Overview

History

Music instruction at Indiana University dates from the year 1893, but it was not until 1910 that a Department of Music offering music for credit was officially organized, with Charles D. Campbell as head. In 1919 Barzille Winfred Merrill was appointed head of the department and, in 1921, dean of the newly established School of Music. He was succeeded in 1938 by Dean Robert L. Sanders. In 1947 the appointment of Wilfred C. Bain as dean marked the beginning of a period of rapid growth and expansion. Under the 24-year leadership of Dean Charles H. Webb beginning in 1973, the School of Music continued its development and commitment to excellence. David G. Woods was appointed to the deanship in 1997, followed by the appointment of Dean Gwyn Richards in 2001. In the fall of 2005, the School of Music was named the Indiana University Jacobs School of Music in recognition of a major gift received in honor of Barbara and David H. Jacobs of Cleveland. Today the Jacobs School of Music is recognized as one of the leading institutions of its kind.

Purpose

The mission of the Indiana University Jacobs School of Music is to provide distinguished instruction and outstanding opportunities for performance, composition, research, and teacher training for music majors and non-music majors. These opportunities are designed to meet the following purposes within the framework of Indiana University:

1. To prepare students for careers as performers, composers, scholars, teachers, church musicians, and music administrators in higher education, precollege educational settings, the professional music world, the private sector, and supporting fields.
2. To provide music majors and non-music majors the opportunity to develop their knowledge, understanding, and ability in all aspects of music at a level appropriate to their needs and interests.
3. To broaden and deepen the knowledge and understanding of all aspects of music through research and publication.
4. To enrich the lives of students, faculty, community, the state, the nation, and the world with performances of a wide variety of music. The excellence, authenticity, and originality of these performances also serve as models for future performances by students and as criteria for future listening experiences.

Outreach and Research Units

The Center for Electronic and Computer Music was established in 1966 by Iannis Xenakis as a mirror to the Centre for Automated and Mathematical Music in Paris. Created for the purposes of theoretical training, electronic and multimedia composition, and the dissemination of works through public concerts, CECM today houses two studios which employ the most current technologies in digital sound synthesis and sampling, interactive music programming and performance, MIDI, digital recording and editing, video, and research-level computing. The curriculum provides an extensive technical training and historical background for composition students with little or no previous technical experience. More advanced students may enroll to use the studio facilities for the production of compositions and multimedia works, as well as for research.

Established in 1998, the Center for the History of Music Theory and Literature provides a home for such international projects as the Thesaurus musicarum latinarum (TML; an eight-million-word searchable archive of Latin music theory ranging from the time of Augustine through the early seventeenth century); TML's three sister projects Traité français sur la musique, Saggi musicali italiani, and Texts on Music in English from the Medieval and Early Modern Eras (music treatises in French, Italian and English); and the annotated bibliography on Musical Borrowing. Other projects are currently under development. Information at www.chmtl.indiana.edu.

The Historical Performance Institute is a center for research and creative activity of international significance related to the performance practice of medieval, renaissance, baroque, and classical music, as well as a teaching department of the Jacobs School of Music. The Institute publishes new research in historical performance through a monograph series of the Indiana University Press, and it releases numerous recordings through Focus Records (IU Music). The HPI additionally maintains the Thomas Binkley Archive of Early Music Sound Recordings, as well as extensive holdings of period instruments.

The Latin American Music Center fosters the research and performance of Latin American art music and promotes professional and academic exchange between musicians and scholars from the United States and Latin America. The center's activities include concerts, commissions, premiere performances and recordings, courses in Latin American music history, visits by distinguished performing artists and lecturers, festivals, and seminars. The Latin American Music Center makes available to scholars, performers, and institutions the most complete library of Latin American art music in the world.

The Office of Pre-College and Summer Programs administers all aspects of workshops, masterclasses, conferences, and special programs for the Jacobs School of Music. In addition, the office runs the ongoing pre-college program and the summer residential pre-college academies.

The William and Gayle Cook Music Library spans four floors of the Beth Meshulam Simon Music Library and Recital Center. With approximately 700,000 cataloged items, it is recognized as one of the largest music libraries in the United States. The Music Library's primary collection of printed research materials includes more than 580,000 cataloged items. The strengths of the collection include: extensive holdings of printed music from all periods of music history, with a special emphasis on opera; theory treatises from the Renaissance to the late nineteenth century; Russian/Soviet music, Central and Eastern Europe during the Cold War; early keyboard and violin primary source materials (the Willi Apel collections); Black and Latin American music collections; and historical monuments and composers' collected works. In addition, the performing ensembles collection contains scores and parts for large ensembles, including virtually all of the standard orchestral and choral repertoire in support of the Jacobs School of Music's several choirs and orchestras. The Music Library also provides access to a number of electronic resources as detailed on its website. The ongoing Variations project has digitized more than 30,000 sound recordings and scores. Of the 120 public computers (Windows and Macintosh) in the library, more than half have MIDI keyboards, all with associated music software. Further information is available at <http://libraries.iub.edu/music>.

Organizations and Services

The Office of Entrepreneurship and Career Development (OECD) provides expert guidance and resources, as well as a wide variety of events designed to empower Jacobs School of Music students as they prepare for a career in music and dance. The OECD provides workshops on key skill sets such as resumé and cover letter writing, website development, video editing, photography, health and wellbeing. Project Jumpstart offers high-impact programming that includes career development and entrepreneurship workshops, professional development programs, self-promotion and publicity, and networking events. More information can be found at <http://music.indiana.edu/oecd>.

The Society of the Friends of Music of Indiana University is an organization of people of wide-ranging occupations who support the excellence of the Jacobs School of Music through scholarships and other activities.

The Music Alumni Association, an affiliate of the Indiana University Alumni Association, supports the activities of the Jacobs School of Music and its graduates. For more information, see <http://music.indiana.edu/alumni/>.

A number of honorary and professional music organizations maintain chapters at Indiana University.

The Student's Responsibility

Specific and up-to-date information on Jacobs School of Music procedures is available from the music undergraduate and graduate offices or other appropriate offices of the school. Current regulations and procedures appear in the "Regulations and Procedures" section of this bulletin. See also <http://music.indiana.edu>.

Students have a threefold responsibility:

1. to know and satisfy the graduation requirements stated in the Jacobs School of Music Bulletin;

2. to know their academic standing based on the academic standards stated in the Jacobs School of Music Bulletin; and
3. to know and observe all regulations and academic calendar deadlines as stated on the registrar's website at <http://www.registrar.indiana.edu>, in the Jacobs School of Music Bulletin, and in the student handbooks. Faculty and staff advisors assist students in planning a program of study to meet degree requirements, but students are responsible for meeting all requirements for their respective degrees and all announced deadlines.

Undergraduate Division

Admission Requirements

Students seeking admission to the Indiana University Jacobs School of Music must apply online and meet both general university requirements and specific Jacobs School of Music requirements as outlined below. For admission information and priority application dates see the following website: <http://music.indiana.edu/admissions>.

Indiana University-Bloomington Requirements for Incoming Freshmen

The standards listed below represent the minimum levels of preparation and achievement necessary to be considered for admission. Most admitted students exceed these minimum levels. Each application is reviewed individually. When making admission decisions, the university is primarily concerned with the breadth and depth of the college-preparatory program including the student's cumulative grade point average, SAT/ACT scores, academic curriculum and the grades received in those academic courses, grade trends in college-preparatory subjects, class rank, and other additional factors.

High School Graduation

Applicants must earn a high school diploma from an accredited secondary school. Applicants holding a General Equivalency Diploma should submit the GED score. Credentials from homeschooling or from a non-accredited high school are assessed individually.

Academic Preparation

Applicants should complete at least 34 credits (or semesters) of college-preparatory courses, advanced placement courses, and/or college courses in high school, including:

- 8 credits (semesters) of English, such as literature, grammar, composition, and journalism
- 7 credits (semesters) of mathematics, including 4 credits of algebra and 2 credits of geometry (or an equivalent 6 credits of integrated algebra and geometry), and 1 credit of pre-calculus, trigonometry, or calculus
- 6 credits (semesters) of social sciences, including 2 credits of U.S. history, 2 credits of world history/civilization/geography, and 2 additional credits in government, economics, sociology, history, or similar topics
- 6 credits (semesters) of sciences, including at least 4 credits of laboratory sciences - biology, chemistry, or physics
- 4 credits (semesters) of world languages
- 3 or more credits (semesters) of additional college-preparatory courses. Additional mathematics credits are recommended for students intending to pursue a science degree and additional world language credits are recommended for all students.

Alternative college-preparatory courses may be substituted for courses that are not available in the applicant's high school.

Tests

IU Bloomington requires scores from the SAT and/or the ACT and considers only official test scores sent directly from the testing agencies. It is important to submit all test scores to IU because the highest scores will be considered.

Applicants who are at least twenty-one years old or have been out of high school for three or more years may be considered for admission without standardized SAT and/or ACT test scores.

Information

For additional information, contact the Office of Admissions, Indiana University, Bloomington, IN 47405; (812) 855-0661; iuadmit@indiana.edu.

International Students

To be admitted, international students must complete above-average work in their supporting programs. Applicants whose native language is not English must submit the results of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). A minimum score of 560 (paper-based) or 84 (Internet-based) is necessary for regular admission to a degree program. International students are required to take the Indiana University English Proficiency Examination and must register for any supplemental English courses prescribed based on the results of this examination or, if necessary, enroll in the intensive English language program.

For additional information, contact the Office of International Services, Indiana University, Poplars 221, 400 E. Seventh Street, Bloomington, IN 47405; newtoiu@indiana.edu; (812) 855-9086; <http://ois.iu.edu/admissions/index.shtml>.

Jacobs School of Music Requirements for Incoming Freshmen

In addition to the general requirements for admission to the university, students must successfully complete an audition or interview in their major proposed area of study. Auditions and interviews are scheduled during designated weekends throughout the academic year and are heard by a committee of department faculty members appointed by the chairperson of the department. This committee evaluates the student's performance level or other qualifications and makes a recommendation to the Jacobs School of Music Admissions and Recruitment Committee. The Admissions and Recruitment Committee determines whether the student can be admitted to a specific program by considering the student's past record, interviews (if applicable), and the audition/interview committee's recommendation. Students who do not matriculate within one year of the date of the letter offering admission must reapply and repeat the entrance audition. An audition/interview appointment request is made through the online application. In those areas that require pre-screening, applicants will be notified of whether or not they will be invited for an on-campus audition and/or interview.

While most Indiana University freshmen begin their studies in the University Division, students who qualify are certified directly to the Jacobs School of Music.

Indiana University-Bloomington Requirements for Transfer Students

Indiana University welcomes students who wish to transfer from other colleges or universities.

University requirements for transfer admission include:

1. A minimum cumulative GPA of 2.3 on a 4.0 scale (2.5 required for nonresidents of Indiana);
2. Transcripts from all colleges or universities attended.

Applicants who have completed fewer than 26 credit hours of transferable college coursework must also submit:

1. Official high school transcript, sent directly to the IU Office of Admissions.
2. SAT/ACT scores (If you are at least 21 years old or have been out of high school three or more years, you do not need to send SAT/ACT scores.).

Jacobs School of Music Requirements for Transfer Students

In addition to the general requirements for transfer admission to the university, students must audition in their major performing area for admission to a particular program in the Jacobs School of Music. (See Jacobs School of Music Requirements for Incoming Freshmen.)

Transfer students, especially those transferring for their junior and senior years, must be aware of the possibility that not all music credits will be accepted or counted toward degree requirements in the Jacobs School of Music, and that they may have to spend longer than the normally allotted time to complete their bachelor's degrees at Indiana University.

