assess minimum technical competencies, to assure that students are beginning to integrate their areas of learning at a level appropriate for a sophomore level student, and to remedy any deficiencies. The review is also an occasion for programs to assess their own effectiveness, allowing faculty to observe and respond to areas of strength and weakness in their curricula.

Eligibility for review:

Note: A student may only undergo review three times.

1. Completion of Foundation year studio courses
2. Completion of 6 credits of Art History
3. Completion of 9-18 credits of 200-level studio courses (specific courses may be specified by department)
4. Minimum GPA in Herron studio courses: 2.5 B.F.A./ 3.0 B.A.E.
5. Minimum cumulative GPA in all IU courses: 2.5 B.F.A./ 2.8 B.A.E.
6. B.A.E. candidates must pass the PSST or be exempted by sufficient SAT, ACT, or GRE scores, or a master's degree from a regionally accredited institution
7. Completion of ENG W131*
8. B.F.A. candidates must complete ENG L105 or L115*
9. B.A.E. candidates must complete HER M220 Art Education and New Media OR HER A261 *
10. B.A.E. candidates must complete COMM R110*

*Students may stand for review prior to taking ENG W131, L105, L115, COMM R110, or HER A261, but must complete these courses prior to embarking upon 300-level coursework. Completion during the summer before the junior year may be a requirement of probation.

OR

Students transferring to Herron with the AFA degree from Ivy Tech Community College will be eligible for sophomore advancement review after taking 9 credits of studio art at Herron. The following courses are strongly recommended for students in their first semester at Herron as they prepare for sophomore advancement review:

HER-D 202 Drawing IV (3 cr.)

ENG-L 105/115 English Literature or any literature class (3 cr.)

HER-X 2XX 200-level studio course in area of intended major (3 cr.)

HER-X XXX Any studio course within or outside of the intended major (3 cr.)

HER-H 103 Introduction to Contemporary Art (3 cr.)

Faculty review teams may base their recommendations on:

1. Consideration of students' grades in all or in selected courses taken. Grades may count for up to 25% of the evaluation.

2. Students' work presented at Review and their ability to speak and write about it as directed. The work and students' presentation of it may count for at least 50% of the evaluation.

3. Assessment of students' likelihood of success in their intended majors. This evaluation may be based on students' oral or written responses to questions posed during review or in the preparatory materials, evidence in the work presented at review, or students' conduct during the review process. This may count for up to 25% of the evaluation.

Review Recommendations:

Passed: Students advance into their chosen majors and register for upper level courses. No further reviews are required.

Probation: Students are advised of areas of weakness and are given remedial instructions to address these areas. These may include specific courses to be taken before advancing into upper level coursework, or courses to be taken in conjunction with advancing into upper level coursework. Summer course offerings should address the need for remedial work as much as possible. Students will be assigned a faculty mentor to assist them with improving the identified weaknesses. Subsequent review may be required and should be available to students within seven months.

Denied: Students may not advance into upper level coursework. Students may continue to enroll in 100- and 200-level courses and may present themselves for review in the same department or another at the time of their own choosing. A student who is denied advancement may schedule a meeting with a member of their review committee to discuss their portfolio. Denials should be rare.

After review:

The review committees will submit their recommendations to the dean and the department chairs.

Students will be informed of their official results by Student Services staff within two weeks.

Graduate Admission

The Master of Fine Arts in Visual Art with Emphasis Areas in Furniture Design, Sculpture, Printmaking, Photography and Intermedia, Painting and Drawing, or Ceramics

Admission into the program is competitive. Applicants must demonstrate a commitment and capability to develop sustained creative activity as a visual artist at the professional level and the ability to complete graduate work. Applicants must have (1) an undergraduate degree, preferably a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree with a studio art emphasis from an accredited institution, but other backgrounds will be considered by the graduate admissions committee, (2) a minimum GPA of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale, (3) a portfolio documenting past visual artwork. Some otherwise qualified applicants may not have all the necessary coursework and background experience to prepare them to fully succeed in their graduate coursework. These persons will be required to make up curricular deficiencies by enrolling in appropriate undergraduate courses prior to taking specific courses in the graduate program. Applicants must complete, current admissions requirements, deadlines for admissions, application procedures, and information about financial aid are available on the website for Herron School of Art and Design.

The Master of Fine Arts in Visual Communication

Admission into the Visual Communication graduate program is competitive. The Department of Visual Communication seeks graduate candidates who have strong skills for thinking critically about complex issues and working collaboratively in teams that represent adversity of perspectives. Applicants ordinarily will be expected to hold baccalaureate degrees from colleges or universities of recognized standing prior to registrations graduate students. Applicants for a master's degree program should have achieved a 3.0 (out of 4.0) grade point average or higher for the baccalaureate degree or have other indicators of outstanding academic performance. Students entering the M.F.A. degree programming Visual Communication Design are not required to have established background in design or art. The Visual Communication Design program at Herron encourages cross-disciplinary research approaches and experiences. However, applicants who do not have a prior educational background in design or professional design experience may be required to successfully complete foundational pre-graduate studies in design before being accepted to initiate the M.F.A. curriculum. One or two semesters of foundational pre-graduate studies may be required before full admission into the M.F.A. program in Visual Communication Design. Foundational pre-graduate courses in design may be offered for graduate credit, but the credit hours do not apply to completing the 60-credit hour requirements in the M.F.A. degree. Decisions regarding admission into the Foundational Pre-Graduate program are made on an individual basis.

The Master of Arts in Art Therapy

Admission into the Art Therapy graduate program is competitive. Applicants must have (1) an undergraduate degree with transcripts that reflect 18 or more credit hours of studio art and 12 credit hours of psychology, including developmental and abnormal psychologies /or/ 9 credit hours of psychology including developmental and abnormal psychology, plus 3 credit hours of sociology (2) a minimum GPA of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale, (3) a portfolio of artwork that shows experience with different media and an ability to understand the motivations of one's personal art making process. Applicants must complete, current admissions requirements, deadlines for admissions, application procedures, and information about financial aid are available on the website for Herron School of Art and Design.

Courses

Art Courses for Nonmajor

HER-E 101 Beginning Drawing I (3 cr.) Introduction to drawing, exploring a wide range of techniques. Study from nature and still-life objects and sketching from the model.

HER-E 102 Beginning Drawing II (3 cr.) Introduction to drawing, exploring a wide range of techniques. Study from nature and still-life objects and sketching from the model.

HER-E 103 Two-Dimensional Design Theory (3 cr.) Comprehensive study of design elements and principles through the investigation of two-dimensional space. Students explore basic two-dimensional concepts such as figure/ground, grouping principles, grid, symmetry, rhythm, and pattern. As a result of this course, students develop a visual language for analyzing, organizing, and communicating two-dimension principles.

HER-E 105 Beginning Painting I (3 cr.) Introduction to the techniques of painting. Aspects of pictorial composition; wide range of media. Painting from still life and live model.

HER-E 106 Beginning Painting II (3 cr.) Introduction to the techniques of painting. Aspects of pictorial composition; wide range of media. Painting from still life and live model.

HER-E 109 Color and Design for Non-Art Majors (3 cr.) Introduction to basic design and color theory through the manipulation of imagery in two-dimensional media. Equal emphasis on thought process and manual skills.

HER-E 111 Metalsmithing and Jewelry Design (3 cr.) Introduction of metalsmithing techniques used to create fine art jewelry and metal sculpture. Course will cover metalsmithing processes, materials, tools and equipment as well as historic and contemporary jewelry design. Topics include: sawing, cold connecting sheet metal, stone setting, craftsmanship and studio safety.

HER-E 113 Introduction to Sculpture (3 cr.) Provides an overview of basic skills used to create three-dimensional art to explore traditional and contemporary sculpture materials. Emphasis is on both additive and subtractive methods of working. Goals include acquiring technical skills, understanding the physical and expressive possibilities of sculpture, and learning safe, appropriate use of tools and materials.

HER-E 201 Photography I for Non-Art Majors (3 cr.) Introduction to the basics of black-and-white fine art photography for non-art majors only. Students provide their own fully manual 35mm camera.

HER-E 202 Photography II for Non-Art Majors (3 cr.) Introduction to the basics of black-and-white fine art photography for non-art majors only. Students provide their own fully manual 35mm camera.

HER-E 204 Beginning Ceramics Handbuilding for Non-Art Majors (3 cr.) Beginning studio introduction to handbuilding, glazing, and firing of clay as expressive studio medium applicable to contemporary and sculptural concepts.

HER-E 205 Portrait Painting I (3 cr.) Includes the study of features and basic construction of the head. Exploration of various media. Emphasis on rendering flesh tones, form, and colors with respect to the model.

HER-E 209 Drawing for Interior Design (3 cr.) P: HER-E 101, INTR 103, ART 117. Applied drawing with an emphasis on communicating ideas and developing schematic drawing skills. Students will learn to define their ability to think in three dimensions and to represent ideas for three-dimensional space in drawing.

HER-E 214 Visual Learning: From The Simpsons to the Guerrilla Girls (3 cr.) Designed for the novice, this class facilitates viewers in interpreting powerful images from our contemporary world, starting with art and moving across popular culture and academic disciplines. Classes involve making and interpreting images. Essential questions help students examine how visual images impact their lives. Convenes at Herron with off-site visits to museums and public spaces.

HER-E 220 Exploring Art (1-3 cr.) Introduction to materials, techniques, and uses of a specific art media. Course will focus on a material or artistic approach to introduce students to art making. Demonstrations, lectures, and critiques support art assignments. Topics change to coordinate with current faculty expertise and interest in the community.

HER-T 600 Art Therapy Internship I (3 cr.) "This course requires a minimum of 450 hours of supervised experience in an internship, to gain working experience in the professional practice of art therapy and counseling.

Students will practice and enhance their basic counseling skills, art therapy skills, and ability to complete paperwork. This is a hands-on experience in which students make the transition to working professional. Students are required to provide appropriate documentation of their performance and attendance in all scheduled activities."

HER-T 601 Art Therapy Advanced Internship (3 cr.)

"This course requires a minimum of 450 hours of supervised experience in an internship, to gain working experience in the professional practice of art therapy. Students will practice and enhance their basic counseling skills, art therapy skills, and ability to complete paperwork. This is a hands-on experience in which students make the transition to working professional. There is an expectation in this course that students will be taking on an increasing amount of responsibility for the care of clients under the guidance of the site supervisor. Students are required to provide appropriate documentation of their performance and attendance in all scheduled activities."

HER-T 602 Professional Issues Capstone (3 cr.) "This course features lectures, group discussions, readings, a research paper or project, and examinations that provide the graduate student an in-depth knowledge of the professional practice of art therapy and counseling. The course focus includes standards of practice in art therapy, professional preparation for credentialing, an examination of the function and methodology of research in art therapy, an understanding of the roles of mental health counseling in context of the larger field of mental health services, ways in which a network of services is utilized to help clients and the differences in inpatient, outpatient, individual and group practice settings. Exploration on how to move forward into a practice as a professional will also be discussed. A research thesis or culminating project will be required."

Book Arts

HER-A 204 The Visual Book (3 cr.) Exploration of the communicative possibilities of the book format through lecture, studio projects, and field trips. Introduction to letterpress, binding, and typographic concerns.

HER-A 261 Introduction to Computer Imagery I (3 cr.)

P: Foundation Program. An introductory course providing hands-on learning experiences in using the Macintosh computer and Adobe Photoshop, a pixel-based paint and image-editing software package, to create, scan, and manipulate images. A studio elective open to all Herron degree-seeking students with little or no computer experience who have completed the foundation year.

HER-A 262 INTRO COMPUTER IMAGERY II (3 cr.) P: A261 or permission of instructor. A continuing course that extends the student's abilities in using the Macintosh computer and Adobe Photoshop as a means of creative self-expression. A studio elective for all Herron degree-seeking students with the above prerequisites.

HER-A 291 Bookbinding (3 cr.) A beginning course in bookbinding dealing with traditional bookbinding and box-building techniques. Students are instructed on use of tools and materials. Projects are designed to encourage exploration and experimentation of book structure.

HER-A 341 PRODUCTION FOR DESIGN I (3 cr.) P: V220, V221, V222 Students learn to prepare graphic design work for commercial printing. Includes field trips, lectures, and discussions on various printing processes, ink and paper selection, proofing methods, and binding. In a final group project, students prepare artwork digitally to be printed on a four-color offset press.

HER-A 415 INDEPENDENT DESIGN PROBLEMS

(3 cr.) P A301, A331, A341. For junior- and senior- level students, the course provides an opportunity for the student to choose and become involved in one extensive project. Students are required to write a proposal, establish goals, and obtain an instructor's approval. During the course, student are reviewed on a regular basis by faculty and peers.

HER-A 453 PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE INTRNSHP

(3 cr.) P: A301, A331 OR V310, V312 and A341. 3.0 GPA, and consent of instructor. Program offers students the opportunity to learn by working with professionals in a design studio or corporate design firm. Students must apply to the IUPUI Professional Practice Program and are required to interview by portfolio review.

HER-A 453 PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE STUDIO

(3 cr.) P: A301, A331 OR V310, V312 and A341. 3.0 GPA, and consent of instructor. Structured like a working design studio. Students are given an opportunity to design projects for clients of the Herron Design Center. Projects span all media from print to interactive multimedia and Web design. Managing time schedules, budget considerations, client/designer relationships, and general work ethics are covered.

Ceramics

HER-C 204 Beginning Ceramics, Hand Building (3 cr.)

P: Foundation Program. Beginning studio introduction to handbuilding, glazing, and firing of clay as an expressive studio medium applicable to contemporary and sculptural concepts.

HER-C 206 Beginning Ceramics, Wheel Throwing

(3 cr.) P: Foundation Program. Focus on wheel throwing as an expressive tool within an overall ceramic experience. Clay vessels will be utilized to develop an understanding of glazing and firing techniques. Traditional forms will be used to expand sensitivity to material, history, and wheel throwing techniques.

HER-C 208 Intermediate Wheel Throwing (3 cr.) P:

C206. Designed for non-art majors who wish to pursue wheel throwing. Emphasis is on developing skill through an exploration of more complex forms and investigative advanced embellishment and firing techniques.

HER-C 304 Ceramics III (3 cr.) P: C204-C206 Advanced

workshop. Focus on students' conceptual development and self-motivated projects. Heavy concentration on material testing and exploration of firing techniques. Emphasis will be placed on the merging of technique and concept to ready students for entry into a career as a ceramic artist or educator.

HER-C 305 Ceramics IV (3 cr.) P: C204-C206 Advanced

workshop. Focus on students' conceptual development and self-motivated projects. Heavy concentration on material testing and exploration of firing techniques. Emphasis will be placed on the merging of technique and concept to ready students for entry into a career as a ceramic artist or educator.

HER-C 306 Indpt Research in Ceramics (3 cr.)

P: HER-C 204, HER-C 206, and HER-C 304 This class is designed for students who have completed C204, C206, and C304 and wish to pursue specific independent research projects. Students will work closely with the instructor to accomplish their specific goals. Students must present the independent project to the instructor and receive permission from the instructor prior to signing up for the class.

HER-C 307 Clay and Glaze Materials (3 cr.) P: C204, C206, and C304. This course is an investigation into the chemistry that makes up clays and glazes. Students develop an understanding of these materials and their interactions by systematically testing a variety of glazes and clay bodies that are used by contemporary ceramic studio artists. Topics include low and high fire glazes, clay bodies, specialty glazes, and clays.

HER-C 308 Intermediate Wheel Throwing (3 cr.) P: C204 and C206. Designed for art majors who wish to pursue wheel throwing as a main focus of expression. Assignments will focus on developing wheel throwing skills through an investigation of contemporary vessel makers as well as development of a personal style in vessel work.

HER-C 350 Ceramic Workshop (3 cr.) P: C204 and C206. This course is designed to offer specific focused topics of interest in the ceramic arts. Such topics may include kiln building, slip casting, mold making, making and using decalomania, and raku firing, to name a few.

HER-C 400 Individual Research in Ceramics (1-6 cr.) P: C305. This course is designed to investigate specific advanced ceramic techniques as used by contemporary artists. Areas of study will be offered on an alternate basis. Subject matter to be covered will include kiln construction and glaze calculations.

HER-C 405 Individual Research in Ceramics (1-6 cr.) P: C305 and C307. Study devoted to the student's independent research in ceramics. Emphasis placed on advanced techniques and the development of concepts and philosophies pertinent to the student's direction.

HER-C 510 Studio Emphasis: Materials and Methods in Ceramics (6 cr.) P: MFA student or consent of instructor. Introductory graduate course in the materials, methodologies, and general concepts used in ceramics and related objects.

HER-C 511 3-D Design (3 cr.) This class is designed for graduate students who have little or no previous experience with the use of ceramics as an art material. The class will cover specific subjects covering the foundations of ceramic materials and processes.

Drawing

HER-D 201 Drawing III (3 cr.) P: Foundation Program. Investigation of nature and the human figure through drawing. Emphasis on structure, line, gesture, and movement.

HER-D 202 Drawing IV (3 cr.) P: Foundation Program. Investigation of nature and the human figure through drawing. Emphasis on structure, line, gesture, and movement.

HER-D 211 Communicative Drawing (3 cr.) P: Foundation Program. Emphasis is placed on communicating verbal concepts in a visual manner and developing drawing techniques.

HER-D 230 Figure Drawing (3 cr.) Students draw in a variety of media directly from the live model.

HER-D 251 Anatomy (3 cr.) P: HER-D 101, HER-D 102 This studio class focuses on the study of human anatomy and its function in the fine arts. Course work includes lectures and study of skeletal and muscular structure of the body and is supplemented by drawings from anatomical and live models to examine the surface form of the body and its relationship to artistic anatomy. Accurate observation and recording of individual and cooperative bone and muscle structures of the human form are emphasized.

HER-D 301 Drawing V (3 cr.) P: D201-D202. Investigation of traditional and nontraditional elements of space in drawing. Emphasis placed on conceptual development and on drawing as an exploratory process and a means of producing finished works of art.

HER-D 302 Drawing VI (3 cr.) P: D201-D202. Investigation of traditional and nontraditional elements of space in drawing. Emphasis placed on conceptual development and on drawing as an exploratory process and a means of producing finished works of art.