Undergraduate Financial Aid and Merit Scholarships

Need-based aid is offered to eligible applicants and their families through the University Office of Student Financial Assistance. Applicants are encouraged, but not required, to apply for need-based assistance. To do so, applicants must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) available at <http://www.fafsa.ed.gov/>. Please note that international students are not eligible for need-based financial aid.

Merit-based aid is offered to qualified applicants through the Office of Music Admissions and Financial Aid. Applicants are automatically considered for Jacobs School of Music financial aid at the time of admission. The director of admissions and financial aid, in consultation with individual departments, determines merit awards based on institutional need and recommendations from faculty. The audition/interview rating plays the strongest role in determining merit scholarships; however, other factors including an individual's academic profile and financial need are often considered. Jacobs School of Music financial aid policies can be found at <http://www.music.indiana.edu/admissions/tuition/2014UndergraduateFallScholarshipPolicies.pdf>.

Merit-based assistance is made possible at the Jacobs School of Music by generous donors. The Jacobs School of Music gratefully acknowledges all persons and institutions who support our students and faculty by providing endowed funds and annual gifts. For more information about endowed funds at the Jacobs School of Music, visit <http://music.indiana.edu/giving/>.

Returning Students

Undergraduate students who, after matriculation, do not register for classes for more than one calendar year must reapply and repeat an audition for readmission to the Jacobs School of Music.

Undergraduate Visiting Students

A limited number of undergraduate-level students with interest in the study of music may be admitted as visiting students, subject to the following:

1. Visiting students at the undergraduate level must audition for a faculty committee, be accepted by a particular faculty member for instruction, and be approved by the Admissions and Recruitment Committee of the Jacobs School of Music. Visiting students may be admitted for the summer term only if they have been accepted by an individual faculty member. Undergraduate visiting students accepted during the summer term who wish to continue study during the regular academic year must audition for a faculty committee.
2. Undergraduate visiting students must register for a minimum of 12 credit hours per semester (4 credit hours in the summer), which must include major ensemble courses. All courses other than performance study, ensembles, and chamber music require approval of the director of undergraduate studies.
3. Undergraduate visiting students may attend a maximum of two semesters during the academic year and four summer terms.
4. Undergraduate visiting students are not eligible for financial aid from the Jacobs School of Music during the fall and spring semesters.
5. Credits earned as an undergraduate visiting student may be applied toward a degree or diploma only with the permission of the director of undergraduate studies. Undergraduate visiting students wishing to change to degree or diploma status must complete the application process of the Jacobs School of Music and Indiana University.

Orientation

Upon admission to Indiana University Bloomington, students begin their orientation to this campus. The Office of First Year Experiences Program will contact admitted students and provide online orientation information.

Students admitted to the Jacobs School of Music will receive information about Music Fundamentals Online, a web-based course to be completed during the summer before their first enrollment. Successful completion of Music Fundamentals Online is deemed equivalent to completion of MUS-T109 Rudiments of Music I for purposes of degree requirements and prerequisites to other courses. See <http://tinyurl.com/d7vpgg3> for details.

Students who plan to enter Indiana University in the fall semester should attend the summer orientation and registration program or may participate in orientation and registration in August before the beginning of classes. At these times special attention is given to placement testing and group and individual advising. Welcome Week in August includes the Freshman Family Picnic; Freshman Induction Ceremony; the president's and vice president's receptions; and numerous academic activities, including sessions on learning in a large lecture, studying a foreign language, and learning study techniques. Opportunities to learn about getting involved in activities on campus, taking advantage of cultural events, and finding the locations of offices and classrooms also are a part of orientation. Additional opportunities to interact with faculty and to participate in special workshops and skill-building sessions are scheduled throughout the year. Students living in residence centers may participate in a variety of activities planned especially for the centers.

Advising

The Jacobs School of Music provides an academic advisor for all undergraduate students. Preregistration conferences are held in the middle of each semester for the following semester. Students currently enrolled should have programs planned at that time to speed the registration process. Students should also consult the undergraduate advisor at other times of the year for answers to specific questions or help with individual problems. Indiana University provides a computer-based curriculum map, planner, and degree audit system that outlines degree requirements and indicates those courses taken by the student that meet those requirements. This system is available online at all times to students via <https://one.iu.edu/> (search for "Student Center").

Although the Jacobs School of Music provides advising services, it is the student's responsibility to be acquainted with school rules and regulations and to meet the requirements for the degree as outlined in this bulletin. Any exceptions to the requirements stated in this bulletin must be approved in writing by the dean of the Jacobs School of Music or the director of undergraduate studies, with one copy for the student and one copy for the student's file.

Transfer Credit

Specific distribution of credit for non-music courses taken at other institutions is determined by the Indiana University Office of Admissions. For more information and IUB credit transfer policies see <http://cts.admissions.indiana.edu/index.cfm>. All credits in music from an institution other than Indiana University are subject to placement and evaluation in the Jacobs School of Music and must be validated upon entrance by examination or audition. Examinations in music theory are given each fall and spring semester before classes begin. For the exam schedule, see <http://music.indiana.edu/departments/academic/music-theory/exams/v-e-schedule.shtml>.

General Requirements for Bachelor's Degrees

1. The candidate must complete all courses and all proficiency examinations specified in the candidate's curriculum.
2. The candidate must earn at least 120 credit hours, not including major ensemble (see Major Ensembles under "Courses" in this bulletin) or I400.
3. The candidate (except B.M.E. candidates) must achieve a minimum cumulative grade point average of 2.0 in all courses, music and non-music. B.M.E. candidates must achieve a minimum cumulative GPA of 2.5 in all courses.

Residence

No candidate will be recommended for the bachelor's degree who has been in residence less than 36 weeks and who has earned fewer than 30 hours of credit in residence. Students carrying less than a normal load receive residence in proportion to the number of credit hours carried, at the rate of six weeks of residence for each 5 credit hours completed. At least 26 credit hours of the work as a senior must be completed in residence on the Bloomington campus of Indiana University.

Time Limit

Work for a bachelor's degree must be completed within seven years from the time the student first registers in the Jacobs School of Music. A student who fails to comply with this requirement must pass comprehensive examinations in all music subjects and meet current requirements for the degree. Should degree work be interrupted because of military service, the time thus spent is not counted as part of the time limitation.

Work for the Bachelor of Music degree and the Bachelor of Science in Music and an Outside Field degree can be completed in eight semesters if the student takes an average of 16 to 18 credits per semester. Work for the Bachelor of Music Education degree can be completed in eight semesters if the student takes an average of 19 credit hours per semester. Students entering with deficiencies in music theory or performance or on academic probation should not expect to complete their degrees in eight semesters.

Keyboard Proficiency

All music bachelor's students (except ballet and recording arts) must pass a keyboard proficiency examination or its equivalent. The proficiency examination tests ability to use the keyboard or equivalent instrument as a tool within the framework of individual professional activities; thus, the requirements vary in emphasis according to the area of major study. Students must follow the keyboard sequence and proficiency exam requirements described under each bachelor's degree. Information regarding specific keyboard proficiency requirements for each major is available in the music undergraduate office and at <http://music.indiana.edu/departments/academic/piano/secondary-piano/>.

Requirements for a Second Bachelor's Degree

The holder of a bachelor's degree who wishes to pursue a further educational goal is usually encouraged to become qualified for admission to a graduate degree program. In certain cases, however, the Jacobs School of Music may admit a bachelor's degree holder to candidacy for a second bachelor's degree. When such admission is granted, the candidate must earn at least 26 additional credits in residence and meet all requirements for the second degree.

Honors Program

The Jacobs School of Music makes a special effort to offer outstanding students opportunities appropriate to their abilities and interests. In addition to special courses, seminars, ensembles, and honors discussion sections, the Jacobs School of Music offers a formal program leading to the B.M., B.M.E., or B.S. degree with honors. Students who have completed 86 credit hours, including at least 30 from Indiana University, with a grade point average of 3.5; who have completed or are currently enrolled in T232 Musical Skills III, T252 or T262 Music Theory and Literature IV, and M401 History and Literature of Music I or M402 History and Literature of Music II; and who have successfully completed their upper-division examination, should apply for admission to the program the following year.

To graduate with honors, students must:

1. complete all degree requirements with a minimum grade point average of 3.5; and
2. complete N399 Honors Seminar in Music and N499 Honors Project in Music with a grade of B or higher.

Graduation with Distinction

The Jacobs School of Music recognizes outstanding academic achievement by awarding bachelor's degrees with three levels of distinction: distinction, high distinction, and highest distinction. At each graduation, graduating seniors in each of the three bachelor's degrees are selected for distinction, based on their cumulative grade point averages:

- In each of the three separate degrees, highest distinction for averages of 4.00
- In the B.M. degree, high distinction for averages between 3.95-3.99 and distinction for averages between 3.90-3.94
- In the B.M.E. degree, high distinction for averages between 3.85-3.99 and distinction for averages between 3.75-3.84
- In the B.S. degree, high distinction for averages between 3.90-3.99 and distinction for averages between 3.85-3.89

Application for Graduation

Candidates must file an Application for Graduation (<http://www.music.indiana.edu/degrees/undergraduate/graduation/application.shtml>) no later than the third week of the semester in which they expect to graduate. A student who does not complete degree requirements for the graduation date for which application was made must file another Application for Graduation for a later date.

Curricula for Bachelor's Degrees in Music

The Jacobs School of Music offers three undergraduate bachelor's degree programs: the Bachelor of Music degrees in performance, composition, early music, and jazz studies; the Bachelor of Science degrees in ballet, recording arts, and music and an outside field; and the Bachelor of Music Education degrees in choral teaching, general music teaching, instrumental teaching—band, and instrumental teaching—strings. Detailed definitions for these music education tracks appear under listings for the individual curricula.

A minimum of 120 credit hours, excluding major ensemble and I400, is required for all music undergraduate degrees. Total credit hours for some degrees may be higher because of specific requirements.

Individual degree maps can be found at <https://one.iu.edu/> (search for "Degree Maps").

General Education Requirements

All undergraduate students at IU Bloomington must complete the IU Bloomington campus-wide general education common ground requirements. To view these requirements visit IU Bloomington General Education Requirements (<http://bulletins.iu.edu/iub/general-education/2015-2016/requirements/index.shtml>).

Individual degree exceptions are noted in the listings for the individual curricula.

Students who plan to transfer from Indiana University Bloomington to another IU campus or Indiana state institution of higher education may find it advantageous to complete the Indiana Statewide Transfer General Education Core (STGEC) prior to transferring. For details about the STGEC, see the IU Bloomington General Education website (<http://gened.indiana.edu/Students/STGEC.html>). For more information, please consult your academic advisor.

Bachelor of Music Degrees

Bachelor of Music in Composition

Applicants should submit:

- a portfolio of two to four scores, and
- a list of completed compositions, including date, instrumentation, duration, and any performances (recordings of performances are recommended).

Those invited to interview should be prepared for a brief ear-training examination. Admission to "Performance Study Option 1" requires a classical audition on an instrument or voice.

Major Ensemble

Each fall and spring semester. (2 cr.)

- Instrumental students, X40 University Instrumental Ensembles;
- Vocal students, X70 University Choral Ensembles;
- Keyboard students, X70 University Choral Ensembles or, with permission of the choral department, X2 Piano Accompanying

Composition Courses

37 credit hours

- K133 Notation and Calligraphy (1 cr.)
- K214 Instrumentation I (2 cr.)
- K215 Instrumentation II (2 cr.)