HER-D 401 Drawing VII (3 cr.) P: D301-D302. Concerned solely with conceptual and technical capabilities in drawing necessary to satisfy the student's individual expressive needs. A primary aim of the course is to refine and extend analytical and verbal skills by means of participation in regularly scheduled open class critiques.

HER-D 402 Drawing VIII (3 cr.) P: D301-D302. Concerned solely with conceptual and technical capabilities in drawing necessary to satisfy the student's individual expressive needs. A primary aim of the course is to refine and extend analytical and verbal skills by means of participation in regularly scheduled open class critiques.

Foundation Program

HER-D 101 Drawing I (3 cr.) P: Admission to Herron School of Art and Design. Introduction to the basic skills of drawing and development of sound observational skills. Working from nature, manufactured objects, and the human figure, students develop their draftsmanship with an emphasis on space, proportion, and structure.

HER-D 102 Drawing II (3 cr.) P: D101. This course serves as a continuation of issues addressed in D101 with a greater emphasis on compositional aspects and spatial configurations. The human figure serves as a major point of investigation with an emphasis placed on anatomical understanding and accurate portrayals of form and proportion.

HER-F 100 Creative Process (3 cr.) P: Admission to the Herron School of Art and Design, D101, F121, and F123. Students experience multiple art concepts and processes working with two faculty members in half-semester workshops. The course provides reinforcement of design concepts with a focus on problem solving, ideation, and the stages of creative process. Equal emphasis will be given to both two-dimensional and three-dimensional experience.

HER-F 121 Two-Dimensional Design (3 cr.) P:

Admission to the Herron School of Art and Design. Comprehensive study of design elements and principles through the investigation of two-dimensional space. Students explore basic two-dimensional concepts such as figure /ground, grouping principles, grid, symmetry, rhythm, and pattern. As a result of this course, students develop a visual language for analyzing, organizing, and communicating two-dimensional principles.

HER-F 122 Color Concepts (3 cr.) P: Admission to the Herron School of Art and Design, F121 and F123. Introduction to basic design and color theory through the manipulation of imagery in two-dimensional and three-dimensional media. Equal emphasis on thought processes and manual skills.

HER-F 123 Three-Dimensional Design (3 cr.)

P: Admission to the Herron School of Art and Design. This course introduces basic concepts of three-dimensional art and design through a series of assignments dealing with the organization of space and form using a variety of materials, processes, and tools. Students investigate formal, functional, and conceptual issues while developing effective material choices, construction methods, and safe studio working habits.

HER-X 101 Foundation Resources Workshop (1 cr.)

This course serves to introduce students to the resources at Herron, IUPUI, and Indianapolis. This seminar, while teaching students how to develop study skills, time management, and utilization of resources needed for success in the university setting, will include content specific to Herron's curricular mission.

HER-X 102 Foundation Capstone (1 cr.) P:

Admission to the Herron School of Art and Design and X101. This course serves to prepare students for sophomore advancement review, promote early career planning, develop skills in documenting and presenting their work, and aid in the selection of major studio emphasis.

Furniture Design*HER-Q 241 Beginning Furniture Design I (3 cr.) P:

Foundation Program or permission of instructor. Beginning Furniture Design concentrates on the concept of art furniture through the design and building of functional objects. Furniture design focuses on both historical reference and contemporary theory. Works created in the courses range from utilitarian to non-utilitarian furniture forms. Students are introduced to wood as a material, its preparation, and furniture construction, including basic joinery, forming, shaping, and finishing techniques. Students learn to start from a working drawing, build a model, and construct a finished piece. Beginning projects generally focus on table and bench forms.

HER-Q 242 Beginning Furniture Design II (3 cr.) P:

HER-Q 341 Intermediate Furniture Design III (3 cr.)

P: Q241 and Q242. Intermediate Furniture Design concentrates on furniture as an art form as well as applications for everyday use. Furniture is defined as a medium in how its formal concerns address conceptual motives. Students are required to undertake an in-depth investigation of furniture, its historical roots as well as contemporary individual artist-makers. Students learn advanced joinery and carcass construction with door and drawer assemblies. Alternative materials and experimentation are encouraged.

HER-Q 342 Intermediate Furniture Design IV (3 cr.)

P: Q241 and Q242. Intermediate Furniture Design concentrates on furniture as an art form as well as applications for everyday use. HER-Q 441 Advanced Furniture Design V (3 cr.) P:

Q341 and Q342. Advanced Furniture Design offers the student an opportunity to define himself/herself as an artist in the field. Individual design aesthetic is emphasized. Complex furniture forms and advanced techniques are applied to each student's expertise.

HER-Q 442 Advanced Furniture Design VI (3 cr.) P:

Q341 and Q342. Advanced Furniture Design offers the student an opportunity to define himself/herself as an artist in the field. Individual design aesthetic is emphasized. Complex furniture forms and advanced techniques are applied to each student's expertise.

HER-Q 510 Studio Emphasis I: Materials and Methods in Furniture Design (3 cr.) P:

M.F.A. student or consent of instructor. Introductory graduate course in the materials, methodologies, and general concepts used in the designing and making of furniture and related objects.

HER-Q 520 Studio Emphasis II: Theory into Practice in Furniture Design (3 cr.) P:

Studio Emphasis I: Furniture Design. Study of designing and making studio furniture within the context of professional practice.

HER-Q 560 Studio Emphasis III: Advanced Practices in Furniture Design (3 cr.) P:

Studio Emphasis II: Furniture Design. Study of advanced concepts and practices in designing and making furniture and related objects.

Graduate Course Descriptions*Art Education*HER-Z 510 Art for Teachers of Exceptional Children (3 cr.)

A course concerned with planning and presentation of art lessons and programs for children with a variety of special needs. The program involves presentations by guest professionals and field experiences. Emphasis is on public school applications.

HER-Z 511 Nonstudio Approaches to Art Instruction (3 cr.)

Exploration of critical approaches to newer media, including film, video, and television, directed toward an art context. Emphasis on the development of critical skills and approaches to new media in the classroom.

HER-Z 512 Improving Studio Instruction in Art (3 cr.)

Designed to examine major directions in art and the points of view of professional artists in order to develop new approaches to elementary and secondary art instruction.

HER-Z 513 Special Topics in Art Education (1-3 cr.)

A variable topic course designed to cover current issues in art curriculum and assessment. Designed for the K-12 art specialist.

Art History

HER-H 560 Visual Culture: A Visual Studies Approach (3 cr.)

P: graduate student or consent of instructor. An introduction to visual studies, an interdisciplinary approach to the study of visual culture that emphasizes the social ramifications of the visual.

HER-H 531 The Artist in the Renaissance (3 cr.)

P: graduate student or consent of instructor. Graduate course examining the changing role of artists in Renaissance cities, from anonymous craftsmen in the late Middle Ages to celebrity personalities in the sixteenth century.

Workshop structure, relationships with patrons, and competition between artists provide contexts for interpreting Renaissance art and exploring questions central to Renaissance art history.

HER-H 590 Topics in Art History (3 cr.) Special topics in the history and study of the visual arts and visual culture. May be repeated with a different topic for a total of 9 credit hours.

HER-H 610 Art Theory and Criticism (3 cr.) This course examines a cross-section of theories that underpin current discussions and developments in the visual arts. This course also examines the nature and goals of art criticism, including how different theories help frame the primary concerns and controversies within art criticism.

Ceramics

HER-C 501 Ceramics (3 or 6 cr.) Visual research on a highly individual level with personal criticism by the instructor.

HER-C 502 Ceramics (3 or 6 cr.) Visual research on a highly individual level with personal criticism by the instructor

Drawing

HER-D 501 Drawing (3 or 6 cr.) Visual research on a highly individual level with personal criticism by the instructor.

HER-D 502 Drawing (3 or 6 cr.) Visual research on a highly individual level with personal criticism by the instructor.

Furniture Design

HER-Q 501 Furniture Design (3 or 6 cr.) Visual research on a highly individual level with personal criticism by the instructor.

HER-Q 502 Furniture Design (3 or 6 cr.) Visual research on a highly individual level with personal criticism by the instructor.

HER-Q 510 Studio Emphasis I: Materials and Methods in Furniture Design (6 cr.) P: M.F.A. student or consent of instructor. Introductory graduate course in the materials, methodologies, and general concepts used in the designing and making of furniture and related objects.

HER-Q 520 Studio Emphasis II: Theory into Practice in Furniture Design (6 cr.)

P: Studio Emphasis I: Furniture Design. Study of designing and making studio furniture within the context of professional practice.

HER-Q 560 Studio Emphasis III: Advanced Practices in Furniture Design (6 cr.)

P: Studio Emphasis II: Furniture Design. Study of advanced concepts and practices in designing and making furniture and related objects.

Interdisciplinary, Capstone, and Research Courses

HER-J 520 Project Management/Public Art (3 cr.)

P: Graduate student or consent of instructor. Examination of trends in public art in the 20th and 21st centuries. Course explores challenges, opportunities, and procedures for artists working in the public sphere.

HER-J 530 University Visual Art Teaching Practicum (3 cr.)

P: Graduate student with a B.F.A. in studio art. Introduction to techniques, topics, and goals of teaching studio art courses at the undergraduate level.

HER-R 511 Visual Research (Variable Title) (3 cr.)

Specially arranged instruction within specialized subject area. May take form of field experience, in which case there will be close collaboration between specialized faculty member and the work supervisor, who will jointly evaluate performance. May be taken with approval of dean, who will confer with appropriate faculty.

HER-R 512 Visual Research (Variable Title) (3 cr.)

Specially arranged instruction within specialized subject area. May take form of field experience, in which case there will be close collaboration between specialized faculty member and the work supervisor, who will jointly evaluate performance. May be taken with approval of dean, who will confer with appropriate faculty.

HER-R 529 Interdisciplinary Collaboration in the Visual Arts (3 cr.)

P: M.F.A. student or consent of instructor. A studio-based course designed to foster the cross-fertilization of ideas across media emphasis areas.

HER-R 539 Urban Art Context (3 cr.)

P: HER R529 or consent of instructor. Introduction to the challenges, concepts, and techniques for public art and art projects designed for civic engagement.

HER-R 599 Studio Emphasis IV: Thesis Exhibit/Project (6 cr.)

P: Studio Emphasis III and in final semester towards M.F.A. Completion and public presentation of a final body of work, showing professional competence, documented by a written thesis statement.

Painting

HER-P 501 Painting (3 or 6 cr.)

Visual research on a highly individual level with personal criticism by the instructor.

HER-P 502 Painting (3 pr 6 cr.)

Visual research on a highly individual level with personal criticism by the instructor.

Photography

HER-K 501 Photography (3 or 6 cr.) Visual research on a highly individual level with personal criticism by the instructor.

HER-K 502 Photography (3 or 6 cr.) Visual research on a highly individual level with personal criticism by the instructor.

Printmaking

HER-G 501 Printmaking (3 or 6 cr.) P: Graduate-level printmaking. Visual research on a highly individual level with personal criticism by the instructor.

HER-G 502 Printmaking (3 or 6 cr.) P: Graduate-level printmaking. Visual research on a highly individual level with personal criticism by the instructor.

HER-G 510 Studio Emphasis I: Materials and Methods in Printmaking (6 cr.) P: M.F.A. student or consent of instructor. Introductory graduate course in the exploration of traditional and contemporary materials, methodologies, and concepts used in printmaking.

HER-G 520 Studio Emphasis II: Theory into Practice in Printmaking (6 cr.) P: Studio Emphasis I: Printmaking. Study of the integration of studio practices in printmaking within the context of professional engagement.

HER-G 560 Studio Emphasis III: Advanced Practices in Printmaking (6 cr.) P: Studio Emphasis II: Printmaking. Advanced exploration of printmaking, including studio practices and professional development.

Sculpture

HER-S 501 Sculpture (3 or 6 cr.) Visual research on a highly individual level with personal criticism by the instructor.

HER-S 502 Sculpture (3 or 6 cr.) Visual research on a highly individual level with personal criticism by the instructor.

HER-S 510 Studio Emphasis I: Materials and Methods in Sculpture (6 cr.) P: M.F.A. student or consent of instructor. Introductory graduate course in the materials, methodologies, and general concepts used in the designing and making of contemporary sculpture.

HER-S 520 Studio Emphasis II: Theory into Practice in Sculpture (6 cr.) P: Studio Emphasis I: Sculpture. Advanced exploration of sculpture, including studio practices, professional development, and concerns about site and context.

HER-S 560 Studio Emphasis III: Advanced Practices in Sculpture (6 cr.) P: Studio Emphasis II: Sculpture. Study of advanced concepts and practices in designing and making contemporary sculpture.

Illustration

HER-A 311 Illustration I (3 cr.) P: D201 or D211. Students receive a broad exposure to basic techniques of pictorial communication common to all phases of illustration.

HER-A 312 Illustration II (3 cr.) P: D201 or D211. Students receive a broad exposure to basic techniques of pictorial communication common to all phases of illustration.

HER-A 411 Advanced Illustration (3 cr.) P: A312. Students are exposed to contemporary professional illustration. Students may participate in local and national competitions.

HER-A 412 Advanced Illustration (3 cr.) P: A312. Students are exposed to contemporary professional illustration. Students may participate in local and national competitions.

HER-A 414 Children's Book Illustration (3 cr.) Working with a preexisting children's text, students will develop a layout and mock-up or "dummy" of a children's picture book. Each student will then produce three finished illustrations for interior pages and/or the cover. Issues of page composition, sequential imaging, visual flow, and use of techniques will be covered.

HER-A 415 Independent Study in Illustration (3 cr.) P: A311 and A312. Students will develop individualized projects that will explore a specific aspect of illustration or illustrations that are theoretically linked throughout the semester. All students will be responsible for submitting a written proposal which will outline the content goals and timelines for their projects.

HER-D 211 Communicative Drawing (3 cr.) P: Foundation Program. Emphasis is placed on communicating verbal concepts in a visual manner and developing drawing techniques.

Painting

HER-P 200 Painting (Rotating Topics) (3 cr.) This course will allow Painting students to develop their conceptual, technical, historical, and critical knowledge on a variety of rotating topics.

HER-P 201 Painting I (3 cr.) P: Foundation Program. Investigation of the figure and landscape in painting. Emphasis on composition, content, and the development of a working knowledge of painting processes.

HER-P 202 Painting II (3 cr.) P: Foundation Program. Investigation of the figure and landscape in painting. Emphasis on composition, content, and the development of a working knowledge of painting processes.

HER-P 205 Alternative Painting Methods (3 cr.) Includes the study of features and basic construction of the head. Exploration of various media. Emphasis on rendering flesh tones, form, and color, with respect to the model.

HER-P 209 Alternative Painting Methods (1-3 cr.) Introduction of materials, techniques and use of nonstandard painting media and methods. Course will focus on one or more specified materials or approaches. Students will research philosophy and history and explore methods to integrate the process into contemporary practices. Demonstrations, lectures, and critiques support studio assignments and instruction.

HER-P 210 Portrait Painting (3 cr.) Includes the study of features and basic construction of the head. Exploration of various media. Emphasis on rendering flesh tones, form, and colors with respect to the model.

HER-P 220 Watercolor Painting (3 cr.) Investigation of watercolor processes and techniques. Emphasis on individual creative objectives. Very intense study that will require exploration of watercolor to its fullest potential.

HER-P 222 Advanced Watercolor Painting (3 cr.) P: P220 This is a continuation of P220 watercolor. Students will work independently and be responsible for further investigation of concepts and ideas.

HER-P 300 Painting (Rotating Topics) (3 cr.) This course will allow Painting students to develop their conceptual, technical, historical, and critical knowledge on a variety of rotating topics.

HER-P 301 Painting III (3 cr.) P: D201-D202, P201-P202. Exploration of traditional and contemporary concepts in painting with emphasis on relationships between form and content.

HER-P 302 Painting IV (3 cr.) P: D201-D202, P201-P202. Exploration of traditional and contemporary concepts in painting with emphasis on relationships between form and content.

HER-P 303 Concepts in Figuration I (3 cr.) This class will explore the discipline of figure and figurative paint in both traditional and conceptual approaches. Emphasis will be placed on sound painting techniques, composition, drawing, color, and concept.

HER-P 304 Concepts in Figuration II (3 cr.) This class will explore the discipline of figure and figurative paint in both traditional and conceptual approaches. Emphasis will be placed on sound painting techniques, composition, drawing, color, and concept.

HER-P 311 Individual Research in Painting (3 cr.) This course will allow Painting students to develop their conceptual, technical, historical, and critical knowledge around an individual set of problems established by the instructor and the student. This course of study will parallel the traditional goals established in the 16 week semester, but will allow the instructor the opportunity to work with a student in an individual specialized approach.

HER-P 400 Painting (Rotating Topics) (3 cr.) This course will allow Painting students to develop their conceptual, technical, historical, and critical knowledge on a variety of rotating topics.

HER-P 401 Painting V (3 or 6 cr.) P: P301-P302. Emphasis on personal solutions to form and content in painting. Classroom format features scheduled criticisms and seminars. Special counseling in areas of graduate study, fellowships, assistantships, grants, exhibitions, and professional potential following graduation.

HER-P 402 Painting VI (3 or 6 cr.) P: P301-P302. Emphasis on personal solutions to form and content in painting. Classroom format features scheduled criticisms and seminars. Special counseling in areas of graduate study, fellowships, assistantships, grants, exhibitions, and professional potential following graduation.

HER-P 403 Individual Research in Painting I (3 cr.) Offered in conjunction with P401-P402 only. Research devoted to the student's own projects in painting.

HER-P 404 Individual Research in Painting II (3 cr.) Offered in conjunction with P401-P402 only. Research devoted to the student's own projects in painting.

HER-P 405 Digital Processes for Fine Art I (3 cr.) P: Junior or senior standing in a fine art major or HER A261. Concepts and skills common to several computer graphics software programs will be covered with an emphasis on the use of digital imagery to support the work of students who are doing more traditional studio disciplines. Photography

HER-P 406 Digital Processes for Fine Art II (3 cr.) P: Junior or senior standing in a fine art major or HER A261. Concepts and skills common to several computer graphics software programs will be covered with an emphasis on the use of digital imagery to support the work of students who are doing more traditional studio disciplines.

HER-P 501 Painting (3 cr.) Visual research on a highly individual level with personal criticism by the instructor.

HER-P 502 Painting (3 cr.) Visual research on a highly individual level with personal criticism by the instructor.

HER-P 510 Studio Emphasis I: Painting and Drawing (6 cr.) P: MFA student or consent of instructor. Introductory graduate course in the materials, methodologies, and general concepts used in painting, drawing and related objects.

Photography

HER-K 201 Photography 1 (3 cr.) P: Foundation Program. Introduction to black-and-white photography with an emphasis on the development of creative, personal, and photographic vision. The student must have a camera (standard 35mm or larger format) with an adjustable shutter and diaphragm. Film, paper, and film developer are supplied by the student.

HER-K 202 Photography II (3 cr.) P: Foundation Program. Introduction to black-and-white photography with an emphasis on the development of creative, personal, and photographic vision. The student must have a camera (standard 35mm or larger format) with an adjustable shutter and diaphragm. Film, paper, and film developer are supplied by the student.

HER-K 211 Introduction to Electronic Media (3 cr.) This course serves as an introduction to electronic photo-based media, including digital imaging and video. Students are introduced to both the technical and conceptual aspects of these media, specifically in relation to contemporary photography. This course will cover digital imaging technique through Adobe Photoshop as well as delve into discussions about digital artists, critical thinking, principles of the photographic language, and aesthetics that relate to and affect personal creativity and expression. No prior knowledge of the computer or video is expected.

HER-K 212 Topics in Photography (1-3 cr.) This course covers technical issues related to photography and each course will be specific to a topic. Topics include 4x5, Lighting, Final Cut Pro, Sound Techniques, and Alternative Processes with specifics changing from semester to semester. 4 credits

HER-K 300 Advanced Digital Imaging (3 cr.) P: K211 or permission of instructor. The course will cover time-based digital media techniques as well as delve into discussions about video artists and digital artists, critical thinking, language, and aesthetics as it relates to, and affects personal creativity and expression. This investigation will be accomplished through a combination of producing work, using Adobe Photoshop, Illustrator, After Effects, Premiere, and Macromedia Director; discussing the work of other photographers who work with digital imaging; and historical lectures. Prior knowledge of computer basics and Adobe Photoshop required.

HER-K 301 Photography III (3 cr.) P: K201-K202. Exploration of photography as an expressive visual medium and the relationship of photography to culture. Advanced controls over negative production and printing techniques are taught. Students learn to speak critically of their own work, as well as the work of their peers, and other artists. Alternative methods of presentation, beyond the window mat, are introduced.

HER-K 302 Photography IV (3 cr.) P: K201-K202. Exploration of photography as an expressive visual medium and the relationship of photography to culture. Advanced controls over negative production and printing techniques are taught. Students learn to speak critically of their own work, as well as the work of their peers, and other artists. Alternative methods of presentation, beyond the window mat, are introduced.

HER-K 303 Color Photography (3 cr.) P: K201-K202 or permission of the instructor. Students are introduced to a theoretical basis for color theory and the psychology of color. On a technical level, color balancing and regional color correction are stressed. In individual color darkrooms, students produce their own color-coupler prints, as large as 16 x 20 inches, from our on-site Kreonite processor. As in the department's other photo classes, there is an emphasis on developing good exposure and printing techniques. Students are encouraged to develop material conceptually, understand how work is produced, and speak about it.

HER-K 304 Advanced Color Photography (3 cr.) P: K303. Advanced color photography builds on the skills obtained in K303. Using knowledge gained in color balancing and regional color corrections, students experiment with advanced printing techniques, using materials such as Polaroid and transparency film, as well as alternative processes. Students further their study of significant historic and contemporary photographers and develop an understanding of the relationship of their work to that which has preceded theirs.

HER-K 311 Individual Research Photography (3 cr.) Junior-level course that will provide special arranged instruction within photography. May take form of a field experience, in which case there will be close collaboration between specialized faculty member and work supervisor, who will jointly evaluate performance.

HER-K 330 Photo and Intermedia Seminar (Rotating Topics) (3 cr.) This course will allow Photo and Intermedia students to develop their conceptual, technical, historical, and critical knowledge on a variety of rotating topics.

HER-K 401 Advanced Photography (6 cr.) P: K301-K302, K303, photographic portfolio, and permission of the instructor. An advanced course taught as a seminar for graduating photo majors. During the course of the semester, the student produces two professional-quality exhibitions and a photographic portfolio. Within the context of this class, students may produce mixed media, performance, video, time-based work, as well as traditional black-and-white and color photography. Emphasis is placed on individual instruction, preparation for graduate study, and professional exhibition practice.

HER-K 402 Advanced Photography (6 cr.) P: K301-K302, K303, photographic portfolio, and permission of the instructor. An advanced course taught as a seminar for graduating photo majors. During the course of the semester, the student produces two professional-quality exhibitions and a photographic portfolio. Within the context of this class, students may produce mixed media, performance, video, time-based work, as well as traditional black-and-white and color photography. Emphasis is placed on individual instruction, preparation for graduate study, and professional exhibition practice.

HER-K 411 Individual Research in Photography (3 cr.) Senior-level course for students who have already taken K311. Will allow a student additional individualized instruction with a photography faculty member.

HER-K 412 Individual Research in Photography (3 cr.) Senior-level course for students who have already taken K311. Will allow a student additional individualized instruction with a photography faculty member.

HER-K 430 PHOTO AND INTERMEDIA SEMINAR (3 cr.) In Photography and Intermedia Seminar students will develop their conceptual, technical, historical, and critical knowledge on a variety of rotating topics. Topics can include: Performance, Image and Text, Critical Theory, Documentary Photography, Installation Art, Professional Photography Practices, Sound Art, and Advanced Digital Art.

HER-K 510 Studio I: Photography and Intermedia (6 cr.) P: MFA student or consent of instructor. In Studio Emphasis 1: Photography and Intermedia, students will develop their conceptual, historical, and critical knowledge to form the basis for their personal studio research. Students will begin to build their own community through this class via group workshops, critiques, and seminars. Students will investigate and extend the framework of photography and intermedia. Intermedia incorporates theory and practice through integration of new technologies with non-static, time-based, sound, digital technologies, installation, through collaboration with areas of sculpture, ceramics, printmaking, painting, furniture and visual communications. In this program students will begin to examine and integrate connections between creative practice, cultural, scientific, critical and historical discourses as they relate and pertain to other artists, academic departments and community organizations. Throughout this process students will be exposed to a wide array of theoretical and reflective practices. Over the course of the semester the student will develop a graduate-level work ethic and lay the groundwork for intense, research-driven studio practice. Rationale: In the first semester of graduate study the student should establish a highly individual and concentrated studio practice based on adaptability, experimentation, and research. This course is designed to foster individual interests while demanding a high level of intellectual and critical development. Once an intense and flexible graduate practice is developed, the student will be better prepared to face the challenges inherent in the career of a professional artist.

HER-K 520 STUDIO II: PHOTO & INTERMEDIA (3 cr.)

This class will focus on the reasons, methods, and resources for artistic engagement that liberates art from the studio and gallery. Studio Emphasis II: Photography and Intermedia continues the studio practice and seminar conversations begun in the first semester's Studio Emphasis I: Photography and Intermedia. Intermedia incorporates theory and practice through integration of new technologies with non-static, time-based, sound, digital technologies, installation, through collaboration with areas of sculpture, ceramics, printmaking, painting, furniture and visual communications. In this course students will continue to examine and integrate connections between creative practice, cultural, scientific, critical and historical discourses as they relate and pertain to other artists, academic departments and community organizations. Professional practices, such as, writing proposals, creation of curriculum vitae, and development grants will be discussed. Rationale: Removing the art making and exhibition process from the traditional studio and gallery setting is a large part of today's contemporary art world. While studio and gallery settings are still perfectly valid, we want to encourage students to take steps to engage outside these arenas. This course continues the individual research begun in K510 while extending the reach into alternative venues and modes of working. Developing skills necessary to be a professional artist is integral to the course.

HER-K 530 PHOTO INTER ROTATING TOPICS (3 cr.)

In Photography and Intermedia Seminar students will develop their conceptual, technical, historical, and critical knowledge on a variety of rotating topics. The topics given in this proposal are the core of topics that current Herron faculty members feel are important for photography and intermedia students to encounter, but this list is not all inclusive and the proposal is for the class as an idea not exclusively these topics. Topics will be added and deleted as their relevancy to current students' need and faculty members' abilities change. Topics: Performance Image and Text Critical Theory Documentary Photography Installation Art Professional Photography Practices Sound Art Advanced Digital Art Rationale: In today's art world, many artists work with various media and many theoretical frameworks. This model seminar allows our faculty to accommodate this variety by focusing solely on one topic for an eight week period.

HER-K 560 STUDIO III: PHOTO & INTERMEDIA (3 cr.)

This course is designed to build on the experiences and experiments of the previous two semesters, and to allow the student an opportunity to further develop an individual and effective body of work. Students should have developed an original and intensive practice allowing for constant change and exploration, while also providing a useful framework within which to create intermedia art. Over the course of the semester the student will be working independently to develop a professional portfolio of work. Rationale: In order to complete the photography and intermedia program the student must achieve a high level of independence and self-motivation. The body of work created at this level should evidence awareness of contemporary theory as well as a highly individual set of interests, conceptual and formal concerns.

Printmaking

HER-G 201 Etching I (3 cr.) P: Foundation Program. Beginning course in intaglio printmaking, which introduces students to etching, engraving, and drypoint techniques. Students are instructed in basic printing processes and in use of the presses.

HER-G 202 Lithography I (3 cr.) P: Foundation Program. Beginning course in lithography dealing with basic techniques of black-and-white and color printing. Includes specific lectures in litho technology, materials, and application.

HER-G 203 Silkscreen Printing I (3 cr.) P: Foundation Program. Design and drawing for silkscreen processes, construction of equipment, and methods of making stencils (including photo stencils). Printing in black and white and in color.

HER-G 204 Silkscreen Printing II (3 cr.) P: Foundation Program. Design and drawing for silkscreen processes, construction of equipment, and methods of making stencils (including photo stencils). Printing in black and white and in color.

HER-G 205 Monotype/Woodcut (3 cr.) P: Foundation Program. Beginning course in monotype and woodcut. Students learn traditional and experimental approaches to relief printmaking. Students are instructed on use of tools and materials and basic printing processes. Printing is in color and black and white.

HER-G 206 Bookbinding (3 cr.) Introduction to traditional and non-traditional skills in bookbinding. Non-adhesive, experimental structures will be covered such as accordion, concertina, piano hinge and koptic binding as well as case binding, box making and slip cases. Goal is to develop the binding process as an expressive, visual language with attention to its tradition and contemporary presence as aesthetic medium.

HER-G 208 LETTERPRESS TYPESETTING (3 cr.)

Introduction to setting and printing text by hand on the letterpress. Historic traditions such as setting lead and wooden typed and carved blocks will be combined with contemporary digital text and image appropriation through photo-polymer plates. Goal is to develop typ, print technology, and tradition into expressive visual frameworks.

HER-G 209 PAPERMAKING (3 cr.) Introduction to western principles of making paper by hand. Skills in pulp technology, sheet formation, 2D and 3D applications will be developed, such as stenciling, pulp-spraying, casting, and integration into book structures. Goal is to apply skills to expressive, conceptual frameworks with attention to historic and contemporary context of papermaking.

HER-G 301 Etching II (3 cr.) P: D201, D202, G201, G202. An extensive introduction to color printing processes in etching is provided at the beginning of the course. Students are required to do at least a part of their work in color. Other etching techniques not covered in G201 will also be presented.

HER-G 302 Lithography II (3 cr.) P: D201-D202, G201-G202. Advanced study designed to extend students' ability to use their technical knowledge as a means of expression. Experimental printing in color and black and white.

HER-G 303 Etching III (3 cr.) P: D201, D202, G201, G202. An extensive introduction to color printing processes in etching is provided at the beginning of the course. Students are required to do at least a part of their work in color. Other etching techniques not covered in G201 will also be presented.

HER-G 304 Lithography III (3 cr.) P: D201-D202, G201-G202. Advanced study designed to extend students' ability to use their technical knowledge as a means of expression. Experimental printing in color and black and white.

HER-G 305 Photo Processes for Printmaking I (3 cr.) P: G201-G202, K201-K202, and/or permission of the instructor. C: Enrollment in a 300-, 400-, or 500-level printmaking course. Introduction to the use of light-sensitive materials in printmaking processes. Involvement with nonsilver photographic processes such as kallitype, photoetching, photo-lithography (using halftone and contact materials), photo silkscreen, and gum printing. Color separation principles for printmaking processes.

HER-G 306 Photo Processes for Printmaking II (3 cr.) P: G201-G202, K201-K202, and/or permission of the instructor. C: Enrollment in a 300-, 400-, or 500-level printmaking course. Introduction to the use of light-sensitive materials in printmaking processes. Involvement with nonsilver photographic processes such as kallitype, photoetching, photo-lithography (using halftone and contact materials), photo silkscreen, and gum printing. Color separation principles for printmaking processes.

HER-G 307 Silkscreen Printing II (3 cr.) P: Foundation Program. The advanced process of silkscreen printing with the incorporation of digital printing processes. Printing in large format with color will be covered. Further Development of ideas and concepts in relation to the screenprinting process will be emphasized in this class.

HER-G 309 Monotype/Woodcut II (3 cr.) P: G205. Advanced study of monotype techniques, both traditional and nontraditional. Emphasis is placed on students gaining control of monotype process in order to accurately express their artistic vision. Students are encouraged to explore their individual goals and research into the various media available.

HER-G 310 The Printed Book (3 cr.) Integration of the print medium into the book structure. Development of prints as interactive structures and interdependence of multiple and three- and four-dimensional qualities of books. Skills in letterpress technology, type-high surface construction, bookbinding, and papermaking with attention to history and contemporary context of the book arts.

HER-G 401 Printmaking III Etching (3-6 cr.) A continuation of advanced processes in intaglio printmaking with demonstrations and experimentation with materials and techniques, including computer-assisted approaches. Individual and group critiques and discussions promote ongoing development of images and concepts.

HER-G 401 Printmaking III Lithography (3-6 cr.) A continuation of advanced processes in lithography with demonstrations and experimentation with materials and techniques, including computer-assisted approaches.

Individual and group critiques and discussions promote ongoing development of images and concepts.

HER-G 402 Printmaking IV Etching (3-6 cr.) A continuation of advanced processes in intaglio printmaking with demonstrations and experimentation with materials and techniques, including computer-assisted approaches. Individual and group critiques and discussions promote ongoing development of images and concepts.

HER-G 402 Printmaking IV Lithography (3-6 cr.) A continuation of advanced processes in lithography with demonstrations and experimentation with materials and techniques, including computer-assisted approaches. Individual and group critiques and discussions promote ongoing development of images and concepts.

HER-G 403 Individual Research in Printmaking I (3 cr.) Offered in conjunction with G401-G402 only. Research devoted to the student's own projects in printmaking.

HER-G 404 Individual Research in Printmaking II (3 cr.) Offered in conjunction with G401-G402 only. Research devoted to the student's own projects in printmaking.

HER-G 501 Printmaking (3 cr.) P: Graduate-level printmaking. Visual research on a highly individual level with personal criticism by the instructor.

HER-G 502 Printmaking (3 cr.) P: Graduate-level printmaking. Visual research on a highly individual level with personal criticism by the instructor.

HER-G 510 Studio Emphasis I: Materials and Methods in Printmaking (3 cr.) P: M.F.A. student or consent of instructor. Introductory graduate course in the exploration of traditional and contemporary materials, methodologies, and concepts used in printmaking.

HER-G 520 Studio Emphasis II: Theory into Practice in Printmaking (3 cr.) P: Studio Emphasis I: Printmaking. Study of the integration of studio practices in printmaking within the context of professional engagement.

HER-G 560 Studio Emphasis III: Advanced Practices in Printmaking (3 cr.) P: Studio Emphasis II: Printmaking. Advanced exploration of printmaking, including studio practices and professional development.

Sculpture

HER-S 201 Sculpture I (3 cr.) P: Foundation Program. Basic consideration of three-dimensional form in sculptural concept. Exposure to various related materials, techniques, and processes.

HER-S 202 Sculpture II (3 cr.) P: Foundation Program. Basic consideration of three-dimensional form in sculptural concept. Exposure to various related materials, techniques, and processes.

HER-S 220 Sculpture Seminar (Rotating Topics) (3 cr.) This course will allow Sculpture students to develop their conceptual, technical, historical, and critical knowledge on a variety of rotating topics.

HER-S 301 Sculpture III (3 and/or 6 cr.) P: D201-D202, S201-S202. Emphasis on creative expression through sculpture. Covers wood and plastic materials, metal casting, and industrial fabricating techniques.

HER-S 302 Sculpture IV (3 and/or 6 cr.) P: D201-D202, S201-S202. Emphasis on creative expression through sculpture. Covers wood and plastic materials, metal casting, and industrial fabricating techniques.

HER-S 401 Sculpture V (3 and/or 6 cr.) P: S301-S302. Concentrated, specialized study of sculpture, with emphasis on extensive research in pursuit of individual direction.

HER-S 402 Sculpture VI (3 and/or 6 cr.) P: S301-S302. Concentrated, specialized study of sculpture, with emphasis on extensive research in pursuit of individual direction.

HER-S 403 Individual Research in Sculpture I (3 cr.) Research devoted to the student's own projects in sculpture.

HER-S 404 Individual Research in Sculpture II (3 cr.) Research devoted to the student's own projects in sculpture.

HER-S 501 Sculpture (3 cr.) Visual research on a highly individual level with personal criticism by the instructor.

HER-S 502 Sculpture (3 cr.) Visual research on a highly individual level with personal criticism by the instructor.

HER-S 510 Studio Emphasis I: Materials and Methods in Sculpture (3 cr.) P: M.F.A. student or consent of instructor. Introductory graduate course in the materials, methodologies, and general concepts used in the designing and making of contemporary sculpture.

HER-S 520 Studio Emphasis II: Theory into Practice in Sculpture (3 cr.) P: Studio Emphasis I: Sculpture. Advanced exploration of sculpture, including studio practices, professional development, and concerns about site and context.

HER-S 560 Studio Emphasis III: Advanced Practices in Sculpture (3 cr.) P: Studio Emphasis II: Sculpture. Study of advanced concepts and practices in designing and making contemporary sculpture.