- K231 Free Counterpoint I (2 cr.)
- K232 Free Counterpoint II (2 cr.)
- K400 Composition Major (3-3-3-3-3-3-3 cr.)
- Upper-division examination
- K402 Senior Recital in Composition (0 cr.)
- K451 Advanced Orchestration I (2 cr.)
- K452 Advanced Orchestration II (2 cr.)
- I500 Performance and Composition Masterclass (to be taken concurrently with each semester of K400) (0 cr.)

Performance Study

Instrument or Voice: enrollment (2 cr.) on the same instrument or voice every fall and spring semester.

Option 1:

- Study at the 400 level
- Entrance audition
- Freshman jury
- Upper-division examination
- Eighth-semester jury

I500 Masterclass (0 cr.) may be required in connection with performance study (varies by studio).

Option 2:

- Study at the 100 level
- Entrance audition, upper-division examination, and eighth-semester jury not required

Secondary Piano and Keyboard Proficiency

All students must pass a keyboard proficiency examination. Students whose primary instrument is not piano, organ, or harpsichord must take an examination for placement in P111 Piano Class 1, Music Majors (2 cr.), P121 Piano Class 2, Music Majors (2 cr.), P131 Piano Class 3, Music Majors (2 cr.), P141 Piano Class 4, Music Majors (2 cr.), or P100 Piano Elective/Secondary (2 cr.) and continue study each semester until the keyboard proficiency examination is passed.

Secondary Performance for Keyboard Students

8 credit hours

Students must select one of the following:

- Study of a secondary instrument or instruments or voice in any combination for 4 semesters (2-2-2-2 cr.)
- K403 Electronic Studio Resources I (3 cr.), K404 Electronic Studio Resources II (3 cr.), and K406 Projects in Electronic Music (2 cr.)
- K403 Electronic Studio Resources I (3 cr.), K404 Electronic Studio Resources II (3 cr.), and one semester of study of a secondary instrument or voice (2 cr.)

Core Music Courses

27 credit hours

- Music Fundamentals Online or equivalent
- T132 Musical Skills I (1 cr.)
- T151 Music Theory and Literature I (3 cr.)
- T152 Music Theory and Literature II (3 cr.)
- T231 Musical Skills II (1 cr.)
- T232 Musical Skills III (1 cr.)

- T251 Music Theory and Literature III (3 cr.)
- T252 Music Theory and Literature IV (3 cr.)
- T331 Musical Skills IV (1 cr.)
- T351 Music Theory and Literature V (3 cr.)
- M401 History and Literature of Music I (4 cr.)
- M402 History and Literature of Music II (4 cr.)
- Or equivalent honors courses

A grade of C or higher is required in T132 Musical Skills I, T231 Musical Skills II, T232 Musical Skills III, and T331 Musical Skills IV.

Advanced Music Literature and Music Theory

3 credit hours selected from:

- M410 Composer or Genre (3 cr.)
- T410 Topics in Music Theory (3 cr.)
- T412 Advanced Aural and Keyboard Techniques (3 cr.)
- T416 Counterpoint: Variable Topics (3 cr.)
- T417 Analysis of Tonal Music (3 cr.)
- T418 Music and Ideas (3 cr.)

Other Music Courses

5 credit hours

Option 1 Performance Study students:

- Electives to be chosen from undergraduate courses for music majors. Secondary performance study allowed on an instrument/voice other than one's major. Secondary piano (P100) allowed only after completion of the keyboard proficiency.

Option 2 Performance Study students:

- K403 Electronic Studio Resources I (3 cr.) and K404 Electronic Studio Resources II (3 cr.) (If K403/K404 are chosen, both courses must be successfully completed for either to count.)

Or 2 techniques classes outside the student's main instrument family, chosen from:

- F261 String Class Techniques (2 cr.)
- F281 Brass Instrument Techniques (2 cr.) with corequisite F200 Music Education Instrumental Laboratory (1 cr.)
- F337 Woodwind Techniques (2 cr.) with corequisite F200 Music Education Instrumental Laboratory (1 cr.)
- F338 Percussion Techniques (2 cr.)

Remaining credit hour(s) chosen from courses for undergraduate music majors.

General Education

See General Education Common Ground requirements.

To Complete Degree

Free music or non-music electives as needed to bring the total credit hours to 120, excluding major ensemble and I400.

Undergraduate Certificate Programs

Credit certificate programs are offered in specialized areas in the Jacobs School of Music. They include 12-29 credit hours of course work. The targeted audience may be undergraduate music majors or non-majors at Indiana University or undergraduate students at other institutions.

Admission

See the Certificate Programs page of the Jacobs School of Music website (<http://music.indiana.edu/degrees/JSOMCertificates.shtml>) for detailed application information.

Grade Requirements

Successful completion of a certificate program for undergraduates requires a grade of C or higher in each course and an overall GPA of 2.5 or higher in certificate courses. Individual certificate programs may have stricter grade requirements. No transfer credit will be accepted for a certificate program.

Tuition and Fees

Students pay tuition for certificate courses depending on their residency status (resident or nonresident) at IU Bloomington. Non-music students enrolled only in certificate programs will not be charged the music program fee and will not be eligible for financial aid from the Jacobs

School of Music. Additional fees may be charged for specific courses.

Application for Completion

Students who wish to be awarded a certificate must complete an Application for Certificate Completion. For IU Bloomington students, certificate courses must be completed within the time limit for their degrees. All other students must complete the certificate courses within four calendar years. There is no residence requirement for certificate completion.

Available Credit Certificates

Certificate courses will ordinarily be offered following the regular academic calendar. Check the Schedule of Classes for availability. IU Bloomington students may use individual certificate courses in any appropriate way towards degree requirements as well as towards a certificate.

Certificate in Analog Audio Electronics

12 credits

- A111 Electronics I (3 cr.)
- A112 Electronics II (3 cr.)
- A211 Electronics III (3 cr.)
- A212 Electronics IV (3 cr.)

Nonmajors

The Jacobs School of Music offers a number of music courses, performance study options, and ensembles especially designed for students majoring in fields other than music. In addition, qualified nonmajors are welcome to participate in music major academic courses, performance courses, or ensembles on a space-available basis. Under certain conditions, credit for these courses is accepted toward degree requirements in other schools and departments. At the time of registration, proper approval must be secured from the chairperson of the student's major department or the dean of the school, as well as from the director of undergraduate studies in the Jacobs School of Music.

Minor for Students Whose Majors Are Outside the Jacobs School of Music

Applications for minors may be submitted online at <http://music.indiana.edu/degrees/undergraduate/minors/nonmajor.shtml> once the student's records have moved from University Division to a declared major in a school.

Information about the minor can be found at <http://music.indiana.edu/departments/academic/general-studies/>.

The minor must include at least 20 credit hours, of which at least 15, including a minimum of one core course, must be taken at the Jacobs School of Music. Any course in which the student receives a grade below C- may not be used to fulfill a requirement on this minor.

Core

6 credit hours

- Z101 Music for the Listener (3 cr.)
- Z111 Introduction to Music Theory (3 cr.)

T109 Rudiments of Music (3 cr.), T151 Music Theory and Literature (3 cr.), Z211 Music Theory II (3 cr.), or more advanced music theory courses may be substituted for students who qualify.

Ensemble/Live Performance

2-3 credit hours

- Ensemble [1-2 cr.]: X1 All-Campus Ensemble (1 cr.) or AAAD-A110 African American Choral Ensemble (2 cr.); or by audition, X30 Ballet Ensemble (2 cr.), X40 University Instrumental Ensembles (2 cr.), X50 Marching Hundred for Non-Music Majors (2 cr.), X60 Early Music Ensembles (2 cr.), X70 University Choral Ensembles (2 cr.), or AAAD-A120 Soul Revue (2 cr.)
- Z100 The Live Musical Performance (2 cr.)
- Z130 Musical Performance Contexts (3 cr.)
- Z161 Steel Drumming (2 cr.)
- Z162 Hand Drumming (2 cr.)

Music Electives

12 credit hours

Must be chosen from MUS-Z courses and may include no more than 3 credits of MUS-Z110 (elective performance study). Substitutions for courses with a Z prefix must be approved by both the director of music undergraduate studies and his/her counterpart in the student's home school. Music ensemble credits will not count toward the 12 credits of music electives. At least 9 of the 12 music electives credits must be at the 300 level or higher. For a full list of music electives, see <http://www.music.indiana.edu/departments/academic/general-studies/courses/index.shtml>.

Graduate Division

Admission Requirements

All persons with a bachelor's degree in music from an accredited college, university, conservatory, or its demonstrated equivalent, are eligible to apply for admission to the Graduate Division of the Jacobs School of Music, which administers master's degrees, doctoral degrees, and diploma programs. Bachelor's degree equivalency is determined by the Indiana University Office of International Services for applicants who have completed their undergraduate studies abroad.

Students with a non-degree based conservatory education (resulting in advanced diplomas in performance, music history, and music theory) who can satisfy an undergraduate equivalent in music can be considered for entrance into the diploma programs of the Graduate Division, while bachelor equivalency is required for entrance to the master's program.

Students with undergraduate degrees in areas other than music may be admitted to the Graduate Division of the Jacobs School of Music as non-degree students or as diploma students until an undergraduate equivalency in music is satisfied. Consult the music graduate office for the details of equivalency requirements.

Application

All new applicants to a graduate program must apply online both to the Indiana University Graduate School and to the Jacobs School of Music by the deadlines indicated on the Jacobs School of Music Admissions and Financial Aid website (<http://music.indiana.edu/admissions>). Applicants whose native language is not English must submit the results of the Test of English as a Foreign Language (TOEFL). For admission to a master's degree program, a minimum test score of 560 (paper-based) or 84 (Internet-based) is necessary. For admission to a doctoral degree program, a minimum score of 600 (paper-based) or 100 (Internet-based) is necessary. For those applying to the diploma programs, a minimum score of 510 (paper-based) or 65 (Internet-based) is required.

Indiana University Jacobs School of Music students who are currently enrolled in a diploma or master's program and are applying for admission to a different diploma or graduate degree program must apply according to the procedures for internal applicants, as specified on the Jacobs School of Music Admissions and Financial Aid website (<http://music.indiana.edu/admissions>).

Transcript, GRE

A transcript of previous college and university work must accompany the application.

Each applicant for admission to the Graduate Division of the Jacobs School of Music with an undergraduate academic record containing more than 10 percent of "pass," "satisfactory," or "credit" entries in lieu of letter grades must submit:

1. a written evaluation or customary letter grade by the instructor in at least 90 percent of all courses, and
2. scores on the Graduate Record Examination (GRE). GRE scores must be no more than 5 years old at the time of application.

Both requirements must be met before an application for admission can be considered.

Entering students in music education (except M.S.), music theory, and musicology are required to take the Graduate Record Examination. GRE scores must be no more than 5 years old at the time of application.

Audition

All students applying for graduate degrees or diplomas with a major in music performance or for visiting student status must audition for admission. Information on audition dates and procedures is available from the Jacobs School of Music Office of Admissions (<http://music.indiana.edu/admissions>). A high-quality recording may be submitted when a personal, on-campus audition is not possible. Consult the Music Admissions website for specific departmental audition requirements.

Other Admission Requirements

Students applying for graduate degrees in the fields of choral conducting, composition, early music, music education, music theory, musicology, orchestral conducting, voice, wind conducting, woodwinds, and music and library science must meet other admission requirements or prerequisites as specified in the description of the individual degrees.