Senior Seminars

HER-J 400 Practical Concerns for Studio Artists (3 cr.) P: Senior standing. Course devoted to practical aspects of managing a studio and maintaining an artistic career. Subjects include artwork photography, gallery representation, legal and tax issues, and health hazards. This course is required for all fine arts students.

HER-J 410 A Critical Approach to Art: Seminar (3 cr.) P: Senior standing. A capstone seminar-style class in which students define and refine their personal artistic philosophies through analytic comparisons to various historical and contemporary ideas from the realms of philosophy, art history, critical theory, etc. In short weekly papers and open discussions, students address large-scale questions whose answers should help them develop the confidence to chart their conceptual and professional development after graduation.

HER-J 520 Project Management/Public Art (3 cr.) P: Senior standing. Examination of trends in public art in the 20th and 21st centuries. Course explores challenges, opportunities, and procedures for artists working in the public sphere.

HER-J 530 University Visual Art Teaching Practicum (3 cr.) P: Senior standing. P: Graduate student with a B.F.A. in studio art. Introduction to techniques, topics, and goals of teaching studio art courses at the undergraduate level.

Visual Communication

Elective Courses in Visual Communication

HER-A 261 Introduction to Computer Imagery I (3 cr.)

P: Foundation Program. An introductory course providing hands-on learning experiences in using the Macintosh computer and Adobe Photoshop, a pixel-based paint and image-editing software package, to create, scan, and manipulate images. A studio elective open to all Herron degree-seeking students with little or no computer experience who have completed the foundation year.

HER-A 453 Professional Practice Internship (3 cr.)

P: A301, A331 OR V310, V312 and A341. 3.0 GPA, and consent of instructor. Program offers students the opportunity to learn by working with professionals in a design studio or corporate design firm. Students must apply to the IUPUI Professional Practice Program and are required to interview by portfolio review.

HER-A 461 Professional Practice Studio (3 cr.)

P: A301, A331 OR V310, V312 and A341. 3.0 GPA, and consent of instructor. Structured like a working design studio. Students are given an opportunity to design projects for clients of the Herron Design Center. Projects span all media from print to interactive multimedia and Web design. Managing time schedules, budget considerations, client/designer relationships, and general work ethics are covered.

Graduate Courses in Visual Communication

HER-A 453 Professional Practice Internship (3 cr.)

P: A301, A331 OR V310, V312 and A341. 3.0 GPA, and consent of instructor. Program offers students the opportunity to learn by working with professionals in a design studio or corporate design firm. Students must apply to the IUPUI Professional Practice Program and are required to interview by portfolio review.

HER-A 461 Professional Practice Studio (3 cr.)

P: A301, A331 OR V310, V312 and A341. 3.0 GPA, and consent of instructor. Structured like a working design studio. Students are given an opportunity to design projects for clients of the Herron Design Center. Projects span all media from print to interactive multimedia and Web design. Managing time schedules, budget considerations, client/designer relationships, and general work ethics are covered.

HER-V 501 Introduction to Design Thinking (1.5 cr.)

Theorizing and evaluating design as a specialized way of thinking. Examining collaborative, cross-disciplinary innovation processes requiring skills for identifying and framing challenges and generating and optimizing solutions. Surveying essential processes and process skills to deploy design thinking for the development of creative solutions to complex systems level challenges.

HER-V 502 Introduction to Human Factors in Design

(1.5 cr.) Investigating knowledge and theories to support people-driven innovation as an inclusive co-creative process. Identifying, analyzing synthesizing and evaluating many characteristics of audiences and contexts. These include physical, cognitive, cultural and social human factors as well as the economic, technological and environmental issues that inform and shape design responses.

HER-V 510 Collaborative Action Research in Design I (3 cr.) Application and integration of theory, methods and skills for designing as a cross-disciplinary collaborative process for innovation. Focusing on human-centered design research to support problem finding and fact finding phases of methodology for formulating problems/opportunities, formulating solutions and implementing solutions. Team approach to translational action research.

HER-V 511 People-Centered Design Research (1.5 cr.) Methods. Foundation in design research. Application and integration of theory, methods, and skills for initiating people-centered (and participatory) design research activities. Performing generative, evaluative, and experimental research to inform designing. Accounting for audiences and contexts including recognition of physical, cognitive, cultural, and social human factors that shape design responses.

HER-V 520 Collaborative Action Research in Design II (3 cr.) Studio. Application and integration of theory, methods and skills for designing as a cross-disciplinary collaborative process for innovation. Focusing on analytical techniques including mapping challenges to support the problem defining phase of a methodology for formulating problems/opportunities, formulating solutions and implementing solutions. Team approach to translational action research.

HER-V 521 Methods for Design Analysis (1.5 cr.) Application and integration of theory, methods and skills for design analysis in the context of cross-disciplinary collaborative process for innovation. Identifying patterns and framing insights. Emphasis on defining problems in fuzzy situations. Surveying, performing and evaluating design analysis methodologies from multiple disciplinary perspectives. Techniques include challenge mapping and card sorting.

HER-V 530 COLLABRTV ACTN RSRCH IN DSGN 3 (1.5 cr.) Studio. Application and integration of theory, methods and skills for designing as a cross-disciplinary collaborative process for innovation. Focusing on techniques for synthesizing design research to support the idea finding phase of a methodology for formulating problems/opportunities, formulation solutions and implementing solutions. Team approach to translational action research.

HER-V 531 METHODS FOR DESIGN SYNTHESIS (1.5 cr.) Application and integration of theory, methods and skills for design synthesis in the context of a cross-disciplinary collaborative process for innovation. Emphasizing divergent thinking, active deferral of judgment and ideation. Surveying, performing and evaluation design synthesis methods for exploring and conceiving plans. Techniques include lateral thinking, brainstorming and syntetics.

HER-V 540 COCOLLABRTV ACTN RSRCH IN DSGN 4 (1.5 cr.) Studio. Application and integration of theory, methods and skills for designing as a cross-disciplinary collaborative process for innovation. Focusing on techniques for evaluating proposals to support the optimizing and implementing phases of a methodology for formulating problems/opportunities, formulating solutions and implementing solutions. Team approach to translational action research.

HER-V 541 METHODS FOR DESIGN EVALUATION (1.5 cr.) Application and integration of theory, methods, and skills for design evaluation, optimization and implementation in the context of a cross-disciplinary collaborative process for innovation. Emphasizing techniques to support decision-making. Surveying, performing, and comparing design evaluation and implementation tools including user studies, criteria grids, paired comparison analysis and action planning.

Required Courses for Visual Communication Majors

HER-A 341 Production for Design I (3 cr.) P: V220, V221, V222 Students learn to prepare graphic design work for commercial printing. Includes field trips, lectures, and discussions on various printing processes, ink and paper selection, proofing methods, and binding. In a final group project, students prepare artwork digitally to be printed on a four-color offset press.

HER-V 210 VC 1: Elements (3 cr.) P: Foundation Program. C: V211, V212. Studio course. Introductory skills development for visual communication majors. Exploring varied means of graphic representation utilizing formal elements and principles of visual communication design. Identifying, contrasting, and analyzing techniques for the invention of two-dimensional form with the purpose of communicating information, concepts, and emotions.

HER-V 211 Typography 1: Elements (3 cr.) P: Foundation Program. C: V210, V212. Studio course. Introductory skills development for visual communication majors. Typography as a medium of visual communication. Focusing on the formal properties of letterforms within the roman alphabet and the relationship between visual and verbal forms of language. Terminology, typographic history, and technical issues.

HER-V 212 Image 1: Elements (3 cr.) P: Foundation Program. C: V210, V211. Studio course. Introductory skill development for visual communication majors. Imagery as strategy for visual communication and symbolic representation. Focusing on the production and critical examination of visual forms and formats as indexes of representation. Basic visual semiotics. Using a learner-centered method to examine and find meaning in visual representations.

HER-V 214 A History of Visual Communication Design: 1800 to Present (3 cr.) P: ENG W131 or equivalent. Examining the cultural, social, political, economic and technological forces that shape visual communication design solutions. Focusing on the audiences and contexts to which designers must respond. A Western European and American perspective on the period from 1880 to the present.

HER-V 220 VC 2: Design Methodology (3 cr.) P: V210, V211, V212 and V214 C: V221 and V222. Studio course. Application and integration of knowledge and skills for visual communication majors. Defining communication problems; evaluating analytical, synthetic, intuitive approaches to problem solving; creating visual concepts to represent complex messages; and developing critical thinking. Integrating professional service for civic communication with reflection on personal values.

HER-V 221 Typography 2: Making Messages (3 cr.) P: V211. Studio course. Intermediate skills development for visual communication majors. Exploring communication potentials using text type and typographic technology. Focusing on congruency between visual and verbal hierarchies, formats for informational organizational problems, and technical details of typographic specifications and layout.

HER-V 222 Image 2: Narratives (3 cr.) P: V212 C: V220 and V221. Studio course. Intermediate skills for visual communication majors. Imagery as a strategy for visual communication and symbolic representation. Focusing on the production and critical examination of visual narratives within specific cultural contexts. Examining the roles of message makers, media, audiences, and contexts in the production and interpretation of meaning.

HER-V 310 Identifying Problems (3 cr.) P: V220, V221, V222. C: V311, V312. Studio course. Application and integration of knowledge and skills for visual communication majors. Methods of managing complex communication design needs of institutions. Directing inquiries in unstructured situations with undefined problems. Managing expressions and impressions. Integrating professional service for civic communication with reflection on personal values.

HER-V 311 Typography 3: Systems (3 cr.) P: V221 Studio course. Advanced skills development and applied research for visual communication majors. Structuring systems of typographic form according to information hierarchies, user needs, and multiple modalities of visual representation. Applications to the organization of tables, charts, displays, and publications.

HER-V 312 Image 3: Systems (3 cr.) P: V222. Studio course. Advanced skills development for visual communication majors. Focusing on production and critical examination of image making as strategy for persuasion and power within dominant and subcultural discourses. Examining the roles of message makers, media, audiences, and contexts in the manipulation and reinterpretation of meaning.

HER-V 320 VC 4: Facilitating Solutions (6 cr.) P: V310. Studio course. Application and integration of knowledge and skills for visual communication majors. Methods to facilitate solutions to unframed community issues. Exploring social roles of designers as researchers, reporters, and editors in collaborative teams. Integrating professional service for civic communication with reflection on personal values.

HER-V 401 Exhibition Planning and Design I (3 cr.) V401 prepares students to synthesize existing design practice and apply it to exhibition planning and design (EPD). This process is explored through integrated theory and practice. Students learn research methods, exhibit development, design process, and other skills through hands-on exercises. Students create design documents and contribute to the EPD process.

HER-V 402 Exhibition Planning and Design II (6 cr.) V402 builds on the basic skills and application learned in EDP I, with an emphasis on refining and developing greater interpretive capacity. Capacity is developed through exploration of relationships of visual and three-dimensional form, light, and materials. Students contextualize meaning by designing and planning relevant exhibit experiences through applied community-based projects.

HER-V 410 VC 5: Designing for Innovation (6 cr.) P: V320 or permission of instructor. Studio course with cross-disciplinary team collaboration. Application, integration, and synthesis of knowledge and skills for visual communication majors and subject matter experts. Advanced methods for designing for innovation. Discovering and shaping opportunities for socially relevant innovations. Integrating professional service for civic communication with reflection on personal values.

HER-V 420 VC 6: Capstone Portfolio (3 cr.) P: V410. Capstone studio course. Application, integration, synthesis, and evaluation of knowledge and skills for visual communication majors. Applying tools for managing complexity to develop professional career plans. Reflecting on personal, academic, preprofessional experiences. Analyzing and evaluating transferable skills. Developing portfolios that demonstrate depth, breadth, adaptiveness of knowledge, and critical thinking.

HER-V 421 Designing People-Centered Services I (3 cr.) An introduction to Service Design, exploring diverse concepts, theories and cases in service design, students will understand the difference between designing objects and designing experiences. In addition to a general understanding of service design, the course includes individual/group projects, which students identify opportunities to enhance human experience in various contexts.

HER-V 422 Designing People-Centered Services II (6 cr.) Built on the prerequisite course (HER-V 421), this course focuses on developing service offerings and customer experiences based on a systems-aware, holistic, and people-centered relationship model. Key concepts including: methods and process in co-designing, experience prototyping, design synthesis, optimization, and evaluations.

Visual Research

HER-R 201 Visual Research (Variable Title) (3 cr.) Specially arranged instruction within specialized subject area. May take form of field experience, in which case there will be close collaboration between specialized faculty member and the work supervisor, who will jointly evaluate performance. May be taken with approval of dean, who will confer with appropriate faculty.

HER-R 202 Visual Research (Variable Title) (3 cr.) Specially arranged instruction within specialized subject area. May take form of field experience, in which case there will be close collaboration between specialized faculty member and the work supervisor, who will jointly evaluate performance. May be taken with approval of dean, who will confer with appropriate faculty.

HER-R 311 Visual Research (Variable Title) (3 cr.) Specially arranged instruction within specialized subject area. May take form of field experience, in which case there will be close collaboration between specialized faculty member and the work supervisor, who will jointly evaluate performance. May be taken with approval of dean, who will confer with appropriate faculty.

HER-R 312 Visual Research (Variable Title) (3 cr.)

Specially arranged instruction within specialized subject area. May take form of field experience, in which case there will be close collaboration between specialized faculty member and the work supervisor, who will jointly evaluate performance. May be taken with approval of dean, who will confer with appropriate faculty.

HER-R 411 Visual Research (Variable Title) (3 cr.)

Specially arranged instruction within specialized subject area. May take form of field experience, in which case there will be close collaboration between specialized faculty member and the work supervisor, who will jointly evaluate performance. May be taken with approval of dean, who will confer with appropriate faculty.

HER-R 412 Visual Research (Variable Title) (3 cr.)

Specially arranged instruction within specialized subject area. May take form of field experience, in which case there will be close collaboration between specialized faculty member and the work supervisor, who will jointly evaluate performance. May be taken with approval of dean, who will confer with appropriate faculty.

HER-R 511 Visual Research (Variable Title) (3 cr.)

Specially arranged instruction within specialized subject area. May take form of field experience, in which case there will be close collaboration between specialized faculty member and the work supervisor, who will jointly evaluate performance. May be taken with approval of dean, who will confer with appropriate faculty.

HER-R 512 Visual Research (Variable Title) (3 cr.)

Specially arranged instruction within specialized subject area. May take form of field experience, in which case there will be close collaboration between specialized faculty member and the work supervisor, who will jointly evaluate performance. May be taken with approval of dean, who will confer with appropriate faculty.

HER-R 529 Interdisciplinary Collaboration in the Visual Arts (3 cr.) P: M.F.A. student or consent of instructor. A studio-based course designed to foster the cross-fertilization of ideas across media emphasis areas.

HER-R 539 Urban Art Context (3 cr.) P: HER R529 or consent of instructor. Introduction to the challenges, concepts, and techniques for public art and art projects designed for civic engagement.

HER-R 599 Studio Emphasis IV: Thesis Exhibit/Project (3 cr.) P: Studio Emphasis III and in final semester towards M.F.A. Completion and public presentation of a final body of work, showing professional competence, documented by a written thesis statement.

Degree Programs

Bachelor of Arts (B.A.)

- Art History

Bachelor of Art Education (B.A.Ed.)

- Art Education
- Art Education and Bachelor of Fine Arts - dual degree

Bachelor of Fine Arts (B.F.A)

- Ceramics
- Furniture Design
- General Fine Arts

- Painting
- Photography
- Printmaking
- Sculpture
- Visual Communication

Dual Degree - B.A.E. & B.F.A

Adding the second degree (B.F.A.) certifies students to teach art K-12 and provides a strong studio foundation. The B.F.A. requires more than 30 additional hours in studio/history. Students wishing to pursue the double major should consult with both advisors for the B.F.A. and B.A.E. each semester. Electives in one degree may be met by fulfilling requirements in the other degree; advisors can counsel on the most efficient path for completion of the program. The double major takes five and one half years to complete, including summer school. Students must successfully pass both portfolio reviews (Art Education and Fine Arts Reviews).

- Admission into the Art Education Program
- Maintain a 2.5 GPA at all times and no lower than a C in all methods courses.
- Complete and pass all sections of the PPST before the fall of sophomore year.
- Pass the Sophomore Review into the Art Education Program in the fall semester of the sophomore year.
- Apply to the Teacher Education Program, School of Education by February 1 of sophomore year.
- Admission into the Teacher Education Program
- Have been advanced into the Art Education Program (Sophomore Review).
- Maintain a minimum GPA of 2.5.
- Complete formal application to the Teacher Education Program by February 1 of the sophomore year. This online application can be accessed through the IUPUI School of Education Web site; select the All Grade application option.

Timeline Requirements

Freshman Year

- Obtain and read both the Herron and School of Education sections of the IUPUI Campus Bulletin concerning art education programs and student teaching for students in all grades. Planning your academic progress in this school is your responsibility. Please meet with your advisors prior to registration each semester to be sure all your requirements are being fulfilled.
- Register to take the PRAXIS 1: PPST- Pre-Professional Skills Test (<http://www.ets.org/praxis/in/>). Information and sample test items are available from School of Education Student Services. This test can be taken on computer or in a classroom. Even by computer, the written component takes six weeks to score, so plan accordingly. Failure to pass this test by January 1 of sophomore year will delay your advancement into Art Education/School of Education programs for one year. Study guides and workshops are available. Students will not be advanced into Art Education/School of Education programs until this test is passed. (Keep a record of your scores.)

- Maintain a minimum GPA of 2.5 in all major area courses and professional education courses, and a 2.0 in Speech COMM-R110 and English Composition ENG-W131.

Sophomore Year

(completion of at least 36 hours of course work)

- Be sure all parts of the Pre-Professional Skills Test (PPST) have been passed with scores by Jan 1.
- Prepare a portfolio of work and sign up sign up for an advancement session in late fall.
- Complete formal application to the Teacher Education Program by February 1, sophomore year.
- Upon acceptance into the Teacher Education Program, sign up and attend the orientation program.

Junior Year

(completion of at least 56 hours of course work)

- Register for student teaching in the fall ONE FULL ACADEMIC YEAR PRIOR to the academic year in which you plan to student teach. Failure to register in time will detain student teaching for one full year, no exceptions. Consult the section on student teaching for All-Grade Education (K-12 license) in the School of Education section of the IUPUI Campus Bulletin or Web site.