Graduate Financial Aid and Merit Scholarships

Need-based aid is offered to eligible applicants and their families through the university Office of Student Financial Assistance. Applicants are encouraged, but not required, to apply for need-based assistance. To do so, applicants must complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA) available at <http://www.fafsa.ed.gov>. Please note that international students are not eligible for need-based financial aid.

Merit-based aid is offered to qualified applicants through the Office of Music Admissions and Financial Aid. Applicants are automatically considered for Jacobs School of Music financial aid at the time of admission. The director of admissions and financial aid, in consultation with individual departments, determines merit awards based on institutional need and recommendations from faculty. The audition/interview rating plays the strongest role in determining merit scholarships; however, other factors including an individual's academic profile and financial need are often considered.

Merit-based associate instructor (AI) and graduate assistant (GA) positions are offered to students by the Office of Music Admissions and Financial Aid based on the recommendation of individual department chairs. Appointments are normally made for one year. The selection process for AIs/GAs varies by department, and some departments may require a separate application and/or interview process. Consult the departmental website or contact the department chair with questions pertaining to specific AI/GA positions. Renewals are considered annually up to the financial aid time limit associated with individual degree or diploma programs. See the Graduate Financial Aid Policies (<http://www.music.indiana.edu/admissions/tuition/2015%20Graduate%20Financial%20Aid%20Policies.pdf>) for further information.

Merit-based assistance is made possible at the Jacobs School of Music by generous donors. The Jacobs School of Music gratefully acknowledges all persons and institutions who support students and faculty by providing endowed funds and annual gifts. For more information about endowed funds at the Jacobs School of Music, visit <http://music.indiana.edu/giving/>.

Admission Decisions

Upon receipt of the completed application, Graduate Record Examination test scores (if required), transcript, and audition or interview results, the Jacobs School of Music Admissions and Recruitment Committee may grant regular admission or admission on probation, or it may reject the application. Certain departments have additional requirements for regular admission to their majors. See individual degrees for further information.

In exceptional cases, a student who does not have an undergraduate and graduate grade point average of 3.0 or better may be granted admission. Such students will be admitted on probation. Probationary students must be enrolled full time during their first semester and must achieve a minimum grade point average of 3.0 for that semester. Students who are admitted on probation and who incur an academic warning or academic probation during their first semester of study are subject to dismissal. See Academic Standing - Graduate.

Students who do not matriculate within one year of the date of the letter offering admission must repeat entrance auditions and other admission requirements.

Applicants admitted to a master's or doctoral degree who are currently enrolled in another IU music program may be eligible to use courses taken during the final semester of their current program toward their new program. Restrictions are listed on the Music Graduate Office website: <http://www.music.indiana.edu/degrees/graduate-diploma/transfer.shtml#Early>.

Graduate Visiting Students

A limited number of graduate-level students with interest in advanced work in music performance or academic study may be admitted as visiting (non-degree) students, subject to the following:

1. Graduate visiting students in performance areas must audition for a faculty committee and be accepted by a particular faculty member for instruction. The audition is not required for students visiting only for the summer, but they must still be accepted by an individual faculty member. Visiting students who wish to continue study during the regular academic year must audition for a faculty committee. Graduate visiting students in non-performance areas must be accepted by that department. All applicants must be approved by the Admissions and Recruitment Committee of the Jacobs School of Music. Visiting students are not required to take proficiency examinations in music theory, music history and literature, or English.
2. Graduate visiting students must register for a minimum of 10 credit hours per semester (4 credit hours in the summer) which must include a major ensemble course.
3. Graduate visiting students may attend a maximum of two semesters during the academic year and four summer terms.
4. Graduate visiting students are not eligible for financial aid from the Jacobs School of Music during the fall and spring semesters.
5. Credits earned as a graduate visiting student may be applied toward a degree or diploma only with the permission of the director of graduate studies. Graduate visiting students wishing to change to degree or diploma status must complete the application process of the Jacobs School of Music and Indiana University.

Proficiency Requirements

All new graduate degree students are required to take a number of examinations that serve as proficiency tests or prerequisites for entrance to certain graduate courses. These examinations include music theory, music history and literature, and keyboard proficiencies. Students whose major field is not music performance also take a music performance proficiency examination.

Students who completed an undergraduate degree at the Jacobs School of Music in the current calendar year or in the three preceding calendar years are exempt from the Graduate Entrance Exams in music theory and music history and literature if they have received grades in corresponding courses as listed below:

- T508 Written Music Theory Review for Graduate Students: B+ or higher in both T251 Music Theory and Literature III (or T261 Music Theory and Literature III) and T252 Music Theory and Literature IV (or T262 Music Theory and Literature IV). A grade of A or higher in both classes meets the “high pass” requirement.
- T509 Sight-Singing Review for Graduate Students: A or higher in both T231 Musical Skills II and T232 Musical Skills III.
- T511 Aural Music Theory Review for Graduate Students: B+ or higher in both T231 Musical Skills II and T232 Musical Skills III. A grade of A or higher in both classes meets the “high pass” requirement.
- M501 Proseminar in Music History and Literature: B+ or higher in both M401 History and Literature of Music I and M402 History and Literature of Music II

A grade of A on Validation/Exemption exams for any undergraduate music theory course listed above will be considered equivalent to an A in the course for the purposes of exemption from the Graduate Entrance Exams.

Visiting students and students in diploma programs are not subject to these proficiency examinations.

Music Theory Entrance Proficiency and Music History and Literature Entrance Proficiency

The music theory and music history and literature proficiencies may be satisfied in the following ways:

1. Students may take and pass the graduate entrance exams. Students must take the exams at the beginning of their first semester of enrollment; they may take them for a second time in their second semester. They may not take them again, nor may they take them after their second semester of enrollment. (Note that this includes summer terms in which students are enrolled.) Exams are ordinarily given in the week before classes begin each semester.
2. Students may enroll in and pass the graduate proficiency courses as listed in the following sections.

Music Theory

These examinations assume that each candidate has had at least two years of training in music theory at the undergraduate level. There are three examinations. The first examination covers written work and analysis, the second covers dictation and aural analysis, and the third covers sight singing. Details are available in the Music Theory Office and at <http://www.music.indiana.edu/departments/academic/music-theory/admissions/gee.shtml>.

The following High Pass degrees have different standards for passing the examinations and the proficiency courses: M.M. in composition, computer music composition, conducting (choral and orchestral), and music theory; D.M. in composition, conducting (choral and orchestral); and Ph.D. in music theory.

The sight-singing exam is graded on a 5-point scale; a score of 4 or higher is required to pass. A grade of C or higher (B or higher for High Pass degrees) is required to pass the written theory and aural theory examinations.

Students who do not achieve a passing grade (or High Pass, where required) in their two permitted attempts, or who do not take the examinations, must complete the appropriate proficiency course(s): T508 Written Music Theory Review for Graduate Students (minimum grade C, or B for High Pass degrees), T509 Sight-Singing Review for Graduate Students (minimum grade C), and T511 Aural Music Theory Review for Graduate Students (minimum grade C, or B for High Pass degrees).

Music History and Literature

This examination covers music history and literature from antiquity to the present (particularly the understanding of musical style) and skills in critical reading and musical research. Details are available at <http://music.indiana.edu/departments/academic/musicology/gee.shtml>. Students who do not pass the examination must enroll in MUS-M 501 Proseminar in Music History and Literature and earn a grade of C or higher in the course.

Keyboard Proficiency Examination

All music graduate students, including those whose principal or proficiency instrument is piano, must pass a keyboard proficiency examination or its equivalent. Most students will take the examination on piano, coordinated by the secondary piano program. The early music, guitar, harp, jazz, music theory, and organ departments administer their own exams on appropriate instruments.

The keyboard proficiency requirement is designed to ensure the student's ability to use the keyboard as a tool within the framework of professional activities, and the requirements vary according to level and area of music study. Entering students whose proficiency examination is heard through the secondary piano program must play a keyboard placement hearing during the orientation period. Students who demonstrate a superior level of playing at this hearing will satisfy the proficiency requirement.

The keyboard proficiency requirement may also be satisfied by passing the examination at any of the times it is offered or by receiving a grade of B or higher in P715 Keyboard Review for Graduate Students. The option of P715 is not available to majors in early music, guitar, harp, jazz, music theory, organ, piano, or MS Music Education students. To avoid a delay in degree completion, students who are beginning their last semester of coursework and have not yet satisfied the keyboard proficiency requirement are strongly advised to enroll in P715.

Keyboard proficiency examinations are normally offered in the latter part of each semester and in the summer term. Organ majors fulfill the keyboard proficiency by passing C504 Keyboard Skills Review and/or C510 Service Playing Review, if necessary. For details, see the secondary piano coordinator or the departmental chairpersons (for early music, guitar, harp, jazz, music theory, and organ). Information is also available at <http://music.indiana.edu/departments/academic/piano/secondary-piano/>.

When keyboard proficiency requirements are identical for two degrees, a student seeking both degrees need not repeat the keyboard proficiency examination if it has been passed for one of the degrees within the time limits for each degree.

Students who are candidates for music graduate degrees for areas other than performance and whose performance proficiency instrument (see "Music Performance Proficiency" below) is piano must also complete the keyboard proficiency requirement.

Music Performance Proficiency

All candidates for music graduate degrees in areas other than music performance (composition, conducting, music education, music theory, and musicology) are required to demonstrate a minimum level of music performance ability equivalent to the end of the second year for elective undergraduate students in that area. Students should consult the appropriate performance department chair for detailed information on the required level.

Proficiency may be demonstrated in any of three ways:

1. in person before a faculty auditioning committee, one voting member of which shall at the student's request be a faculty member in the student's major area;
2. by completion of performance study as a graduate outside area or minor; or
3. by two semesters of performance study as a graduate elective. The grade in each semester of performance study must be B or higher.

Option no. 1 (auditioning before a faculty committee) may be used only during the first two semesters of enrollment.

The performance area must ordinarily be one in which instruction is offered at the 700 (elective) level in the Jacobs School of Music. With the support of the departmental chair of their major area, students may petition the director of graduate studies to be allowed to demonstrate this proficiency in another performance area. If the petition is approved, the director of graduate studies will appoint an examination committee of three members of the Jacobs School of Music faculty qualified to judge the student's performance, including at least one member of a performance department and one member of the student's major area.

General Requirements for Master's Degrees

Degrees Offered

The Jacobs School of Music offers the Master of Music degree with majors in music performance, conducting (choral, orchestral, and wind), early music, jazz studies, organ and sacred music, composition, computer music composition, and music theory; the Master of Music Education degree; and the Master of Science in Music Education. Through the University Graduate School, students may seek the Master of Arts degree with a major in musicology. Master of Music students may elect a second major from those available in the Master of Music degree. Double majors at the master's level may be considered if all requirements within each major field are met. Students may also complete two master's degrees simultaneously. Combined degrees are available in the Master of Library Science with the Master of Arts in Musicology or the Master of Music in Music Theory.

Structure of Master's Curricula

A. Major Field (18-31 credits)

B. Music History and Literature Requirement

6 credit hours selected from:

- M525 Survey of Operatic Literature (3 cr.)
- M527 Symphonic Literature (3 cr.)
- M528 Chamber Music Literature (3 cr.)
- M650 Music in the United States (3 cr.)
- M651 Medieval Music (3 cr.)
- M652 Renaissance Music (3 cr.)
- M653 Baroque Music (3 cr.)
- M654 Classic Music (3 cr.)
- M655 Romantic Music (3 cr.)
- M656 Modern Music (3 cr.)
- M657 Music Since 1960 (3 cr.)
- M502 Composers: Variable Topics (3 cr.). Course topics cannot be repeated.
- M510 Topics in Music Literature (3 cr.). Course topics cannot be repeated.