Senior Year

(completion of at least 86 hours of course work)

- Register for the National Teachers Exam Art Education Specialty Area the semester prior to student teaching. Results from this exam take several months to receive and can delay hiring. Teachers cannot be hired in Indiana without proof of passing test scores on this exam. Study guides are available in the Curriculum Resource Center, ES1125, and NTE Bulletins in the School of Education.
- Apply for the B.A.E. degree in the Herron Office of Student Services by October 1 of the academic year in which you plan to graduate.
- If you plan on teaching in Indiana, apply for a teaching certificate in the School of Education. Obtain a form and directions from Education Office of Student Services prior to student teaching. Students are responsible for understanding all requirements for graduation and for completing them by the time they expect to graduate. Please call education student services for more information about the School of Education programs and keep in close contact with your art education counselor.

Bachelor of Art Education

Students who wish to become certified to teach in public schools may pursue either a Bachelor of Art Education or certification within the Master of Art Education at Herron. The Art Education Program of the Herron School of Art is offered in conjunction with the School of Education and the Indiana Professional Standards Board. These bodies have established certain academic requirements for earning a degree and/or licensure in art education in all grades (K-12) in Indiana.

The Bachelor of Art Education (B.A.E.) Program leads to certification (teaching license) in art education in all grades (K-12) in the state of Indiana. The program features a commitment to practical experience integrated with a strong studio program. Throughout the program, students increase skill and knowledge in the content of art education today, including art history, criticism, aesthetics, studio, and teaching methodology. Students gain experience by teaching school-age students in a variety of programs and settings including Art Talks (surrounding elementary and secondary schools), Visiting Artist: Art to School (Herron Gallery), Saturday School (Herron campus), Indianapolis Museum of Art, Eiteljorg Museum of the American Indian and Western Art, and student teaching. In addition, students observe and participate in art programs and events citywide.

Students enrolled in the Bachelor of Fine Arts degree program at the Herron School of Art may also pursue an All-Grade Indiana State Teachers License in Art. Students wishing to pursue certification need to declare a second major (B.A.E.) and follow the requirements for this degree as well as the B.F.A. Students should meet regularly with advisors from both major areas to ensure efficient completion of both degrees.

Curriculum Requirements for the B.A.E. Degree

Certification Requirements, License 2002, Indiana Professional Standards Board

Academic Requirements—Distributive Art History: 12 credits

- HER-H 101
- HER-H 102
- HER-H 103
- 3 additional art history credit hours

Humanities: 12 credits

- English Composition ENG-W131*
- Communication Studies COMM- R 110*
- 3 credits in another writing or public speaking course. See an advisor for a list of current classes that fulfill this oral/written skills requirement.

3 credits from the following:

- Communication Studies
- Comparative Literature
- English
- Folklore
- Foreign Language
- Journalism

- Music
- Philosophy
- Religious Studies

Life and Physical Sciences: 9 credits

From the following group (a minimum of 3 credits in biology is required):

- Anatomy
- Astronomy
- Biology (Required)
- Chemistry
- Computer Science
- Food and Nutrition
- Mathematics
- Physics
- Physical Geography
- Physiology

Social and Behavioral Sciences: 9 credits

From the following group:

- Anthropology
- Business
- Economics
- History
- Nonphysical Geography
- Political Science
- Psychology
- Public and Environmental Affairs
- Social Work
- Sociology

Professional Education: 30-33 credits*

The following education courses are required in order to fulfill requirements of the Indiana Professional Standards Board:

B.A. in Art History

Herron School of Art and Design offers both a major and a minor in art history. The Bachelor of Arts major in art history gives the undergraduate student an opportunity to study the visual culture of humankind from prehistoric times to the art of today and to understand the significant role played by visual art in societies worldwide. The minor in art history enables students majoring in other areas to expand their knowledge of art history and gain valuable career-building experience.

Unlike the studio B.F.A. degrees at Herron, the B.A. in art history parallels a liberal arts major program leading to the B.A. degree. Art history majors take 36 credit hours of surveys and seminars in their major field, covering at least three of the following areas: ancient, medieval, Renaissance and Baroque, American, world art, modern and contemporary art, and art theory. Majors must take at least 6 credit hours of studio art as well as a variety of core requirement courses in the humanities and sciences, including at least one foreign language. Specific requirements for the art history major are outlined later in this section.

An art history minor takes 15 hours of art history credits from at least two historical periods or subject areas. Residency requirement: At least 6 credits at the 200-level or above must be taken at Herron.

Through the study of art history, students develop skills in key areas: visual analysis, critical thinking, research, and writing. These abilities enhance visual literacy, enrich life experiences, and provide a foundation for a variety of rewarding career opportunities. Fields such as teaching, museum work, art conservation and restoration, historic preservation, architecture, art dealership, auctioneering and collecting, art criticism and journalism, advertising, filmmaking, exhibition design and preparation, historical research and writing, interior and commercial design, art librarianship, consulting, and publishing can build on an education in art history. Art history also enriches the life of the practicing artist.

- Minor in Art History

Academic Requirements

Academic Requirements for a B.A. in Art History

- A minimum of 125 credit hours is required to complete the Bachelor of Arts in art history degree.
- A minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.0(C) is required for graduation.
- Art history majors must fulfill the following general education requirements:
  - 1 credit hour in a first-year seminar
  - 6 credit hours in English composition
  - 3 credit hours in speech communication
  - 10 credit hours in foreign language (8 in some languages)
  - 6 credit hours in analytic skills
  - 6 credit hours in natural science
  - 6 credit hours in history
  - 6 credit hours in arts and humanities
  - 6 credit hours in social and behavioral sciences
  - 6 credit hours in studio art
  - 15 credit hours in advanced courses
- A minimum of 36 credit hours of art history courses is required. H100 Art Appreciation and H221 Art Past and Present may not be counted for the art history major or minor requirements, but may be used for general elective credit. However, H100 and H221 may count toward elective credit in the major only if taken before H101, H102, and H103. No course in art history in which a student receives a grade below C (2.0) may be used to fulfill the 36 credit hour requirement.

- A minimum of 19 credit hours of electives is required.
- A minimum of 26 credit hours of 300- and/or 400-level courses must be completed at Herron/IUPUI.
- A maximum of eight courses may be taken Pass/Fail but no more than two Pass/Fail courses may be taken in any one academic year. Pass/Fail courses can be used only as electives or no major 300- or 400-level requirements.
- A maximum of 12 credit hours may be taken by correspondence through the Indiana University School of Continuing Studies. Authorization from the Art History Program faculty and the Student Services Office at Herron School of Art and Design is required prior to registration.
- Once a course has been applied toward one requirement, it cannot be used again to satisfy a second requirement except where explicitly stated otherwise. In addition, except in cases of variable title courses, internships, and other special topics courses, no course number can be counted more than once toward graduation.
- Credits in the following courses will not be accepted toward the art history degree: English W001, G010, G011, G012, or G013; MATH 130, 132, or any mathematics course lower than M118.

Distribution Requirements

First-Year Seminar: 1 credit

This course introduces students to the university's culture and values; familiarizes them with campus resources, including academic uses of technology; and provides them with skills for dealing with life at Herron/IUPUI. This requirement may be waived for transfer students or returning students, with the permission of the art history faculty. This requirement may be satisfied by completing one of the following courses:

- Herron X101 Foundation Resources Workshop or University College U110 First-Year Seminar

Communication Core: 19 credits

The communication core provides work in written and spoken English and foreign language study to prepare students for organizing and presenting their thoughts effectively. Further, skills in one or more foreign languages are necessary for a liberally and broadly educated person and are especially important to the professional art historian. Students should enroll in these courses as early in their college careers as possible.

English Composition (6 credits).

This requirement may be satisfied in one of the following ways:

- by completing W131 or Honors W140 and W132 or Honors W150 with a grade of C (2.0) or higher; or
- by testing out of W131 through the IUPUI English Placement Exam and completing W132 with a grade of C (2.0) or higher;

- for transfer students, by completing course work equivalent to W131 and W132 with a grade of C (2.0) or higher at another campus or institution.

Public Speaking/Rhetoric (3 credits).

This requirement may be satisfied by taking Communication Studies R110 or R350. Students with previously acquired competency in public speaking may be eligible for special credit and exemption from this requirement.

Foreign Language (8-10 credits).

First-year competency is required, and second-year competency is strongly recommended. This requirement may be satisfied in one of the following ways:

- by completing first-year courses (10 credit hours, 8 in some languages) with passing grades;
- by completing a second-year course with a grade of C (2.0) or higher; or
- by attaining a satisfactory score on a placement test.

Students for whom English is not a first language may be exempted from this requirement, without credit, by completion of English W131 and W132 with the required grade of C or higher. Note: Special English-as-a-second language sections of W131 have been designated for students whose first language is not English.

Native speakers of languages other than English are not permitted to receive credit for 100- and 200-level courses in their native language. Similarly, native speakers of English who have achieved elementary or intermediate proficiency in a foreign language by living or studying in country where the language is spoken ordinarily will not receive credit for taking 100- and 200-level courses in that foreign language.

In all cases, individual foreign language departments are responsible for determining a student's placement and for recommending a specific number of credit hours for prior work. Before registering for foreign language courses, native speakers of languages other than English should confer with the academic advisor in the relevant department.

Basic Courses: 30 credits outside the major

Analytic Skills (6 credits).

These courses provide the student with insight into processes of logical reasoning. This requirement may be satisfied by completing 6 credits selected from the following courses:

- Mathematics M118, M119, M123, M151, M153, M154, M159 or above
- Philosophy P162 or P265 (Logic)
- Computers and Information Science N100, N199, N201, N207, N211, or N241
- Statistics
- Kelly School of Business A200 Foundations of Accounting

- Purdue School of Engineering and Technology CIT 21200 Web Site Design

Natural Sciences (6 credits).

This area allows for choice of courses treating the "natural" phenomena of the world according to models of scientific thought. The 6 credits are to be selected from at least two of the following subjects:

- Astronomy
- Biology (including anatomy, botany, microbiology, physiology and zoology)
- Chemistry
- Geography (up to 3 credits may count: G107, G303, or G307 may be counted toward this requirement)
- Geology
- Physics
- Psychology (B105)

History (6 credits).

Courses exploring patterns and processes of history are essential for making decisions in the present, giving the background necessary for students to more capably assume societal responsibility. This requirement is fulfilled by completing two semesters of the following courses:

- H108 or H113 and H109 or H114.

H108/H109 Perspectives on the World to 1800 and since 1800

H113/H114 History of Western Civilization I and II

Transfer students who have taken history courses other than those listed above should consult with the art history faculty about transfer credit.

Arts and Humanities (6 credits).

Courses lead to viewing the world from more than one perspective and learning something about its social, cultural, intellectual, and spiritual dimensions. The 6 credits must be divided between two of the following four areas:

- Fine Arts: Music M174 or Communication Studies T130
- English Literature L105 or L115
- Philosophy P110 or P120
- Religious Studies R133

Transfer credits in the arts and humanities that are not the content equivalent to the courses listed above may be used to fulfill this requirement as follows:

- Subject to review and approval of the art history faculty, introductory courses in any of the arts and humanities may count toward this requirement.
- With approval of the art history faculty, where it seems appropriate to the breadth of the course, survey courses may count toward this requirement.
- Other arts and humanities courses will be counted toward this requirement on a 2-for-1 basis (6 credit hours satisfying 3 credit hours of this requirement).

- The following will not satisfy this requirement: creative writing, drawing, performance, or studio courses.

Social Sciences (6 credits).

An examination of the complexities of human behavior, society, and human interaction, this area uses procedures and information developed in social and behavioral studies. The 6 credits must be divided between two of the following areas:

- Anthropology A103 or A104
- Economics E201 or E202
- Geography G110
- Political Science Y101 or Y103
- Psychology B104
- Sociology R100

Transfer credits in the social sciences that are nonequivalent to the courses listed above may be used to fulfill this requirement as follows:

- With the approval of the art history faculty, introductory survey courses in any of the social sciences may count toward this requirement.
- With approval of the art history faculty, where it seems appropriate to the breadth of the course, survey courses may count toward this requirement.
- Other social science courses will be counted toward this requirement on a 2-for-1 basis (6 credit hours satisfying 3 credit hours of this requirement).

Studio Art Courses: 6 credits

Studio art courses enable art history majors to gain valuable firsthand understanding of the formal, technical, and conceptual skills involved in the creation of works of art and design. This requirement may be satisfied by any foundation or beginning fine arts or visual communications courses or by elective arts courses. Students must meet any prerequisites for these courses.

Advanced Courses (300-400 level): 15 credits outside art history

In addition to cultivating expertise in art history, the degree student should conduct in-depth study of other appropriate subject areas. Offerings on the 300- and 400-levels of at least four departments or programs of the School of Liberal Arts, the School of Science, the Department of Music and Arts Technology in the School of Engineering and Technology, or Herron School of Art and Design may count toward satisfying this requirement. In order to register for any 300- or 400-level course, the student must meet prerequisite requirements. Advanced courses may include those that involve significant cross-disciplinary input, e.g., appropriately designed honors courses or specially designed liberal arts topics courses. Herron advanced courses outside art history may be counted toward satisfying the advanced courses requirement. Please contact the Herron Student Services Office for more information regarding prerequisites for upper level courses at Herron outside art history.

Major Requirements (100-400 level): 36 credits

Includes both H101-H102 History of Art I-II, no fewer than 12 credits at the 300 level, and no fewer than 12 credits at the 400 level. The 300- and 400-level courses should be distributed among at least three different areas of art history selected from the following: ancient, medieval, Renaissance and Baroque, American, modern and contemporary, world art, or art theory. At least 3 credit hours must be taken in art history after 1900. H103 Introduction to Contemporary Art may be taken to satisfy this requirement.

At least 15 of the 36 credits must be completed in-residence at IUPUI; of these 15 credits, two courses at the 300 level and two courses at the 400 level must normally be completed to fulfill this requirement. With permission of the art history faculty, a 200-level course may substitute for a 300-level course.

Any course in which the student receives a grade below C (2.0) may not be used to fulfill this requirement. However, courses in which D is received may be counted toward the total 125 credits required for graduation.

Electives: 18 credits

Elective subjects allow students to adjust their curricula to satisfy additional personal needs and interests. These subjects may be used to add an even greater diversity to a program or provide opportunity for in-depth reinforcement of required studies. Art history and studio art courses not used to satisfy previously listed requirements may be counted as electives.

Other Requirements

Diversity/World Cultures.

All art history majors should take at least 3 credits of course work that enhances their understanding of cultural diversity, dealing with experiences outside the European and Euro-American tradition or with minority experiences in the United States. This requirement does not add to the total 125 credits required for graduation, but can be satisfied by any course in diversity/world cultures within the distribution requirements, major requirements, or electives described above. Credits earned through international travel experiences may be used to satisfy this requirement provided the international program takes place outside Europe or subject to individual approval.

Capstone Experience. As the culminating experience of their studies, all art history majors are required to write a substantial research paper or complete a capstone project designed in consultation with a faculty mentor in their final year of study. A special capstone seminar is often scheduled during spring semester and is highly recommended as the venue for completing the capstone requirement. The capstone seminar may count as a 400-level course toward the major requirements. Alternatively, a student may undertake the capstone paper or project within the context of a 300- or 400-level art history course or as an independent study.

Ceramics

The B.F.A. in Ceramics is a professional undergraduate degree for students desiring extensive studio experience with an emphasis in ceramics. Students in the program develop critical thinking skills, refine their intellectual and creative processes, and learn both traditional and contemporary aspects of the ceramicist's craft.

The ceramics curriculum develops an understanding of ceramics as an expressive artistic medium in contemporary society. The study of ceramic materials and techniques is balanced with the study of historical tradition and contemporary trends. The ceramic studio is well equipped so that students experience the variety of technologies used by contemporary artists. The program provides a solid foundation for students pursuing graduate studies or a studio art career.

Prior to being admitted into the major in ceramics, students must successfully pass sophomore advancement review.

Furniture Design

The B.F.A. in Furniture Design is a professional undergraduate degree for students desiring extensive studio experience with an emphasis in furniture design. Students in the program develop critical thinking skills, refine their intellectual and creative processes, and learn both traditional and contemporary aspects of the furniture designer's craft.

Herron School of Art has established a tradition of providing a rich and stimulating environment for aspiring studio art furniture makers. The Furniture Design Program curriculum provides students the framework for their development as designers and makers. The furniture design program's commitment to excellence is reflected in the high standards of professionalism achieved by its graduates.

Courses are taught by experienced and accomplished faculty. Students have the use of a well-equipped and maintained woodworking shop/studio. Introductory courses stress the importance of drawing, conceptualizing skills, design research and development, construction techniques and technologies, model making, art furniture history, and the completion of full-size furniture prototypes.

Intermediate and advanced courses challenge students to continue to develop their technical skills and begin to forage personal design aesthetic. Career goals and strategies are explored and developed. Classes are augmented with visiting artists, field trips, student/professional design competitions and shows, and other pertinent professional activities.

Prior to being admitted into the major in furniture design, students must successfully pass sophomore advancement review.

General Fine Arts

The B.F.A. in General Fine Arts is a professional undergraduate degree for students desiring the flexibility to pursue studies in more than one area to achieve their individual, artistic goals. Students in the program develop critical thinking skills, refine their intellectual and creative processes, and learn both traditional and contemporary aspects of artistic practice.

The General Fine Arts Program allows students to participate in a wide range of studies without the need to specify a single medium. Through careful counseling, individual goals and directions are established, and the students assisted in setting up a well-coordinated program of arts studies. The flexibility of this program enables the student to combine studies in ceramics, design, drawing, painting, printmaking, sculpture, woodworking, etc., to achieve objectives in keeping with specific goals. Opportunities following graduation are essentially the same as for students identifying with a single program.

Prior to being admitted into the major in general fine arts, students must successfully pass sophomore advancement review.

Photography

The B.F.A. in Photography is a professional undergraduate degree for students desiring extensive studio experience with an emphasis in photography and associated media. Students in the program develop critical thinking skills, refine their intellectual and creative processes, and learn both traditional and contemporary aspects of the photographer's craft.

As digital technology effectively blurs the line between films, periodicals, television, and photographs, students of photography are constantly challenged to define and reexamine the photographer's role in contemporary art practices.

A photography student will approach the study of photography beginning with traditional black and white materials and progress to color processes with a concentrated examination of contemporary still and moving digital medias. By examining the history of photography, you will understand the roles photography played in culture throughout the past and its current position as an art form and cultural phenomena. Technical proficiency, personal growth, as well as conceptual and aesthetic development are emphasized equally.

Herron's photography facilities are among the best in the nation. With our new facilities on the campus of IUPUI, the department has multiple black and white labs, individual color and advanced darkrooms, a computer lab, a shooting studio, a dedicated finishing area, and gallery. This permits students to work in a variety of formats and media, including basic black and white printing, Type color and Ilfochrome color printing, advanced black and white printing and developing, mixed and alternative processes, digital media, and video. Students will have access to professional equipment, including medium format, 4x5, Polaroid, and video cameras, studio lighting kits, light meters, tripods, and state of the art digital equipment.

Mastering technical processes and developing your own artistic vision prepares you for a choice of multiple careers in photography and related fields. Employment opportunities include working perhaps as a studio artist and exhibiting work in fine art galleries and museums; being employed as a documentarian, publishing work in newspaper and other print venues or working in museum documenting works of art; as a commercial photographer; or as a portraitist. Many of our graduates work in emerging digital media, still, moving, and Web.

Prior to being admitted into the major in photography, students must successfully pass sophomore advancement review.

Printmaking

The B.F.A. in Printmaking is a professional undergraduate degree for students desiring extensive studio experience with an emphasis in printmaking. Students in the program develop critical thinking skills, refine their intellectual and creative processes, and learn both traditional and contemporary aspects of the printmaker's craft.

The printmaking curriculum provides a broad and intensive experience for printmaking majors and studio elective opportunities for other fine arts, visual communication, and art education students. Course work in lithography and etching is offered at beginning, intermediate, and advanced levels every semester. Processes covered include plate and stone lithography and the intaglio processes of etching, engraving, and aquatint. Additional courses include printing in monotype, woodcut, and silkscreen. Spacious, well-equipped, accessible facilities for the study of these traditional approaches to printmaking are augmented by additional facilities for the investigation of digital and photomechanical processes.

Basic courses establish a solid, comprehensive foundation of traditional technical skills unique to the printed image, while instruction emphasizes the development of drawing, self-expression, and concept. At the intermediate and advanced levels, students continue to acquire new technical skills. There is extensive work in color, as the emphasis shifts to imagery, concept, and critical thinking.

Advanced students are given considerable autonomy, working largely in self-defined directions in consultation with faculty while focusing on printing technologies most appropriate for individual development. Group critiques, field trips, portfolio projects, student exhibition opportunities, and workshops and lectures by visiting artists complement the studio experience by providing critical discussion, participation, incentives, and role models.

Prior to being admitted into the major in printmaking, students must successfully pass sophomore advancement review.

Sculpture

The B.F.A. in Sculpture is a professional undergraduate degree for students desiring extensive studio experience with an emphasis in sculpture. Students in the program develop critical thinking skills, refine their intellectual and creative processes, and learn both traditional and contemporary aspects of the sculptor's craft.

Herron's sculpture program encourages consistent growth, from the introductory three-dimensional experience through the fourth and final year of advanced work. The multimedia fabrication and foundry facilities provide level of sophisticated technical experience unique to the undergraduate level.

As sophomores, sculpture students are introduced to a wide spectrum of techniques and processes, which include metal fabrication, casting, woodcarving, construction, resins, plastics, and stone carving, as well as work in nontraditional materials. Through a team teaching approach, students are exposed to a broad base of practical information, critical analysis, and creative discourse.

As juniors and seniors, students continue investigations and creative pursuits begun in their sophomore year. Juniors and seniors work more independently as they sharpen their individual focus and prepare for graduate school or professional work. Graduates of the sculpture program have had the opportunity to investigate all three-dimensional media and are prepared to continue independent development.

Prior to being admitted into the major in sculpture, students must successfully pass sophomore advancement review.

Bachelor of Fine Arts

Bachelor of Fine Art Degree Programs

Ceramics, Furniture Design, General Fine Arts, Painting, Photography, Printmaking, Sculpture, Visual Communication

General Academic Requirements

Students in Herron B.F.A. degree programs must successfully complete a program of general academic courses, as well as more concentrated studies within their specialties, to earn their degrees. Students are required to have 9-15 credit hours of art history and 30 credit hours distributed in the humanities, life and physical sciences, and social and behavioral science. The list that follows provides details on general academic requirements for ceramics, furniture design, general fine arts, printing, photography, printmaking, sculpture, and visual communication. Students not scoring well on the writing placement test will be required to register for W130 Fundamentals of English, a developmental course, before taking W131 Elementary Composition I.

- Art History HER-H 101*, HER-H 102,* HER-H 103 (not required for Visual Communication),

- AND 6 additional credit hours in Art History (3 credits required for Visual Communication).

Total: 15 credits

Humanities

- English ENG-W 131* and ENG-L 115 or ENG-L 105*

6 additional credit hours selected from the following departments:

- Africana Studies
- Classical Studies
- Communications Studies
- Comparative Literature
- English
- Film Studies
- Folklore
- Foreign Language
- Journalism
- Music
- Philosophy
- Religious Studies
- Speech and Hearing

Total: 12 credits

Life and Physical Science

6 credits from the following departments:

- Anatomy
- Astronomy
- Biology
- Chemistry
- Computer Science
- Food and Nutrition
- Geology
- Informatics/New Media
- Mathematics (starting with MATH-M 118, MATH 00100, 11000, 11100 will not be allowed to count toward a Herron degree)
- Physical Geography (GEOG-G 107, GEOG-G 303, and GEOG-G 404 ONLY)
- Physics

Total: 6 credits

Social and Behavioral Science

6 credits from the following departments:

- Anthropology
- Business
- Economics
- History
- Labor Studies
- Nonphysical Geography
- Political Science
- Psychology
- Public and Environmental Affairs
- Social Work
- Sociology

Total: 6 credits

Academic Electives

An additional 6 credits must be taken from one or more of the above groups, i.e., humanities, life and physical sciences, social and behavioral science. Art history may not be used to satisfy this academic elective requirement. Total: 6 credits * Accomplished as part of the Foundation Program.

BFA First-Year Foundation Program

The Foundation Program serves as a base for future work at Herron. In the Foundation Program, students develop drawing skills, powers of observation, an understanding of visual principles, and a working knowledge of materials and techniques, while becoming more knowledgeable about art history. The program is constructed so that students, through self-examination and faculty counseling, will be able to select intelligently the area in which they will major when the Foundation Program has been completed. Much of the success of Herron programs has been due to the comprehensive strength of the Foundation Program and the basic preparation that it provides.

The Foundation Program, or its equivalent in previously earned credit (as determined by the Admissions Committee), is a prerequisite for work in the fine arts and education degree programs.

Visual Communication

The B.F.A. in Visual Communication is a professional undergraduate degree for students desiring theoretical and studio experience with an emphasis in design. Students in the program develop critical thinking skills, refine their intellectual and creative processes, and learn contemporary aspects of design and design thinking.

Degree programs in the Department of Visual Communication prepare design leaders to proactively manage change and innovation processes toward improving the civic, cultural and commercial experiences that people encounter in their daily lives. The programs focus on a collaborative design process for identifying root problems and facilitating meaningful solutions to complex issues. This approach is intended to harness the power of design to clarify, humanize and energize the issues that are central to life in a pluralistic society.

As members of a professional art and design school on the IUPUI campus, Visual Communication majors prepare for a design career by integrating learning in visual studies with coursework in the liberal arts and sciences. The learning experience is structured to equip students with the knowledge and skills necessary to compete in a field that requires both highly specialized skills and the ability to make intellectual connections within a broad range of general knowledge. Successful students achieve all the learning outcomes that have been defined by the National Association of School of Art and Design and AIGA (the professional association for design) as essential competencies for design professionals. These include: the ability to solve communication problems, including the skills of problem identification, research and information gathering, analysis, generation of alternative solutions, prototyping and user testing, and evaluation of outcomes; the ability to describe and respond to the audiences and contexts which communication solutions must address, including recognition of the physical, cognitive, cultural, and social human factors that shape design decisions; the ability to create and develop visual form in response to communication problems, including an understanding of principles of visual organization/composition, information hierarchy, symbolic representation, typography, aesthetics, and the construction of meaningful messages; an understanding of tools and technology, including their roles in the creation, reproduction, and distribution of visual messages. Relevant tools and technologies include, but are not limited to, drawing, offset printing, photography, and time-based and interactive media (film, video, computer multimedia); the ability to perform basic business practices, including organizing design projects and working productively as a member of teams.

Students must pass Sophomore Advancement Review before being admitted into the major in visual communication.

Book Arts Minor Minor in Book Arts

The emphasis of this minor is to provide students with a focused course of study to develop skills and conceptual understanding specific to the book arts. The objectives are: to help students build fundamental skills in each of the areas that comprise the book arts, bookbinding, letterpress typography, book design and papermaking; to familiarize and integrate historic and contemporary aspects of the book arts. The minor aims to develop a level of technical and conceptual proficiency that will give students a professional platform from which to proceed to more sophisticated engagements with the medium. While the course of study is committed to developing excellence in work by hand, it provides opportunities for integrating digital tools.

Procedure

The book arts minor is open to all IUPUI students. Students intending to pursue the minor should contact Herron Student Services to register, review the requirements, and plan their program of study.

Requirements

15 credits total

At least 6 credits must be taken at the 300 or 400 level.

Required core courses: 9 credits/3 courses (Courses are open to all students.)

Choose 3 from the following:

- G206 Bookbinding
- G208 Letterpress Typesetting
- G308 The Visual Book
- G310 The Printed Book

Paper technologies: 3 credits/1 course (Courses are open to all students.)

Choose one of the following:

- G209 Papermaking
- R201 Paper Engineering

Electives: 3 credits/ 1 course (Eligibility for courses varies. Elective Arts courses are open to non-Herron majors; many VC and Fine Arts courses are limited to majors.)

Choose 1 from the following:

- Any 200 or 300 level Printmaking course: Intaglio, Lithography, Silkscreen, Monotype, or Relief Printing
- Any 200 or 300 level VC course focusing on typography or image
- Any 200 or 300 level Fine Arts or Elective Arts course
- G405 Individual Research in Book Arts

If approved in advance by Printmaking faculty, a 300 level experiential learning internship (applicable to the RISE initiative) in the field, for example at the National Bindery in Indianapolis, or apprenticing with a local book artist, or working in the Main Library (IUPUI or IU Bloomington) book conservation lab, or in the Historical Society/IMA book conservation lab, may count as one 3-credit elective course.

Minor in Art History Requirements

15 credits in Art History as follows:

- Any two of the following three introductory survey courses:
  - HER-H 101, H 102, H 103 (6 cr.)
- Upper-level courses (200-level optional, 300-and 400-level) 9 cr.
  - At least one 400-level course recommended.
  - The 9 credits must include courses in at least two of the following five historical periods or subject categories:

- Ancient & Medieval;
  - Early Modern (Renaissance through Neoclassicism);
  - Modern (1800-1950);
  - Post-1950;
  - World Art.
- Only courses completed with a grade of C (2.0) or higher will count toward the minor.
  - In the case of transfer students, at least 6 credits at the 200-level or higher must be taken at Herron.
  - Consult the bulletin and Schedule of Classes for regular and cross-listed courses.
  - HER-H 100 Art Appreciation and HER-H 221 Art Past and Present are not eligible to be counted toward the minor (or major) requirements.

Procedure

Students interested in minor in art history should contact Herron Student Services to register, review the requirements, and plan their program of study.

Student Learning Outcomes

- Bachelor of Arts in Art History
- Bachelor of Art Education
- Bachelor of Fine Arts*
- Bachelor Fine Arts in Visual Communication

*Includes Ceramics, General Fine Arts, Painting, Furniture, Design, Printmaking, Sculpture, Photography

Bachelor of Arts in Art History (B.A.)

Graduates of the Art History program will demonstrate the following:

1. Students will be able to describe connections between art and social and cultural contexts across history and throughout the world.
2. Students will be able to evaluate and critique works of art from a range of methodological perspectives.
3. Students will be able to conceive and carry out research involving: formulating a question; gathering information using a variety of tools and techniques; critically evaluating information; making an argument; and defending a conclusion in speech and writing.
4. Students will be able to compare and contrast the underlying value systems that inform the aesthetic decisions of art makers and viewers in different cultures.
5. Students will be able to recognize perspectives from a range of disciplines in the arts and sciences.
6. Students will be able to apply their visual literacy to make informed and ethical judgments in their own lives.
7. Students will be able to interpret works of art using visual analysis, historical research, and defined theoretical perspectives.
8. Students will be able to describe and discuss a substantial body of knowledge about and understanding of their own art historical traditions and the traditions of others.

Bachelor of Art Education (B.A.Ed.)

Upon completion of the Bachelor of Art Education at Herron students will demonstrate the following competencies:

Philosophy

Demonstrate critical reflection on the aesthetic and artistic purposes of art in P-12 learners; articulate and apply personal philosophy in classroom practice.

Communication

Communicate ideas clearly through speech, writing, and visual forms about issues of personal importance and human significance in local and global communities; and apply this to classroom practice.

Content Knowledge - Studio Art

Demonstrate expertise in basic expressive, technical, procedural and organization skills in a wide variety of media and demonstrate mastery in conceptual insights and visual thinking developed through studio experiences; and make these aspects of the discipline accessible and meaningful for P-12 learners.

Content Knowledge - Art History and Analysis

Understand the major styles and periods of art history, the analytical methods and theories of criticism; understand development of past and contemporary art forms, including visual culture, and, understand contending philosophies of art and the relationship of all of these to the making of art; and, make these aspects of the discipline accessible and meaningful for P-12 learners.

Content Knowledge - Innovation/Ideation

Understand and apply processes of idea generation, imagination, and innovative thinking from a range of disciplines to problems in their artwork and their lives; and develop abilities of creative problem solving and critical inquiry and authentic meaning making in P-12 learners.

Learner Development

Understand the developmental needs and diverse social and cultural constructions of identity in all learners and implement a variety of appropriate visuals, tools, media, technology, and other disciplines to differentiate learning in inclusive, multicultural, and urban classrooms.

Learning Environment

Construct a learning environment that promotes student achievement, utilizes social learning and group dynamics, promotes respect and collaboration among of all learners, and incorporates multiple contexts where art exists outside the classroom including museums, galleries, homes, and public sites.

Instructional Strategies

Understand and implement curriculum and a variety of instructional strategies that develop in-depth, complex student skills and knowledge in art content, and integrate art across disciplines.

Bachelor of Fine Arts (B.F.A.)

Graduates of a Fine Arts program will achieve the following:

1. Students will develop a personal aesthetic that will be demonstrated in the characteristics of their artwork, writings, and speech.
2. Students will demonstrate a mastery of visual thinking and the technical demands and craft appropriate to their discipline and artwork.
3. Students will be able to describe historic and contemporary art directions, movements, and theory and place their own artwork in a contemporary context.
4. Students will write and speak effectively about their artwork and ideas.
5. Students will do research and construct their own aesthetic problems utilizing creative process strategies and critical thinking to provide multiple solutions to the problems.

6. Students will exhibit an openness to different or new ideas and a willingness to examine and reconsider familiar ways of thinking.
7. Students will be able to critique their own and others art work in a theoretically and historically informed manner.
8. Students will apply ideas and methods of thinking from a range of disciplines to problems in their artwork and their lives.
9. Students will be able to engage with diverse communities through personal and creative activities.
10. Students will apply their knowledge of art in a professional context, and will utilize the best practices and ethics held by their profession.

Includes Ceramics, General Fine Arts, Painting, Furniture Design, Printmaking, Sculpture, Photography

Bachelor of Fine Arts in Visual Communication (B.F.A.)

Graduates of the Visual Communication program will achieve the following:

1. Students will be able to identify, describe, and summarize communication problems through user-centered research and analysis.
2. Students will be able to generate and evaluate solutions to communication problems by creating alternative solutions, prototyping and conducting user testing.
3. Students will recognize, describe, and respond to social, cultural, physical and cognitive issues embedded within audiences and contexts.
4. Students will be able to demonstrate an understanding of visual form in response to communication problems through visual organization/composition, information hierarchy, symbolic representation, typography, aesthetics and the construction of meaningful messages.
5. Students will understand and apply appropriate tools and technology in the creation, reproduction and distribution of visual messages, including but not limited to, drawing, offset printing, photography and time-based media and interactive media.
6. Students will be able to address and discuss design from a variety of historical, theoretical, social, cultural, technological and economic perspectives.
7. Students will be able to discuss and demonstrate basic business practices, including the ability to organize design projects and work productively as a member of teams.

Admissions

- Master of Art Education
- Master of Arts in Art Therapy
- Master of Fine Arts in Visual Art and Public Life
- Master of Fine Arts in Visual Communication Design

Arts Education

Students interested in entering the M.A.E program must possess a teaching certificate in art and a 3.0 cumulative grade point average. Students holding an undergraduate degree in visual art, but not certification requirements of the Indiana Professional Standards Board, must complete these requirements through the certification courses in the Bachelor of Art Education degree before pursuing the M.A.E.

Application Deadlines

Fall admission: May 1

Spring admission: November 1

Summer admission: March 1

How to Apply

Submit the IUPUI Graduate Online Application. Please include the following items and information within the application.

1. A personal goals statement explaining academic and career objectives.
2. The contact information (including names, street addresses, phone numbers and email addresses) of two people who will submit your letters of recommendation via the online application system. You can enter this information in the Department Information tab. The online recommendations should address your potential for academic success in a graduate program.

Mail the following the items and information to the Herron School of Art and Design.

1. Official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended (except Indiana University).
2. A portfolio of studio work.

The portfolio should demonstrate the following:

- Visual sensitivity: ability to effectively organize structure/composition in two and three dimensional media.
- Technical skill: ability to control media in ways that convincingly communicate.
- Ability to generate, refine, and execute ideas that show inventiveness and personal meaning.
- Lessons/units with examples of student work produced under your teaching.

The portfolio represents your view of yourself and your work. We encourage inclusion of documentation of your ongoing involvement with art and teaching such as: sketch book/journal, awards, exhibitions or articles on your work, honors, or teaching publications.