C. Other Required Credits

6 credit hours, inside or outside the Jacobs School of Music.

- Courses must be at the 500 level or higher, except that courses outside the Jacobs School of Music may be at the 300 or 400 levels, with the approval of the director of graduate studies. For students whose degree requires a language as a tool subject, 200-level courses in that language may be used with the approval of the student's degree department and the director of graduate studies.
- Performance lessons must be at the 800 level and may not include lessons on the student's major instrument (or on any instrument in the case of degrees in multiple woodwinds).
- Credits may not be used for major ensemble, capstone courses (e.g., thesis, document), recitals, proficiency courses, or tool subjects.

Some majors may restrict how some or all of these credits are allocated. See the individual degree listings.

6 credits taken within a single department outside the student's major department may become an outside area. An outside area may become a minor if 12 credit hours are taken in that field.

D. Major Ensemble

As determined by each department. See list of Major Ensembles under "Courses" in this bulletin.

E. Language Proficiencies and Tool Subjects (if required)

F. Comprehensive Review

Before graduation, all master's degree students must pass an oral or written examination. It is the responsibility of the student to consult with the major field department to ascertain the procedures established within that department. This consultation should occur within the first year of residency.

Credit Hour Requirements

The minimum requirement for a master's degree is 30 credit hours, excluding required credit hours in prerequisite or review courses, tool subjects, and major ensemble. Individual degrees may require more credit hours. Courses counted for credit toward the master's degree are numbered 500 or above. Upon approval of the director of graduate studies and the department that offers equivalent courses in the Jacobs School of Music, master's students may transfer course work taken for graduate credit at other institutions. M.M., M.M.E., and M.S. students may transfer up to 6 credit hours; M.A. students may transfer up to 8 credit hours. No course may be transferred unless the grade is B or higher. Applied lessons, chamber music, ensemble, and similar courses may not be transferred for degree credit nor may transfer courses satisfy entrance proficiencies in music history and literature and music theory. Each course to be transferred must be equivalent to a course offered at Indiana University and must have been completed no more than 10 years prior to matriculation.

Residence Requirement

The minimum residence requirement for a master's degree is two semesters (fall, spring, or summer). Because of course availability, it may not be possible to earn a degree only in the summer.

Required Grades

Students in a master's degree program must have a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher to graduate.

Major

Each course in the major field must have a grade of B or higher to fulfill degree requirements.

Music History and Literature Requirement

Each course in this requirement must have a grade of C or higher to fulfill degree requirements.

Other Required Credits

Each course counting toward other required credits, including toward an outside area or minor field, must have a grade of C or higher to fulfill degree requirements. In addition, all courses in this category must have an average of at least B. For purposes of computing the required B average, only those courses accepted in fulfillment of the degree will be counted. Departments offering an outside area or minor may require a higher grade. Courses graded on an S/F basis may not be used to fulfill degree requirements.

Tool Subjects

Students must earn a grade of C or higher in each course to fulfill degree requirements. Some departments may require a higher grade. Tool Subject requirements may be met by coursework taken no more than 10 years prior to matriculation.

Language Proficiencies

Each grammar, diction, or reading course must have a grade of C or higher to fulfill degree requirements. Language Proficiency requirements may be met by coursework taken no more than 10 years prior to matriculation.

Time Limit for Degree Completion

M.M., M.S., and M.M.E. students must complete all degree requirements within seven calendar years from the date of matriculation in the master's program.

M.A. students have five calendar years.

Students who do not complete their course work within the prescribed time limit must be readmitted to the major field (through interview, submission of documents, or audition, as appropriate to the major), meet current requirements, and make any other curricular changes required by the major field department and the director of graduate studies. If a student is readmitted to the major, the term of readmission is two years.

In addition, any master's course taken more than seven calendar years prior to the date of readmission must be revalidated according to procedures approved by the department offering the course and the director of graduate studies.

Proficiencies (music history, music theory, keyboard, performance, language reading, language grammar, language diction) more than seven years old must be revalidated.

These time limits are suspended for students in active military service for the duration of that active service.

General Requirements for Doctoral Degrees

The Graduate Division of the Jacobs School of Music offers course work leading to the degree of Doctor of Music in the areas of music literature and performance, composition, and conducting. Available major fields within these areas are listed under departmental headings in the Curricula for Graduate Degrees in Music section. Double majors at the doctoral level may be considered if all requirements within each major field are met. The Jacobs School of Music also offers the Doctor of Music Education degree and, through the University Graduate School, the Doctor of Philosophy degree in the areas of musicology, music education, and music theory.

The Doctor of Music degree represents outstanding accomplishment in music performance and academic studies. The holder of this degree should demonstrate a high level of performance competency in his or her instrumental area or in voice, a broad knowledge of the pertinent instrumental or vocal repertoire, the ability to undertake independent research, and the ability to communicate his or her understanding effectively in written and oral forms.

The Doctor of Music Education degree calls for a scholarly study of music teaching. It provides for an understanding of the principles underlying successful teaching and the techniques necessary for systematic inquiry into those processes.

A Doctor of Philosophy degree represents breadth of experience and training in the arts and sciences and is recommended for those planning to enter a field involving research or scholarly writing as well as college teaching in musicology, music theory, or music education. The dissertation required for the Ph.D. degree must be original research of a quality and a significance warranting publication.

Admission to Curriculum

Prerequisites

A master's degree with the same major or its demonstrated equivalent is a prerequisite for the doctoral degree. For a doctoral major not existing at the master's level, the prerequisites are those listed with the curriculum. Students electing a change of major at the doctoral level may demonstrate the equivalent of the prerequisite for the new major by special examinations or by passing prerequisite courses. In the event that a student wishes to bypass the master's degree, the first 30 credit hours of graduate work will be considered the equivalent of the master's degree and will be subject to the requirements and regulations that apply to the master's degree. Permission from the department and the director of graduate studies is required. Students directly admitted to a Ph.D. program who wish to obtain a master's degree must complete all requirements that apply to the master's degree.

Credit and Residence

The doctoral degree may be conferred upon completion of at least 90 credit hours of advanced study (including the master's degree). At least 30 credit hours beyond the master's degree must be completed at Indiana University, with at least two consecutive semesters in residence. Up to 30 credit hours may be transferred from accredited institutions. Each course to be transferred must be equivalent to a course offered at Indiana University and must have been completed no more than 10 years prior to matriculation. Transfers are approved by the director of graduate studies and the department in which the equivalent course is offered. Departmental practices vary: an interview or examination may be required. Applied lessons, chamber music, ensemble, and similar courses may not be transferred for degree credit nor may transfer courses satisfy entrance proficiencies in music history and literature and music theory.

Required Grades

Students in a doctoral degree program must have a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher to graduate.

Major

Each course in the major field must have a grade of B or higher to fulfill degree requirements.

Minors and Other Required Credits

Each course in a minor field or used for other required credits must have a grade of C or higher to fulfill degree requirements. In addition, courses counting toward a minor field or other required credits must have an average of B or higher. For purposes of computing the required B average, only those courses accepted in fulfillment of the degree will be counted. Departments offering minors may require higher grades for their minor fields. Courses graded on an S/F basis may not be used toward a minor field or toward other required credits.

Tool Subjects

Each course must have a grade of C or higher to fulfill degree requirements. Some departments may require a higher grade. Tool Subject requirements may be met by coursework taken no more than 10 years prior to matriculation.

Language Proficiencies

Each grammar, diction, or reading course must have a grade of C or higher to fulfill degree requirements. Some departments may require a higher grade. For Ph.D. students, the grade must be B or higher. Language Proficiency requirements may be met by coursework taken no more than 10 years prior to matriculation.

Advisory Committee

After a student is admitted to a degree program, a faculty advisory committee is appointed by the director of graduate studies based on a list submitted by the student.

This committee administers the qualifying examinations and approves and grades any required recitals or music performances.

Research Committee

The research committee for D.M. and D.M.E. candidates is appointed by the director of graduate studies based on a list submitted by the student. The committee consists of three members from the major field, one of whom acts as chairperson, and except for piano majors, one member from a minor or other outside field. The research director is normally either the chairperson or the outside member, depending on the nature of the topic and the expertise required. The research committee approves the topic proposal, approves the dissertation or final project for defense or public presentation, conducts the defense or public presentation, and approves and grades the dissertation, final project, or piano essay.

The research committee for Ph.D. dissertations is appointed by the dean of the University Graduate School. See the University Graduate School Bulletin at <http://www.indiana.edu/~bulletin/iu/gradschool/2013-2014/index.shtml> for further information on the appointment and constitution of the committee.

Structure of Doctoral Curricula

Information regarding the structure of the Doctor of Philosophy and Doctor of Music Education degrees is available under the relevant departmental sections of this bulletin. All Doctor of Music degrees, however, have a common structure, as discussed in this section. Specific requirements relating to each category may be found under departmental listings. Further details of general requirements for the degree may be found in the Regulations and Procedures section of this bulletin.

A. Major Field

36-38 credit hours.

B. Minor Field

12 credit hours. The Doctor of Music degree requires a minor in music history and literature, music theory, or music education. Certain departments may further restrict the choice of options for the minor field for their majors. For D.M. students who have completed master's degrees in one of these three fields, the appropriate department may, with the approval of the director of graduate studies, waive part or all of the doctoral minor course work and determine an appropriate department involvement in the written and oral qualifying examinations. Students will take additional courses in the major field or in other areas to make up the required 12 credit hours of the first minor.

C. Other Required Credits

12 credits hours, inside or outside the Jacobs School of Music.

- Courses must be at the 500 level or higher, except that up to 6 credit hours outside the Jacobs School of Music may be at the 300 or 400 levels, with the approval of the director of graduate studies.
- Performance lessons must be at the 800 level and may not include lessons on the student's major instrument (or on any instrument in the case of degrees in multiple woodwinds).
- Credits may not be used for major ensemble, capstone courses (e.g., dissertation, document), recitals, proficiency courses, or tool subjects.

If all credits are taken in a single field outside the student's department, a formal minor must be declared. This requires the approval of the offering department. A maximum of 9 credits may be taken in a single department unless a minor is declared.

D. Language Proficiencies and Tool Subjects (if required)

E. Qualifying Examinations

F. Written Project (Final Project, Essay, or Composition)

Language Proficiencies and Tool Subjects

Candidates for doctoral degrees who expect to do research in specialized fields or who must have specialized techniques beyond those normally required of master's degree students must possess or acquire such techniques in addition to the regular course requirements. Specific recommendations are made for each candidate on the basis of the degree choice and results of the entering proficiency examinations; the candidate has an opportunity to pass examinations in the specified areas or to take prescribed courses. The level of language proficiency required for Ph.D. candidates is determined by the individual departments and the director of graduate studies. Candidates for the D.M. degree have language or tool subject requirements according to the nature of their degree plans.

Qualifying Examinations

Applicants for a doctoral degree are not considered candidates for the degree until they have passed the qualifying examinations and have been recommended by their advisory committee to the dean of the University Graduate School or the dean of the Jacobs School of Music.

Preliminary Requirements

Before the qualifying examinations are scheduled, doctoral students must have been admitted to the curriculum and have met the following preliminary requirements:

1. The student must have satisfied all prerequisites, proficiencies, and tool subject requirements.
2. To take the major field examination, the student must have completed all course work for the major field (except certain recitals and dissertation-related courses, final project, or essay). For minors within the Jacobs School of Music, the student must have completed all course work in the minor field before taking the examination for that minor.

3. Students pursuing the Ph.D. in music theory and D.M. in composition must have their dissertation topic approved before taking the oral qualifying examination. Students pursuing the D.M., D.M.E., or Ph.D. in music education must have their final project or dissertation topic approved before the major field written examination may be scheduled. Students pursuing the Ph.D. in musicology may have their dissertation topic approved before or after the qualifying examinations.

Research topic proposals must be approved by the student's research committee and, if the research involves human subjects, by the Bloomington Institutional Review Board. Information on procedures for securing approval of research topics may be obtained from the Music Graduate Office. When preliminary requirements have been met, students may schedule qualifying examinations in the Music Graduate Office. Upon application, written qualifying examinations may be written during the summer term.

Musical Styles

All doctoral students must demonstrate their ability to deal analytically and stylistically with a broad range of musical compositions by taking the Doctoral Styles Examination. Students must take the exam in their first spring semester of enrollment. Students who pass the exam meet the requirement. Students who do not pass the exam may retake the exam once with permission of the director of graduate studies, if their score is within a range recommended by the Doctoral Styles Committee. Students who do not pass the exam must earn a grade of B or higher in T545 Introductory Analysis of Music Literature. This course may fall anywhere in the student's curriculum. T545 taken previously at Indiana University and passed with a grade of B or higher will be accepted in place of the exam; transfer credits will not be accepted. This requirement must be completed before a student may begin to take qualifying examinations.

Written Examinations

Students must take written examinations in the major and minor fields. (Minors outside the Jacobs School of Music may not require a written examination.) These examinations are prepared by the advisory committee member(s) representing the major or minor field and may be based on the content of courses taken in each field or on the background and concepts pertinent to the area. A failed examination may be retaken once. At the discretion of the minor field representative (as guided by appropriate department policy), students having music performance as a minor may substitute a 30-minute performance examination by a faculty jury or a graded recital for the written examination.

Oral Examination

The oral qualifying examination is administered by the student's advisory committee. The major field oral qualifying examination has as its aim the assessment of the student's knowledge of the major area. For D.M. students (performance, conducting, or composition), the examination is especially focused on the literature included in a repertoire list approved by the chair of the student's advisory committee and the director of graduate studies. This examination may include assessment of the student's ability to articulate an understanding of the formal/analytical characteristics of the music, its historical development and social context, and features related to its teaching and learning. Minor field oral examinations, if required, take place at the same time as the major field oral examination, but are evaluated separately. The result of each portion of the examination is determined by a majority vote of the advisory committee members from that field. A failed examination may be retaken once. The committee will prescribe the scope of questioning of the reexamination. Oral examinations may be scheduled during the summer term only if the entire advisory committee is available.

Registration after Admission to Candidacy

Once they are admitted to candidacy, students must enroll each semester for course work, dissertation or final project credit, or G901 Advanced Research in order to maintain their candidacy. Candidates who will graduate in August must enroll in the preceding summer term.

Dissertation and Final Project

Instructions for the development of a topic proposal may be obtained from the Music Graduate Office. The same office manages the scheduling of the dissertation or final project public presentation. Students desiring to undertake the public presentation during the summer term should consult the Music Graduate Office before March 15.

In order to make the final project public presentation (where required), a D.M. student must be a candidate for the degree and have completed all other degree requirements, including recitals. The public presentation may take one of a number of formats as outlined on the Music Graduate Office website: <http://www.music.indiana.edu/degrees/graduate-diploma-doctoral/index.shtml>.

A Ph.D. or D.M.E. student must be a candidate for the degree in order to defend a dissertation. The defense of the dissertation is oral and is normally based upon the dissertation, although it may also touch on the major field literature or any field of general music interest that the research committee deems pertinent.

Time Limits

Doctoral students (D.M., D.M.E., Ph.D.) must complete all course work and begin qualifying examinations within seven calendar years from the date of matriculation in the doctoral program.

Students who do not complete their course work and begin qualifying examinations within the prescribed time limit must be readmitted to the major field (through interview, submission of documents, or audition, as appropriate to the major), meet current requirements, and make any other curricular changes required by the major field department and the director of graduate studies. If a student is readmitted to the major, the term of readmission is three years. If the student has not completed course work by that time, the student must once again meet the terms for readmission described previously.

In addition, any doctoral course taken more than 10 calendar years prior to the date of readmission must be revalidated according to procedures approved by the department offering the course and the director of graduate studies. For Ph.D. students, revalidation includes courses from a master's degree used toward the 90 credits required for the Ph.D. degree. Ph.D. students must receive permission to revalidate courses from the dean of the University Graduate School. Consult the University Graduate School Bulletin and the director of graduate studies for more information.

Proficiencies (music history, music theory, keyboard, performance, language reading, language grammar, language diction, musical styles) more than 10 years old must be revalidated. Proficiencies must also be revalidated for students beginning a second degree more than 10 years after beginning a first.

Qualifying Examinations

All qualifying examinations, written and oral, must be completed within one calendar year.

After Qualifying Examinations

D.M., D.M.E., and Ph.D. students must complete the degree within seven years after passing the qualifying examinations. After that time, students must be reinstated to candidacy. To be reinstated to candidacy, D.M. and D.M.E. students must:

1. obtain the permission of the department chairperson and the director of graduate studies,
2. fulfill any new departmental requirements in effect at the time of the application for reinstatement, and
3. pass any qualifying examinations that may be required in the major and minor fields by the student's advisory committee and the director of graduate studies. Exams taken for candidacy reinstatement may be taken only once.

If reinstatement is granted, it is valid for a period of three years. Revalidation of course work is not required.

Ph.D. students follow the reinstatement procedure outlined in the bulletin of the University Graduate School.

These time limits are suspended for students in active military service for the duration of that active service.

Diploma Programs in Performance

The Performer Diploma and Artist Diploma programs are intended for the outstanding performer and are designed to concentrate study in appropriate repertoire. The diploma programs are administered by the director of graduate studies. The Performer Diploma, Orchestral Studies, and Performer Diploma, Chamber Music are open only to string majors.

General Requirements

Students enroll in major-level lessons and in major ensemble each fall and spring semester. Some diploma programs require enrollment in additional courses such as chamber music, orchestral repertoire, or chamber music literature. Over the course of their program, diploma students also enroll in 6 credits of other music courses, perform one recital (Performer Diploma, Solo Performance and Performer Diploma, Chamber Music), pass one exam (Performer Diploma, Orchestral Studies), or perform four recitals (Artist Diploma), and meet a language requirement. Voice students have additional requirements in language grammar and diction. The minimum enrollment each fall and spring semester is 10 credit hours. There are no enrollment requirements during the summer term. No transfer of credit is accepted toward the requirements of any diploma program.

Grade Requirements

Students in all diploma programs must have a cumulative GPA of 3.0 or higher to graduate; a grade of B or higher in each major ensemble enrollment; a grade of C or higher in each course that is to count under the heading "Music Courses"; and a grade of A- or higher in all other required courses, including lessons and recitals.

Language Requirements

Language Proficiency requirements may be met by coursework taken no more than 10 years prior to matriculation.

Voice and early music voice students must demonstrate knowledge of French, German, and Italian grammar equivalent to two semesters at the college level with a grade of C or higher in each, and proficiency in diction in each language by examination or by passing a Jacobs School of Music diction course. Students must take all three diction exams in their first semester of enrollment; with voice department permission, they may take specific exams for a second time in their second semester of enrollment. Diction exams are given prior to the beginning of each semester. For any exam not passed, students must pass the appropriate Jacobs School of Music diction course with a grade of C or higher.

Instrumental students whose first language is English must demonstrate knowledge of the grammar of one non-English language equivalent to two semesters at the college level with a grade of C or higher in each. International students whose first language is not English and who have met the minimum TOEFL score requirements for admission to a diploma program will have the language requirement for instrumental students waived.

Time Limits

Students may enroll for a maximum of four fall-spring semesters and must complete all requirements within five years from the date of first enrollment. Additional semesters of enrollment within the five-year time limit are possible only through recommendation by the student's performance instructor and approval by the director of graduate studies.

Students who do not complete their requirements within the prescribed time limit must be readmitted to the program by passing the regular department admission audition and, in the case of the Artist Diploma, the school-wide Artist Diploma audition. In addition, they must meet current requirements, and make any other curricular changes required by the major field department and the director of graduate studies. If a student is readmitted to the program, the term of readmission is one year.

In addition, any course taken more than five calendar years prior to the date of readmission must be revalidated according to procedures approved by the department offering the course and the director of graduate studies. The following requirements must be completed again if originally completed more than five calendar years prior to the date of readmission: recitals (including any replaced by an opera role) and the PD Orchestral Studies Exam.

Enrollment will be limited to the number of semesters required to complete the remaining requirements as determined by the director of graduate studies. Students must meet current enrollment requirements.

Performer Diploma, Solo Performance

Admission

A regular departmental performance audition equivalent to a high Master of Music graduation level is required. A candidate must hold a U.S. high school diploma or the equivalent. Students with conservatory backgrounds are considered to be doing graduate-level work in the Performer Diploma program, although they might be designated by the university as undergraduates.

Performance Study

Music Courses

6 credit hours of courses in music on the undergraduate or graduate level for which the student has the necessary prerequisites, such as music theory, music history, conducting, music education, or early music. Courses in orchestral repertoire or chamber ensemble may not be used. Courses selected must be approved by the director of graduate studies.

Examination in Orchestral Repertoire

I612 Orchestral Studies Exam (0 cr.)

Performer Diploma, Chamber Music

Admission

A regular departmental performance audition equivalent to a high Master of Music graduation level is required. The program is open only to majors in violin, viola, and violoncello. A candidate must hold a U.S. high school diploma or the equivalent. Students with conservatory backgrounds are considered to be doing graduate-level work in the Performer Diploma program, although they might be designated by the university as undergraduates.

Performance Study

Major-level lessons each fall and spring semester of enrollment. Emphasis will be on chamber music repertoire.

Major Ensemble

2 credit hours each fall and spring semester.

Chamber Music Courses

I500 Masterclass for PD Chamber Music students (0 cr.) each fall and spring semester.

M669 Seminar in String Quartet Literature (2 cr.) each fall and spring semester.

Music Courses

6 credit hours of courses in music, including 2-3 credits of U515 Performing Arts Education and Outreach. The remaining 3-4 credits may be at the undergraduate or graduate level in areas such as music theory, music history, conducting, music education, or opera workshop, for which the student has the necessary prerequisites. Courses selected must be approved by the director of graduate studies.

Recital

I613 Performer Diploma Chamber Music Recital (0 cr.), approved according to the hearing procedures for Master of Music recitals.

Artist Diploma

Admission

To be admitted, students must be at a performance level equivalent to acceptance into a major international competition. Students must be recommended for the Artist Diploma program based on a departmental audition and then be approved for the program by passing a school-wide audition for the Artist Diploma Committee of the Jacobs School of Music.

Current Jacobs School of Music students must pass the departmental audition and the school-wide audition in the semester prior to admission to the Artist Diploma program.

Students new to the Jacobs School of Music should apply to another program for which they are qualified (ordinarily this will be a Performer Diploma program) and indicate on their application that they wish to be considered for the Artist Diploma program. Students will perform an audition during the regular admission audition times. This audition will serve both as the audition for the program the student is applying for and as the departmental audition for the Artist Diploma program. Students who are admitted to the Jacobs School of Music will enroll in their first semester in the program to which they applied. Those who are also recommended for the Artist Diploma program on the basis of the admission audition are automatically eligible to play the school-wide Artist Diploma audition, which must be completed during their first semester of enrollment. Students who pass the school-wide audition will officially begin the Artist Diploma program in their second semester of enrollment. Coursework taken during the first semester of enrollment will count towards the Artist Diploma program requirements and will count as the first semester of enrollment in the Artist Diploma program.