Art Therapy

1. Complete the Online Application

You must provide the following information in the online application:

- 2-3 page personal statement and a resume outlining professional and volunteer experiences. The personal statement should speak to how you developed an interest in art therapy, what led you to the art therapy program at Herron, and what your future goals are as an art therapist.

- The contact information (including names, street addresses, phone numbers and email addresses) of three faculty members or professional contacts who will submit your letters of recommendation via the online application system. The online recommendations should address your potential for academic success in the art therapy graduate program.

2. Submit Your Portfolio Online

Submit your portfolio online at www.herron.slideroom.com. When submitting the portfolio online, be sure to select the M.A. in Art Therapy program. The portfolio should represent 10-15 pieces of artwork that show experience with different media and an ability to understand the motivations of one's personal art making process. If you are selected to participate in an in-person interview, your portfolio will be reviewed with you as a part of the interview process.

3. Pay the Application Fees

The cost for submitting the application for the M.A. in Art Therapy is $70. The $70 application fee is comprised of a $60 fee paid upon submission of the online application and a $10 fee paid upon submission of the online portfolio. The application fees are non-refundable.

You will also be required to take the Graduate Record Examination (GRE), the fee for which varies depending on when you take the test. For the GRE fee table visit the ETS GRE Fees webpage.

4. Mail Your Transcripts

Mail official transcripts from all of your undergraduate institutions attended, as well as from any graduate programs (if applicable). The transcript must demonstrate a minimum cumulative GPA of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale. Your transcripts must reflect 18 or more credit hours of studio art. It must also reflect 12 credit hours of psychology, including developmental and abnormal psychologies /or/ 9 credit hours of psychology including developmental and abnormal psychology, plus 3 credit hours of sociology. For international students, if the original documents are not in English, a verified translation must be sent with your official transcripts in your native language. If you are in the process of completing a Bachelor's degree when you apply, a transcript showing your first three years of study is acceptable. If admitted to Herron, you must submit a final, official transcript verifying the completion and award of your degree directly to Herron prior to your matriculation.

Mail transcripts to:

Graduate Admissions c/o Student Services Office

Herron School of Art and Design

*735 W. New York St.
Indianapolis, IN 46202-5222*

5. Take the Graduate Record Examination (GRE) and Submit Test Scores to IUPUI

NOTE: GRE test results will be waived only if you have completed a previous masters degree and have earned a GPA of 3.3 or above for that degree.

For the paper-and-pencil test, you may register through the Educational Testing Services (ETS). The information for registering for tests is also available on-line at the ETS GRE website.

Students can register for computer-based testing (CBT) through Candidate Services at Prometric, a division of Thompson Learning by calling 1-800-853-6773 for further information about registration procedures.

GRE scores must be no more than 5 years old at the time of application. The IUPUI reporting code for the GRE is 1325. Only the general GRE exam is needed.

- 6 Submit Your TOEFL Results (International students only)
Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL) scores are required for international students unless the applicants undergraduate degree is from a university in an English-speaking country. Applicants must request that an official copy of their test results be sent directly to IUPUI by the Educational Testing Service. The IUPUI reporting code for the TOEFL is 1325. Other tests or ELS coursework may be accepted in order to verify English proficiency. For a list of all options and minimum scores required, please visit the IUPUI International Admissions webpage.
- 7 Interview
Semi-finalists will be contacted for an on-campus interview as the final step of the application process. Candidates should be prepared to discuss their portfolio during the interview.

Application deadline: Submit all of the following application components by January 30, 2012

Notification of admission decision: April 15, 2012

M.F.A. in Visual Art and Public Life

The application steps below are for students interested in pursuing an M.F.A. in Visual Art and Public Life with an emphasis in one of the following areas: Ceramics, Furniture Design, Painting and Drawing, Photography and Intermedia, Printmaking, and Sculpture.

Your application must demonstrate a strong commitment and potential for developing sustained creative activity as a visual artist at the professional level and the ability to complete graduate work.

1. Complete the Online Application
You must provide the following information in the online application:
  - A personal statement describing your intentions for applying to this program, including a concise description of your past experiences qualifying you for this program. Please also describe your future career goals. The statement must be 500 words in length. Please clearly indicate in your personal statement the program you intend to pursue: sculpture, furniture design, printmaking, photography and intermedia, painting and drawing or ceramics.

- The contact information (including names, street addresses, phone numbers and email addresses) of two people who will submit your letters of recommendation via the online application system. The online system will then email your contacts with instructions on how to submit their references online. The online recommendations should address your potential for academic success in a graduate program.
- When asked to indicate your Academic Plan, please select "Visual Art and Public Life" in the drop down menu.

2 Submit Your Portfolio Online

Submit your portfolio online at www.herron.slideroom.com. When submitting the portfolio online, click on the blue "Start a New Submission" button. NOTE: The Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is not a requirement.

M.F.A. in Visual Communication

Admission to the graduate program is competitive. There is no specific standard type of ideal applicant; we encourage diversity and evaluate each applicant on an individual basis. We do seek a mixed group of people with varied backgrounds and experiences.

Application Checklist

1. online application form and fee
2. GRE scores (optional)
3. TOEFL scores
4. official academic transcript
5. personal statement of intent
6. three letters of professional reference, submitted online
7. professional resume
8. portfolio of work

Application Process

STEP 1

Read the Admissions Q + A document.

STEP 2

Complete the online application. In the online application, please provide the contact information of three professional references. The application system will contact your references via email and request that they submit their recommendations through the online system. The fee for the application is $60. You will be asked to submit payment online upon the completion of your application.

STEP 3

Submit GRE or GMAT scores if you feel the score will help your application. The IUPUI reporting code for standardized tests is 1325. GRE (General Test) or GMAT scores are optional. Scores submitted to the admission committee must be for tests completed within the last four years.

TOEFL is required for applicants from countries whose native language is not English. TOEFL scores must be from tests taken within the last two years. The TOEFL requirement is waived for applicants with a degree from a university in an English-speaking country.

Master of Art Education

The Master of Art Education Program (M.A.E.) strengthens and revitalizes student artistic and professional experience. The underlying philosophy of the program is a strong belief in the artist-teacher. Course work for this degree is divided equally between art content (studio, history, criticism, aesthetics) and professional methodology. Degree requirements must be completed within five years from the time the first classes are taken. Graduates are expected to maintain a 3.3 GPA or higher in graduate course work. Any graduates with a GPA of lower than 3.0 are subject to probation and dismissal.

Students wanting to enter the graduate program at the Herron School of Art and Design must apply online or by mail. A statement of professional goals, two professional recommendations may be submitted in the online application. A portfolio of studio work should be mailed to Graduate Admissions at the Herron School of Art and Design. Students holding an undergraduate degree in visual art, but not certification requirements of the Indiana Professional Standards Board, must complete these requirements through the certification courses in the B.A.E. To be accepted to the M.A.E. program, the student must have a teaching certificate in art or be working toward this concurrently with the M.A.E., a 3.0 cumulative grade point average, and must pass the portfolio review.

MFA in Visual Art and Public Life

The Master of Fine Arts (M.F.A.) in Visual Art and Public Life is a 60-credit hour program of study that provides students with an in-depth, professional-level understanding of visual art planning, production, and presentation. Students may pursue one of six emphasis areas for this program: Ceramics, Furniture Design, Painting/Drawing, Photography/Intermedia, Printmaking, or Sculpture. The program consists of a systematic sequence of educational opportunities for students to gain fluency in the practices and issues involved in creating original works of visual art and developing their careers within contemporary society. The Master of Fine Arts degree is recognized by the art and design professions as the terminal degree in the studio arts.

The objectives of the program are: (1) to create coursework and experiences in which students examine and learn to shape the formal, thematic, theoretical, social, cultural, cognitive, and technological aspects of visual art; (2) to develop university and community based collaborations that facilitate learning and research opportunities; (3) to provide opportunities for developing leadership in the professional practice of visual art and to prepare graduates for a range of specialized careers, from university-level teaching to creative entrepreneurship to employment by urban arts organizations to work as independent artists; (4) to foster an exploration of visual art as an intellectual and experimental practice that is rooted in a specific time and place; (5) to engage students in studio activity that is placed in a professional context, from making work to its presentation, installation, marketing, and critical analysis; and (6) to provide students with the intellectual flexibility to research, plan, design, fabricate, and complete work utilizing a variety of processes in a variety of settings for a variety of purposes.

To complete the degree, students are required to present a final, substantial body of original art in an exhibition (or other significant public presentation of a major body of work), documentation of the exhibition, and completion of a written thesis, all demonstrating professional-quality achievement. The thesis project is a culmination of the graduate experience in which students develop professional expertise in their field as active studio artists including professional practice and research.

Areas of Emphasis

- Ceramics
- Furniture Design
- Painting and Drawing
- Photography and Intermedia
- Printmaking
- Sculpture

MFA Thesis Advisory Committee

The MFA Thesis Advisory Committee will provide regular, systematic feedback to the graduate student about her/his development of professional-level skills, cognitive development, specific assessment of the body of artwork being created, and will provide guidance for the Thesis project/exhibition and written Thesis statement.

1. Each graduate student in the M.F.A. in Visual Art program will be assigned an Academic Advisor. The Academic Advisor will be a full-time faculty member from the student's area of studio emphasis and will oversee all aspects of tracking the student's progress through all phases of the curriculum. The Academic Advisor will also serve as Chair of the graduate student's M.F.A. Thesis Advisory Committee. Students are assigned Academic Advisors at the start of the program. Academic Advisors are appointed by the Chair of Fine Arts and Associate Dean.

2. The full committee should be formed immediately after the completion of his/her first 15 credit hours applicable to the degree. The selection is made by the student with the approval of the Chair of the Advisory Committee. Students must complete the MFA Advisory Committee Membership Form (located in the "Forms" section of this binder) and obtain the signatures of all faculty on the committee. The form must be submitted to the Associate Dean.

3. The Thesis Advisory Committee is comprised of:

- ACADEMIC ADVISOR/CHAIR: A full-time, tenure-track or tenured Herron faculty member from the grad student's major area of emphasis.
- COMMITTEE MEMBER: A full-time Herron faculty member who is NOT from the area of emphasis. Selected by the grad student working in consultation with his/her Academic Advisor.
- COMMITTEE MEMBER: A full-time Herron faculty member who can be from the area of emphasis or not. Selected by the grad student working in consultation with his/her Academic Advisor.
- OPTIONAL COMMITTEE MEMBER: An optional fourth member of the Graduate Advisory Committee may be someone from another academic unit at IUPUI /or/ from the professional field. Selected by the grad student working in consultation with his/her Academic Advisor.

4. The committee will meet with the student a minimum of three times during the course of study to complete the degree in order to advise and make recommendations on the student's development. The student must pass all three reviews in order to remain eligible for continuation in the program and completion of the degree requirements. The reviews will take place at the following times:

- a. At the completion of 30 credit hours (midpoint): Consists of a committee review.
- b. At the completion of 45 credits hours: Consists of a committee review. Certifies student is ready to complete work for final exhibition/project. Approves plans for culminating Thesis exhibition/project. Advice on written thesis statement.
- c. At the Final Review of the graduate student's culminating Thesis project (an exhibition of artwork completed as the final culminating body of work /or/ a substantial public art project completed as the final culminating project) and written thesis at the completion of the full 60-credits required for the degree.

Grade Requirements

Only grades of a minimum of "C" will count towards the completion of the M.F.A. degree. Only a minimum of a "B" grade will count in courses in the student's major area of studio emphasis. Each graduate student must maintain an overall minimum g.p.a. of 3.0 to remain in the M.F.A. program. A minimum grade of "B+" must be achieved in the course "Studio Emphasis IV: Thesis Exhibit/Project."

Note: Additional information about policies and procedures, including further information about the MFA Advisory Committee, the review process, and the MFA Culminating Experience, is available in the MFA Handbook, provided to each entering graduate student in the MFA in Visual Art and Public Life program.

Additional policies

Students should consult the MFA Graduate Student Handbook given to them at orientation for additional policies, procedures, documents, and forms.

Last Updated: March 2012

Admission

Admission into the program is competitive. Applicants must demonstrate a commitment and capability to develop sustained creative activity as a visual artist at the professional level and the ability to complete graduate work.

Applicants must have

1. An undergraduate degree, preferably a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree with a studio art emphasis from an accredited institution, but other backgrounds will be considered by the graduate admissions committee,
2. A minimum GPA of 3.0 on a 4.0 scale,
3. A portfolio documenting past visual art work.

Some otherwise qualified applicants may not have all the necessary coursework and background experience to prepare them to fully succeed in their graduate coursework. These persons will be required to make up curricular deficiencies by enrolling in appropriate undergraduate courses prior to taking specific courses in the graduate program.

Complete, current admissions requirements, deadlines for admissions, application procedures, and information about financial aid are available on the website for Herron School of Art and Design.

Financial Assistance and Fellowships

Graduate Fellowships may be assigned in the following categories of responsibility: Teaching Assistant, Instructor, Technician, Gallery Assistant, and Graduate Assistant to Center for Art, Design and Public Life, and other assignments. Graduate students may be awarded scholarships based on their qualifications documented in their applications to the program.

Furniture Design

Herron School of Art and Design has an established reputation in Furniture Design based on the long-standing strength of its undergraduate program. As a graduate student in Furniture Design at Herron, students develop their creative vision making use of an exceptionally well-equipped and maintained woodworking shop/studio which is housed in Herron's new state-of-the-art 163,000 square foot facility that opened in 2005. Coursework stresses the development of professional mastery in conceptualizing, design research and development, and construction techniques and technologies. Students develop a body of work emphasizing a personal design aesthetic.

Career goals and strategies are explored and developed, and a systematic sequence of coursework at the graduate level provides students with the experience and knowledge necessary to pursue professional commissions, to work in collaboration with other artists, craftsmen and creative thinkers, and to understand how to develop a successful professional career in the 21st century. Coursework is augmented with visiting artists, field trips, design competitions, exhibition opportunities, public art projects, and other pertinent professional activities.

Printmaking

The printmaking curriculum provides a broad and intensive experience for printmaking graduate students. Students will be able to explore and experiment in a wide variety of media and processes, including plate and stone lithography and the intaglio processes of etching, engraving, and aquatint. The printmaking program also supports work in monotype, woodcut, and silkscreen.

Spacious, well-equipped facilities for the study of traditional approaches to printmaking are augmented by additional facilities for the investigation of digital and photomechanical processes. The printmaking graduate program is housed within Herron's new state-of-the-art 163,000 square foot facility that opened in 2005.

At the graduate level, students will acquire new technical skills and refine skills students have developed already to an advanced professional level while students are challenged to undertake an extensive and intensive examination of the thematic and theoretical content that fuels their creative work.

Graduate students are given considerable autonomy for working in self-defined directions in consultation with faculty while focusing on printing technologies most appropriate for individual development.

Graduate group and individual critiques, field trips, portfolio projects, exhibition opportunities, collaborative public art projects, and workshops and lectures by visiting artists complement the studio experience by providing critical discussion, and a broader framework for professional development.

Sculpture

Herron's commitment to sculpture is reflected in the opening of a state-of-the-art Sculpture and Ceramics building in January of 2000. Students have access to a 26,000 square foot facility, outfitted with a full complement of professional-grade tools and equipment, with designated areas for casting, welding, woodworking, resins, outdoor working, and new technologies, plus a large student gallery/critique space.

Herron's multimedia and foundry facilities provide access to a level of technical sophistication that fosters an intense, experimental approach to the creative process. The Sculpture Program includes developed areas for sound and video, digital media and computer aided drafting, resin and other non-traditional casting methodologies. Sculpture graduate students also have access to the classes and resources provided at Herrons other primary facility, Eskenazi Hall, a 163,000 square foot state-of-the-art facility, which opened in 2005 for the study of art and design.

The sculpture program at Herron is particularly strong in the wealth of techniques and processes that are explored, as well as its emphasis on providing students experience in planning and executing public sculpture projects (both permanent and temporary, large-scale and smaller). Herrons sculpture faculty includes highly productive artists with strong, national accomplishments in their own research programs. Sculpture is one of Herrons most highly visible programs with a strong history of projects undertaken in the public arena, and working in partnership with a wide variety of organizations in both the private and non-profit sectors.

In the graduate sculpture program, students will develop a refined mastery of technical skills, with opportunities for exploration in a diverse range of materials. Along with the development of sophisticated skills in construction and form-building, students will gain increasing sophistication in their handling of three-dimensional formal properties. Additionally, students will be challenged to explore the incorporation of time, site, and audience in the conceptualization of their creative work. Students in the program are exposed to a broad base of practical information, critical analysis, and creative discourse.

M.F.A. in Visual Communication

Herron's graduate program in visual communication design emphasizes applied research in design thinking and design methods. The program advances mastery (and the invention, development and refinement) of design research methods as a path for any and all of the following outcomes:

1. to prepare professional designers for valuable (and valued) roles as collaborative leaders of creative problem-solving in organizations, institutions and communities;
2. to advance excellence in the processes and practices of designing as a set of professional activities;
3. to prepare design leaders for evolving (and challenging) roles as design mentors and educators to future generations; and
4. to expand the disciplinary knowledge of designing through scholarship

Research activities in the program are interdisciplinary in nature and focus inquiry in the following areas:

1. Designing as a set of creative problem solving processes including identifying patterns & framing insights, exploring ideas and conceiving plans, prototyping & optimizing proposals, and implementing solutions.

2. Designing as a set of innovation creation processes including breaking patterns (inventing) and optimizing patterns (improving).
3. Designing as a set of human-centered understanding processes including modeling experiences, advocating empathy, untangling complexity, and visualizing relationships.

All research occurs within a defined territory that investigates, defines and advances the role of design thinking and design action for driving business innovation, stewarding organizational leadership, shaping public policy and enhancing direct democracy.

In the first year, students focus on the mastery of design research methodologies with particular emphasis on understanding audiences and contexts. Students conduct primary research using advanced design research methods. Students apply user-centered research findings by participating in real-world community-based projects. All students engage in the design process using a creative problem-solving framework that requires collaborative and cross-disciplinary approaches.

In the second year, students focus on the mastery of design leadership skills for managing processes for change and innovation to improve the experiences of businesses, institutions, organizations, communities and individuals. Students define, develop and defend an applied action research thesis project to serve as a case study demonstration of the power of design to clarify, humanize and energize the issues that are central to life in a pluralistic society.

The interdisciplinary, collaborative nature of the program requires students to participate in the program as a cohort of colleagues. Thus, the majority of the work in the program is performed within a shared learning community that requires students to be present throughout the graduate residency experience.

The program of study is 60 credit hours distributed equally across four semesters. Fifteen credit hours of course work each semester will be coordinated and co-requisite. The M.F.A. graduate program in Visual Communication requires full-time study within an academic residency.

Admission

Admission into the Visual Communication graduate program is competitive. The Department of Visual Communication seeks graduate candidates who have strong skills for thinking critically about complex issues and working collaboratively in teams that represent a diversity of perspectives.

Applicants ordinarily will be expected to hold baccalaureate degrees from colleges or universities of recognized standing prior to registration as graduate students. Applicants for a master's degree program should have achieved a 3.0 (out of 4.0) grade point average or higher for the baccalaureate degree, or have other indicators of outstanding academic performance.

Students entering the M.F.A. degree program in Visual Communication Design are not required to have an established background in design or art. The Visual Communication Design program at Herron encourages cross-disciplinary research approaches and experiences. However, applicants who do not have a prior educational background in design or professional design experience may be required to successfully complete foundational pre-graduate studies in design before being accepted to initiate the M.F.A. curriculum.

One or two semesters of foundational Pre-Graduate pre-graduate studies may be required before full admission into the M.F.A. program in Visual Communication Design. Foundational Pre-Graduate courses in design may be offered for graduate credit but the credit hours do not apply to completing the 60-credit hour requirements in the M.F.A. degree. Decisions regarding admission into the Foundational Pre-Graduate program are made on an individual basis.

Financial Assistance and Fellowships

Plan of Study

First Year - 30 credits

- Focus on design research for innovation (with particular emphasis on understanding users & contexts)
- Focus on design analysis for innovation (with particular emphasis on identifying patterns & framing insights)
- Focus on design synthesis for innovation (with particular emphasis on exploring ideas and conceiving plans)
- Focus on design optimization for innovation (with particular emphasis on prototyping & creating solutions)

Second Year - 30 credits

- Focus on design leadership as agent for transformation
- Transitioning from graduate school to new professional contexts
- Focus on design thesis formulating the research problem / opportunity

Thesis

To complete the degree, students are required to define, develop, and defend a written thesis and companion capstone project. A master thesis is a document authored by a student that describes results of original research undertaken by that student and asserts a position that is defensible in an academic context.

This position should not be construed to prohibit joint or collaborative research endeavors. It is expected, however, that in such a situation, unique aspects of the broad problem will be explored by each individual and that the thesis written and presented to the final examining committee will be a personal document describing the student's creative effort and contribution.

Students should speak with their advisor early in their graduate careers when considering a collaborative thesis project. An downloadable version of the Guide to Preparation of Theses and Dissertations is available by visiting http://www.iupui.edu/~gradoff/students/IU\_Format\_Guide2008.doc.

Graduate Programs

The Herron School of Art and Design educates students seeking professional careers in the fine arts, visual communication, art history, and art education.

Undergraduate degrees currently offered are the

- Bachelor of Fine Arts (B.F.A.)
- Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) in Art History
- Bachelor of Art Education (B.A.E.)

Graduate degrees currently offered are the

- Master of Art Education (MAE)
- Master of Arts in Art Therapy (MA)
- Master of Fine Art in Visual Art and Public Life (MFA)
- Master of Fine Art in Visual Communication (MFA)

Last updated: March 2012

Student Learning Outcomes

Students will achieve the objectives set for the following graduate degrees:

- Master of Art Education (M.A.Ed.)
- Master of Fine Arts (M.F.A.) in Visual Arts and Public Life
- Master of Fine Arts (M.F.A.) in Visual Communication

Master of Art Education (M.A.Ed.)

Upon completion of the Masters of Art Education students will:

1. Develop a comprehensive, critical understanding of the field of art education by investigating the ways in which art education has evolved and continues to change in response to cultural, economic, social, political, and technological conditions.
2. Examine and explore critical approaches to new media and directions in contemporary art practices, understanding innovative methodologies of professional artists in order to develop new approaches to elementary and secondary art instruction.
3. Understand the importance and roles of diverse learning environments appreciating both formal and informal art learning sites and studio environments in order to construct learning spaces that promote creative production, social learning and collaboration, as well as incorporate multiple contexts including museums, galleries, homes, and other pertinent public sites.
4. Develop in-depth conceptually based curricula with an understanding of local and global communities, and of the benefits and challenges of promoting democratic values in our culturally diverse society.

5. Demonstrate the ability to cultivate critical and creative thinking skills in others and to assert art's role in fostering multi-cultural, intercultural, and interdisciplinary understandings.
6. Demonstrate breadth of knowledge and skills in art history emphasizing contemporary art forms and visual culture, in analytical methods and theories of criticism, and in contending philosophies of art, and understand the foundational relationship of these components to authentic studio practice; and make these accessible and meaningful to P-12 learners.
7. Develop leadership roles and become an active participant in peer seminars, classroom tutorials, presentations, and reflective processes.
8. Understand, articulate, and continue to nurture the roles of Artist/Teacher/Researcher in their own professional practice and demonstrate increased breadth and depth of competence in studio skills, knowledge, and application.
9. Conduct professional research that demonstrates advanced levels of analysis, insight, design, and methods appropriate for art education settings and audiences. Utilize relevant applications for such research and professional publications.
10. Demonstrate reflective, critical thought, and scholarship as well as a commitment to ongoing professional development, and; contribute to the growth of the profession through disseminating scholarly activity as artist/teacher/researcher at local, state and national professional venues.

Master of Fine Arts (M.F.A.) in Visual Art and Public Life

Upon graduation from the Master of Arts in Visual Art and Public Life degree program, students will:

1. Be able to analyze and explain in writing and speech the meaning and effectiveness of works of art including their formal, thematic, theoretical, social, cultural, cognitive, and technological aspects.
2. Be able to conduct original creative research by controlling the formal, thematic, theoretical, social, cultural, cognitive, and technological aspects of works of visual art the student makes.
3. Be able to conduct original creative research that results in a cohesive group of art works produced at a professional level of quality in terms of formal, technical, and thematic consistency.
4. Have acquired knowledge of the professional factors, including the ethical responsibilities, of developing artworks in university and community-based collaborations.
5. Be able to critically analyze and communicate the analysis of works of visual art as an intellectual and experimental practice that is rooted in a specific time and place.
6. Have acquired knowledge of how to maintain a creative studio practice in a professional context, from making work to its presentation, installation, marketing, and critical analysis.
7. Be able to research, plan, design, fabricate, and complete their own art works (alone and in collaboration with others) utilizing a variety of technical processes in a variety of public and private settings for a variety of aesthetic and intellectual purposes.

Master of Fine Arts (M.F.A.) in Visual Communication

Upon graduation from the Master of Arts in Visual Communications, students will demonstrate the ability to:

1. Identify, comprehend, and analyze multiple diverse theoretical perspectives that designing is a set of human-centered understanding processes including modeling experiences, advocating empathy for users, and visualizing relationships to untangle complexity and generate shared perspectives of issues in situations.
2. Identify, comprehend, and analyze multiple diverse theoretical perspectives that designing must respond to the audiences and contexts which design solutions must address, including recognition of the physical, cognitive, cultural, and social human factors that shape design decisions.
3. Identify, comprehend, and apply specific synthetic methodologies to yield specific types of data sets to support various phases of a people-centered design process including design research, design analysis, design synthesis and design evaluation.
4. Evaluate the appropriateness of the selection and application of specific synthetic methodologies within a specific design context by analyzing the relevance of research outcomes.
5. Identify, comprehend, and apply design processes & design process skills for interdisciplinary collaborative action research by identifying patterns & framing insights, exploring ideas and conceiving plans, prototyping & optimizing proposals, and implementing solutions.
6. Analyze, synthesize, and evaluate design processes & design process skill for interdisciplinary collaborative action research by facilitating, coaching and mentoring others to apply processes and process skills while reflecting in action.
7. Comprehend and apply scholarly research processes including the performance of literature reviews, interviewing, fieldwork and reporting.
8. Analyze, synthesize, and critically evaluate published work and source materials, through thesis research, practice and writing, with an appreciation of the relationship of the thesis theme to the wider field of knowledge.
9. Synthesize, through the thesis paper and design project, a distinct contribution to a body of knowledge through an original investigation or testing of ideas, worthy in part of publication.

Non-Majors

Elective Courses

An important component of the Herron School of Art and Design is the Elective Arts Program. As part of our mission to provide an educational experience in the visual arts for the university and community, Herron offers a wide range of studio courses in this program.

Elective Arts serves a varied constituency; the basic objective is to provide a studio experience to students who do not wish to pursue a degree in visual arts. These courses also provide a setting for students to be introduced to the visual arts before beginning their study at Herron or to fulfill requirements for other degree programs. Beginning level classes in two-dimensional and three-dimensional media are offered each semester to fulfill this mission.

Generally, the courses have either no prerequisites or modest prerequisite requirements. Students can develop an appreciation for the visual arts through drawing, painting, photography, or ceramics. Enrollment in any of these elective courses does not in itself constitute admission to any of the Herron School of Art degree programs.

Whether for personal enrichment or as a required component of a major outside of Herron, Elective Arts students develop artistic skills and gain a keen understanding of aesthetics through their own artwork. For complete information, including detailed course listings and admissions procedures, please contact the Herron Student Services Office at (317) 278-9400.

Community Learning

Saturday School - Fall, Spring

Herron's Saturday School, established in 1922, provides quality art instruction to youth ages 7-17 and adults seeking to learn artistic techniques, improve art skills, try new art forms, and build a portfolio of work. Classes take place during 10-week semesters and are held at Herron's Eskenazi Hall and at Herron's Sculpture and Ceramics building. Class offerings include drawing, painting, illustration, sculpture, ceramics, photography, printmaking, computer imagery, and elementary art.

Instructors are capable junior and senior Herron students and alumni working under supervision of Community Learning/Art Education. The combination of quality instruction and an art school environment encourages exceptional development of creative skills. Partial scholarships are available through local high school teachers. For more information, contact (317) 278-9404, sschool@iupui.edu, or visit www.herron.iupui.edu/community/classes.

Tuesday Night Classes - Fall, Spring, Summer

Tuesday Night Classes, started in 2008, are 10-week, non-credit art classes that meet on Tuesday evenings at Herron's Eskenazi Hall. Classes target adult students with offerings ranging from oil painting to drawing from life. In the summer, a new offering includes Tuesday Night for Teens. Class sizes are limited. For more information, contact (317) 278-9404, or visit www.herron.iupui.edu/community/classes.

Honors Art Program - Summer

Herron's Honors Art is a rigorous, 2-week summer program of instruction for high school juniors, seniors, and recent graduates who want to build their artmaking skills and portfolio, plus receive guidance in planning an education in art. Each summer, two sessions of Honor Art are held at Herron's Eskenazi Hall. Lessons in drawing, painting, design, printmaking, and theory - equivalent to those given to first-year Herron students - are carefully designed to build basic studio skills.

In addition, a series of planned field trips provides meaningful exposure to Indianapolis' cultural sites. Moderate class sizes lead to quality instruction provided by Herron faculty members, alumni, and graduate students. To qualify for Honors Art, a student must have completed the sophomore year of high school and write a short statement. For more information, contact (317) 278-9404, or visit www.herron.iupui.edu/community/classes.

Weekend Workshops - Fall

Herron's Weekend Workshops provide an intensive, two-weekend course of study for high school students and adults to sharpen skills in drawing from life or strengthen their portfolio for admission to art school and for applying for art school scholarships. Workshops are held at Herron's Eskenazi Hall. For more information, contact (317) 278-9404 or visit www.herron.iupui.edu/community/classes.

Youth Art Camp - Summer

Launched in 2002, Herron's Youth Art Camp is a weekly summer day camp for youth ages 5 to 16 held at Herron's Eskenazi Hall. Participants actively engage in a productive series of studio art activities geared toward personal and artistic development. Instructors instill the value of art as a means of personal and cultural expression, communication, and problem solving. Each week of Youth Art Camp culminates with an art exhibition where families, friends, and teachers are invited to view work created at art camp. Tuition waivers are available for those in need of financial assistance. For more information, contact (317) 278-9404 or visit www.herron.iupui.edu/community/classes.

Continuing Education

Noncredit adult education courses at IUPUI are open to adults regardless of age or educational background. These courses are intended for persons who, for personal or professional enrichment purposes, want to expand their knowledge.

Formal admission to the university is not required for enrollment in the continuing education programs. For complete information, please call the IUPUI Division of Continuing Studies, Noncredit Programs, (317) 274-4501.

Undergraduate Policies

Attendance

The work of the school is intensive; therefore, prompt and regular attendance is required. If at any time a student has a legitimate reason for not attending class, immediate notification should be made to the instructor and the faculty secretary. Attendance requirements are set by individual instructors. Students should stay informed of these requirements and are held responsible for fulfilling them.

Dean's List

Degree-seeking students in good standing who have a GPA of 3.50 or higher with a course load of 12 or more credit hours for a given semester will be placed on the Dean's List for that semester. Students carrying 12 credit hours and a grade of Incomplete in one or more classes will not be placed on the Dean's List. Students carrying 12 credit hours and taking a course as Pass/Fail will not qualify for the Dean's List.

Technical Standards Policy

Herron School of Art & Design applicants and enrolled students must be able to fulfill the requirements and demands of the courses for the degree program they have chosen. Reasonable accommodations will be made for students who are registered with IUPUI Adaptive Educational Services.

Academic Probation

Students in the Herron School of Art and Design are expected to maintain a cumulative GPA of at least a 2.0. If they do not, the Dean will give them formal written notice of probation. Students will be placed on academic probation for the academic session following the one in which they failed to attain the 2.0 cumulative GPA. They will also be placed on academic checklist, which will prohibit them from registering for future semesters until they meet with a student services representative.

Academic Dismissal

A student in the Herron School of Art and Design may be dismissed from the school when, in the judgment of the faculty, the student has ceased to make satisfactory progress toward a degree. When an undergraduate student fails to attain a C (2.0) cumulative GPA in any two academic semesters, the student is automatically considered to be making unsatisfactory progress toward a degree and is therefore eligible for dismissal.

The student will be informed in writing by the Dean of the school. The student will be withdrawn from any courses in which he or she is currently enrolled and will be placed on academic checklist, which will prevent registration for future semesters. Any student who has been dismissed under these provisions may be readmitted only after one year has passed.

Petition for Readmission

Students who have been dismissed may appeal in writing to the Herron Student Affairs Committee. The committee may readmit the student if it decides that evidence of changed circumstances indicates the probability of improved academic performance. Each petition is considered individually, and a decision is based on the student's academic history and personal circumstances. Petitions are due to Herron Student Services Office by October 15 for spring admission and April 15 for fall admission.

Students readmitted through this appeal process must earn a minimum cumulative semester GPA of 2.3 or above for the returning semester. Readmitted students failing to achieve the cumulative 2.3 GPA are permanently dismissed from the Herron School of Art and Design.

Academic Forgiveness

The Herron School of Art and Design academic forgiveness policy applies to former IUPUI students pursuing a first undergraduate degree who have been away from IUPUI and have not attended any other college or university, including any campus of IU, for at least three years. Only students who meet the three-year requirement, and have a GPA not greater than 2.0 will be considered for the forgiveness policy.

If the student's petition is approved, all previously taken courses will remain on the permanent record but will not count toward the student's GPA. Only course credits with grades of A through C+, P, and S will count toward degree completion but again will not count towards the student's GPA. If a student's petition for forgiveness is approved, the student enters Herron with a recalculated cumulative GPA of 0.0, after which all the rules of academic probation and dismissal for Herron School of Art and Design will apply. After approval, the student must complete a minimum of 32 credit hours at IUPUI.

All eligible students will be admitted under the Herron School of Art and Design curriculum in place at the time of admittance. If the petition is approved, the Herron Student Affairs committee has the authority to impose stipulations or conditions upon the enrollment of the student. Herron School of Art and Design reserves the right to deny the acceptance of credits from obsolete courses when the student has been away from Herron for three or more years. Forgiveness may be invoked only once.

Pass/Fail Option

The Pass/Fail option is available to Herron undergraduate students in good standing for a maximum of 12 credit hours of academic elective study within the total degree requirements. This option may not be used for studio courses or the required freshman English courses, and it is limited to two courses per year, including summer instruction. Under the Pass/Fail option, a grade of P (Pass) will not be used in computing the GPA, but an F grade will be so used. A grade of P will not be subsequently changed to an A, B, C, or D.

Students electing to take the Pass/Fail option in an elective course must complete the required form in the Herron Student Services Office before the deadline published each semester in the IUPUI Schedule of Classes.

Graduation

Students expecting to complete a course of study leading to the degree of Bachelor of Fine Arts, Bachelor of Art Education, Bachelor of Arts, Master of Fine Art, or Master of Art Education must be in good standing and file an application with the Herron Student Services Office by October 15 during the academic year in which they wish to graduate, which includes graduates of December, May, June, and August. After they file this application, their records will be reviewed, and they will be notified of graduation status by the end of the fall semester.

General Requirements for a Baccalaureate Degree

- Complete the minimum credit hours as required by degree program.
- Achieve a minimum overall GPA of 2.0.
- Achieve a minimum Herron studio GPA of 2.0.
- Be in residence at Herron for at least two semesters, and complete, while at Herron, at least 24 credit hours of studio work at the 300 level or higher.

Requirements for a Second Degree

Holders of bachelor's degrees who have additional academic objectives may, if admitted by the Herron School of Art and Design, pursue a second bachelor's degree. The student must earn a minimum of 24 additional credit hours in residence and meet the requirements of the Herron School of Art and Design and of the program in which they are enrolled.

Faculty

The Herron School of Art and Design faculty is made up of artists, designers, and scholars engaged in the integrated activities of teaching and research. Faculty in the school believe a high level of professional activity not only enhances teaching, but also provides students with models upon which to pattern their own careers.

The faculty is consistently recognized with awards, commissions, exhibitions, and publications, both regionally and nationally. The expertise of the Herron faculty is further extended by a program of visiting artists and lecturers from the Indianapolis community and beyond.