Admission to this program does not require a high school or General Educational Development (GED) diploma, but one of these must be earned before the Artist Diploma can be granted. Applicants without a high school or GED diploma are not eligible for admission to other music programs and should contact the Office of Music Admissions to discuss special audition procedures.

Performance Study

Major-level lessons each fall and spring semester of enrollment.

Major Ensemble

2 credit hours each fall and spring semester. Piano Students: X2 Piano Accompanying (2 cr.) each fall and spring semester.

- Brass F450/F550 Chamber Music (1 cr.) or F445/F545 Brass Chamber Ensemble (1 cr.)

- Woodwinds F450/F550 Chamber Music (1 cr.) or F446/F546 Woodwind Chamber Ensemble (1 cr.)
- Percussion F450/F550 Chamber Music (1 cr.) or F447/F547 Percussion Chamber Ensemble (1 cr.)
- Harp F450/F550 Chamber Music (1 cr.) or F449/F549 Harp Ensemble (1 cr.)

Music Courses

6 credit hours of courses in music on the undergraduate or graduate level for which the student has the necessary prerequisites, such as music theory, music history, conducting, music education, or opera workshop. Courses selected must be approved by the director of graduate studies.

Recitals

Instrumental students:

- I911 Artist Diploma Recital (0-0-0 cr.; one concerto must be included as one of the solo recitals)
- I921 Artist Diploma Chamber Music recital (0 cr.)

Voice students: I911 Artist Diploma Recital (0-0-0-0 cr.). Operatic roles performed at Indiana University Opera Theater productions may be substituted for a maximum of two of the required recitals with the approval of the voice faculty.

Graduate Certificate Programs

Credit certificate programs are offered in specialized areas in the Jacobs School of Music. They include 12-29 credit hours of course work. The targeted audience may be graduate music majors or non-majors at Indiana University, graduate students at other institutions, or anyone who holds a bachelor's degree.

Admission

See the Certificate Programs page of the Jacobs School of Music website (<http://music.indiana.edu/degrees/JSOMCertificates.shtml>) for detailed application information.

Grade Requirements

Successful completion of a certificate program for graduate students requires a grade of B or higher in each course and an overall GPA of 3.0 or higher in certificate courses. Individual certificate programs may have stricter grade requirements. No transfer credit will be accepted for a certificate program.

Tuition and Fees

Students pay tuition for certificate courses depending on their residency status (resident or nonresident) at IU Bloomington. Non-music students enrolled only in certificate programs will not be charged the music program fee and will not be eligible for financial aid from the Jacobs School of Music. Additional fees may be charged for specific courses.

Application for Completion

Students who wish to be awarded a certificate must complete an Application for Certificate Completion. For IU Bloomington students, certificate courses must be completed within the time limit for their degrees. All other students must complete the certificate courses within four calendar years. There is no residence requirement for certificate completion.

Available Credit Certificates

Certificate courses will ordinarily be offered following the regular academic calendar. Check the Schedule of Classes for availability. IU Bloomington students may use individual certificate courses in any appropriate way towards degree requirements as well as towards a certificate.

Language Proficiency (all students)

Reading knowledge of French, German, Italian, Latin, or Spanish. The choice of language is subject to approval by the chair of the student's advisory committee and the director of graduate studies. Proficiency in a language may be demonstrated by:

1. passing an examination administered by the appropriate language department,
2. passing a translation examination administered by the early music department,
3. earning grades of B or higher in two semesters of reading courses at the graduate level, or
4. earning a grade of B or higher in a literature course in the language at the 300 level or higher.

Language Proficiencies (voice students)

Knowledge of French, German, and Italian grammar equivalent to two semesters at the college level in each, and proficiency in diction in each language as demonstrated by examination or by passing a Jacobs

School of Music diction course. Students must take all three diction exams in their first semester of enrollment; with voice department permission, they may take specific exams for a second time in their second semester of enrollment. Diction exams are given prior to the beginning of each semester. For any exam not passed, students must pass the appropriate Jacobs School of Music diction course.

Tool Subjects

- M539 Introduction to Music Bibliography (2 cr.)
- M635 Performance Practice Before 1750 (2 cr.) Proficiency will be demonstrated by an entrance examination. Students who do not pass this examination must enroll in M635 Performance Practice Before 1750 during their first semester of enrollment.

General Education Courses

A minimum of 6 credit hours in each category (Written and Oral Expression, Life and Physical Sciences and Mathematics, and Social and Behavioral Sciences) with a total of at least 27 credit hours in general education courses. These are normally undergraduate courses. Previous credit will be counted.

Major Ensemble

2 credit hours each semester until four fall-spring enrollments are reached or the student graduates; at least one semester of marching band is required for all wind or percussion players who have not had previous undergraduate college marching band experience. At least one semester of either Singing Hoosiers or Vocal Jazz Ensemble and one semester of a traditional choral ensemble are required for all students with emphasis in general music teaching and choral teaching. Only one semester of Vocal Jazz Ensemble will fulfill the Major Ensemble requirement. Any subsequent enrollment will be counted as an elective.

Teaching Certification

In addition to the successful completion of the M.S. in Music Education degree, teaching certification for the State of Indiana requires the recommendation of Indiana University and completion of appropriate testing and certifications as required by the State of Indiana

Specialist in Music Education

Prerequisite

The applicant must have a master's degree in music or music education and at least three years of teaching experience.

Admission

1. GRE General Test scores
2. short video recording which demonstrates proficiency in teaching and performance or ensemble direction
3. interview with music education faculty
4. three- to five-page essay on applicant's background and goals in music education

Major

5. Jazz Methodology. One of E581 Methods and Materials for Teaching Instrumental Jazz (3 cr.) or E582 Methods and Materials for Teaching Vocal Jazz (3 cr.); O511 Fundamentals of Jazz Theory (1 cr.)/O521 Jazz Improvisation 1 (2 cr.)
6. General Music Methodology. One of E524 Exploratory Teaching in General Music K-12 (3 cr.) or E540 Topics in General Music (3 cr.); one of E521 The Children's Chorus (3 cr.), E522 Music in Early Childhood (3 cr.), or E571 Kodály Concept I (3 cr.)
7. String Methodology. E646 Graduate Seminar in String Research (3 cr.); one of G590 String Orchestra Literature (3 cr.) or E580 Methods and Materials for Teaching String Music (3 cr.)
8. Individual studio study (performance/composition). 6 credits of 800-level individual study in a performance area or composition

Electives

6 credits in graduate music courses. Students completing the individual studio study specialization area must include one graduate-level pedagogy or literature course in an appropriate performance area or (for students studying composition) G550 Conducting New Music.

Minor

12 credit hours within or outside the field of music in any subject for which the candidate has the necessary background for advanced course work. The minor field must differ from the specialization area. Some departments may require a written and/or oral examination in the minor field.

Tool Subject (Ph.D. only)

Reading knowledge of two non-English languages as demonstrated by examination; or reading knowledge of one language and demonstration of proficiency in one research skill such as statistics or computer science, approved by the department and the director of graduate studies of the Jacobs School of Music

Music Theory

Music theory at Indiana University emphasizes musicianship and scholarly study with particular emphasis on the history of musical thought, analysis of musical structure, and pedagogy.

Master of Music in Music TheoryPrerequisite

Bachelor's degree with a major in music.

Admission

The applicant must submit at the time of application three letters of recommendation and a formal paper of substantial length on an analytical or theoretical subject. The paper is expected to demonstrate the applicant's musical insight and ability to express ideas clearly and correctly. An individual interview is also required; applicants are expected to be proficient in sight singing, aural skills, and keyboard harmony. The applicant's scores on the GRE General Test must be received from Educational Testing Service in Princeton, New Jersey, by the application deadline.

Major

21 credit hours

- T550 Readings in Music Theory (3 cr.)
- T551 Analytical Techniques for Tonal Music (3 cr.)
- T555 Schenkerian Analysis (3 cr.)
- T556 Analysis of Music Since 1900 (3 cr.)
- T565 Stylistic Counterpoint: Variable Topics (3 cr.)
- T591 Teaching of Music Theory (3 cr.)
- T658 Seminar in Music Theory: Variable Topics (3 cr.)
- T599 Master's Degree Comprehensive Review (0 cr.)

A student may demonstrate proficiency in any one of these areas without substituting another graduate-level music theory course.

Music History and Literature Requirement

6 credit hours. See "Structure of Master's Curricula" under General Requirements for Master's Degrees in this bulletin.

Other Required Credits

6 credit hours. See "Structure of Master's Curricula" under General Requirements for Master's Degrees in this bulletin.

Major Ensemble

2 credit hours each semester until four fall-spring enrollments are reached or the student graduates.

Tool Subject

M539 Introduction to Music Bibliography (2 cr.) with a grade of B or higher or evidence of proficiency demonstrated by examination.

Doctor of Philosophy in Music Theory (through University Graduate School)Admission

Applicants for the Ph.D. in music theory must have received a master's degree in music theory or musicology or the demonstrated equivalent. Students with outstanding credentials may apply directly from a bachelor's degree. Students are required to demonstrate competency in all areas required of the M.M. music theory major at Indiana University, and may be exempted from certain courses on the recommendation of the department.

The applicant must submit at the time of application three letters of recommendation and two extensive, formal research papers or a master's thesis in music theory or musicology. An individual interview is also required; applicants are expected to be proficient in sight singing, aural skills, and keyboard harmony. The applicant's scores on the GRE General Test must be received from Educational Testing Service in Princeton, New Jersey, by the application deadline.

Major

3 credit hours selected from graduate courses in music history and literature, musicology, music theory, or ethnomusicology.

Music History and Literature Requirement

6 credit hours. See "Structure of Master's Curricula" under General Requirements for Master's Degrees in this bulletin.

Other Required Credits

6 credit hours. See "Structure of Master's Curricula" under General Requirements for Master's Degrees in this bulletin.

Master of Arts Examination

Ordinarily to be taken in the semester in which a student completes the course work for the degree. Students will also submit a portfolio of papers written for graduate courses in the department.

Major Ensemble

2 credit hours each semester until four fall-spring enrollments are reached or the student graduates.

Tool Subjects

- M539 Introduction to Music Bibliography (2 cr.) with a grade of B or higher
- Reading knowledge of German as demonstrated by musicology department examination

Doctor of Philosophy in Musicology (through University Graduate School)

Admission

Applicants for the Ph.D. in musicology must demonstrate strong preparation in music history. Students with outstanding credentials may apply directly from a bachelor's degree; students holding an M.A. or M.M. in musicology may be exempted from certain courses on the recommendation of the department. A formal research paper must be submitted with the application. The applicant's scores on the GRE General Test must be received from Educational Testing Service in Princeton, New Jersey by the application deadline.

Progress toward Degree

Proficiencies in music history and music theory should be met by the end of the first year. One language examination should be passed by the end of the first year, and a second must be passed before the qualifying examination along with keyboard and performance proficiencies. Students should ordinarily complete course work by the middle of the third year (end of the third year for students admitted from a bachelor's degree), complete qualifying examinations in the following semester, and submit a dissertation topic proposal a semester after that. Deviations from this schedule should be the subject of consultation with the department chair.

Major

48 to 78 credit hours

- M551 Introduction to Historical Musicology (3 cr.)
- M602 Seminar in Musicology (3-3-3-3 cr.)
- M603 Methods of Musical Scholarship (3 cr.)
- Six credits drawn from M602 or M603 (3-3 cr.)

- Courses in musicology, music history and literature, music theory, ethnomusicology, or other musical subjects with approval of the department and director of graduate studies (3-3-3 cr.). If these credits are waived, students must enroll in an additional 9 credits of M700.
- M604 Qualifying Exam Tutorial (3 cr.)
- M605 Qualifying Exam and Dissertation Area Tutorial (3 cr.)
- M700 Dissertation in Musicology (6-36 cr.)

Minor

One minor, which may be inside or outside of music, with sufficient credit hours to satisfy the course requirements for a Ph.D. minor, as determined by the department in which the minor is taken. All such minors must be recognized or accepted by the University Graduate School. A Ph.D. minor typically requires 12 credit hours of course work, and departments may also require a written and/or oral examination in the minor field.

Tool Subject

Reading knowledge of two non-English languages as demonstrated by musicology department examination. The first must be German, French, Italian, Latin, Spanish, or Russian; the second should be relevant to the student's research area.

Orchestral Conducting Master of Music in Orchestral Conducting

Prerequisite

Ph.D. Minors for Students Outside the Jacobs School of Music

Minors in music for doctoral students outside the Jacobs School of Music may be taken within one of the established departments of the Jacobs School of Music or as an individualized minor taken in more than one area. No general entrance examinations are required, but the director of graduate studies may require entering proficiency examinations. All minors except the individualized minor require the prior approval of the department chair. Minors, including the individualized minor, require approval by the director of graduate studies, who also determines prerequisites, minimum requirements, and the nature of any qualifying examinations. A minor in a performance area requires acceptance into a faculty studio and may require a formal departmental audition. No transfer credits will be accepted toward a music minor.

Curricula for Music-Related Graduate Degrees

Master of Arts and Master of Library Science; Master of Music and Master of Library Science

This program permits the student to coordinate a degree in music theory or music history and literature with a Master of Library Science. Specialized training in music library science is provided by the professional librarians of the Jacobs School of Music. Students who already have a master's degree in music or who do not desire a master's in music from Indiana University may wish to contact the Admissions Office of the Department of Information and Library Science (<http://ils.indiana.edu/admissions/>) for information concerning the Music Librarianship Specialization within the Master of Library Science degree only.

Prerequisite

Bachelor's degree in music.

Admission

Students must apply for admission simultaneously to the Jacobs School of Music for the M.M. or M.A. and the Department of Information and Library Science for the M.L.S.

Course Requirements

The student must satisfy all the requirements for a Master of Arts degree in musicology or a Master of Music degree in music theory (listed in this bulletin) and for a Master of Library Science degree (listed in the bulletin of the School of Informatics and Computing at <http://bulletins.iu.edu/iub/soic/2014-2015/index.shtml>).

The outside area for the Master of Arts or Master of Music degree is fulfilled by 6 credit hours in library science, which count towards both degrees.

Courses

Not all courses are offered every year. The number of credit hours given for a course is indicated in parentheses following the course title. The abbreviation "P" refers to the course prerequisite or prerequisites, and the abbreviation "C" refers to the course corequisite or corequisites.

Letter prefixes indicate subject fields as follows:

Open to music majors and non-majors with performing skills. Audition required. Does not fulfill the major ensemble requirement for music majors.

MUS X420 Small Ensembles (1 cr.) Specialized instrumental and vocal ensembles. Does not fulfill the major ensemble requirement for music majors.

Academic Courses

Recording Arts and Audio Technology

MUS A100 Introduction to Personal Recording (3 cr.) For students inside and outside the Jacobs School of Music who are not recording arts majors. Introduction to the science, technology, and techniques necessary to create and edit recordings.

MUS A101 Introduction to Audio Technology (3 cr.) For recording arts majors only. Introduction to the equipment and techniques employed in audio recording and sound reinforcement.

MUS A102 Audio Techniques I (3 cr.) P: A101 Introduction to Audio Technology. Introduction to studio equipment and recording procedures including microphone use, basic studio techniques, editing concepts, and recording and signal processing equipment.

MUS A111 Electronics I (3 cr.) Fundamental principles of electricity and magnetism, with review of necessary algebra.

MUS A112 Electronics II (3 cr.) P: A111 Electronics I with a grade of C or higher. AC theory and introduction to circuit elements and active devices.

MUS A150 Introductory Seminar in Recording Arts (1 cr.) An introduction to critical listening for recording engineers and producers, with an emphasis on technical evaluation and aesthetic principles within the context of musical style.

MUS A201 Audio Techniques II (3 cr.) P: A102 Audio Techniques I. Intermediate studio and recording procedures including signal processing, digital audio theory, and basic digital audio workstation techniques.

MUS A202 Audio Techniques III (3 cr.) P: A201 Audio Techniques II. Advanced digital audio theory including media production, audio for Internet, and advanced digital audio workstation techniques.

MUS A211 Electronics III (3 cr.) P: A112 Electronics II with a grade of C or higher. System design and operation applied to audio, both analog and digital.

MUS A212 Electronics IV (3 cr.) P: A211 Electronics III with a grade of C or higher. Instruction in basic maintenance of audio equipment and studio maintenance. Practical experience is emphasized.

MUS A270 Multitrack Studio Techniques I (2 cr.) P: A201 Audio Techniques II. Multitrack studio and recording procedures with an emphasis on signal processing and mixdown techniques.

MUS A312 Audio Repair and Maintenance (3 cr.) P: A212 Electronics IV with a grade of C or higher. Instruction in advanced audio equipment maintenance with concentration on wiring practices, system design, analysis, and repair. Practical experience is emphasized.

MUS A320 Sound Reinforcement Techniques (2 cr.)

P: A202 Audio Techniques III. An introduction to sound reinforcement systems and the techniques of sound reinforcement.

MUS A321 Sound for Picture Production (3 cr.) P:

A202 Audio Techniques III. Study of audio production techniques for radio, video, film, and multimedia. Emphasis on mixing criteria for broadcast and visual productions.

MUS A325 Digital Audio Workstation Seminar (2 cr.) P:

A202 Audio Techniques III. A seminar in intermediate and advanced digital audio workstation production techniques.

MUS A330 Recording Techniques for Music Majors (3 cr.) P:

A100 Introduction to Personal Recording. An overview of recording techniques for musicians. Emphasis is on a practical understanding of recording technology from the perspective of both a studio musician and engineer.

MUS A331 Production Techniques for Music Majors (2 cr.) P:

A330 Recording Techniques for Music Majors. For music majors who want to record a demonstration tape. Producing a recording from the planning stage, through the recording and post-production process, to the creation of a finished master. Final project will be the production of a short recording.

MUS A340 Topics in Recording Arts (2-3 cr.)

May be repeated for credit with permission of instructor for different topics only.

MUS A350 Seminar in Recording Arts (1 cr.) P:

A150 Introductory Seminar in Recording Arts. Critical listening and discussion of recording techniques, concepts, and aesthetics.

MUS A360 Recording Arts: Techniques and Production I (2 cr.) P:

A202 Audio Techniques III. Basic classical music recording and production techniques.

MUS A370 Multitrack Studio Techniques II (2 cr.) P:

A270 Multitrack Studio Techniques I. Supervised practical experience in multitrack studio procedures with an emphasis on microphone and recording techniques. Small group and individual project work, plus group listening and discussion.

MUS A420 Advanced Sound Reinforcement (2 cr.)

P: A320 Sound Reinforcement Techniques. Study of advanced sound reinforcement, system design, and practical experience in sound reinforcement.

MUS A440 Individual Project in Recording Arts (1-3 cr.) P:

Senior standing.

MUS A460 Recording Arts: Techniques and Production II (2 cr.) P:

A321 Sound for Picture Production. Advanced classical music recording and production techniques.

MUS A461 Final Project in Recording Arts (1 cr.) P:

Senior standing. Preparation of dossier summarizing all work completed (concurrent with last semester of on-campus course work). Student will make a presentation of the dossier to a group of music faculty including the director of recording arts and at least one other faculty member from outside the recording arts department.

MUS A470 Individual Multitrack Studio Projects I (2 cr.) P:

A370 Multitrack Studio Techniques II. Advanced production experience in multitrack recording and mixing. Individual project work, plus group listening and discussion.

MUS A471 Individual Multitrack Studio Projects II (2 cr.) P:

A470 Individual Multitrack Studio Projects I. Individual projects in multitrack recording.

MUS A480 Internship in Audio (3 cr.) P:

Senior standing. Supervised experience in a working environment directly related to audio technology. Assessed by reports from the student and on-site supervisor.

MUS A511 Electronics I (3 cr.)

Fundamental principles of electricity and magnetism, with review of necessary algebra.

MUS A512 Electronics II (3 cr.) P:

A511 Electronics I with a grade of B or higher. AC theory and introduction to circuit elements and active devices.

MUS A521 Electronics III (3 cr.) P:

A512 Electronics II with a grade of B or higher. System design and operation applied to audio, both analog and digital.

MUS A522 Electronics IV (3 cr.) P:

A521 Electronics III with a grade of B or higher. Instruction in basic maintenance of audio equipment and studio maintenance. Practical experience is emphasized.

Sacred Music

MUS C400 Research in Sacred Music (arr. cr.)

MUS C401 Sacred Music I (3 cr.) An introductory study and application of keyboard harmony, transposition, improvisation, hymn playing, and accompanying for the church service.

MUS C402 Sacred Music II (3 cr.) P:

C401 Sacred Music I. Continuation of topics introduced in C401 plus open score reading, sacred music composition, console conducting, the liturgical year, and related service music.

C401-C402-C403 Sacred Music I-II-III. Continuation of topics introduced in C403 plus contemporary worship styles, the sacred music vocation, and choral literature.

MUS C405 Organ Construction and Design (2 cr.)

A historical and interactive study of the action and pipes of the organ, from the earliest European example to the latest developments in the organ building industry. Includes a lab component where the student has hands-on experience with university organs, performing basic maintenance routines such as tuning and repair.

MUS C500 Independent Study in Sacred Music Practices (arr. cr.)

MUS C504 Keyboard Skills Review (1 cr.) Basic keyboard skills with an emphasis on hymn transposition, modulation, improvisation, sight reading, and figured bass realization.

MUS C505 Organ Construction and Design (2 cr.) A historical and interactive study of the action and pipes of the organ, from the earliest European example to the latest developments in the organ building industry. Includes a lab component where the student has hands-on experience with university organs, performing basic maintenance routines such as tuning and repair.

MUS C510 Service Playing Review (1 cr.) Foundational studies in the practical musical skills needed by a church organist: hymn playing, anthem accompanying, open-score reading, and console conducting.

MUS C524 Organ Improvisation (2 cr.) P: C504 Keyboard Skills Review or equivalent. Improvisation for the church organist, with emphasis on stylistic considerations, formal structures, and devices.

MUS C535 Introduction to Liturgy and the Arts (2 cr.) A study of the relationship between liturgy, music, and other related arts both in history and current practice.

MUS C540 The History of Christian Worship and Sacred Music (2 cr.) Liturgical ritual and worship practices, with special emphasis on music and hymnody, from pre-Christian roots to modern day.

MUS C541 Sacred Music: Philosophy and Practice I (2 cr.) An exploration of the practical demands and philosophical dimensions of a vocation in sacred music. Includes anthem repertoire, professional issues, and dynamics of leadership.

MUS C542 Sacred Music: Philosophy and Practice II (2 cr.) P: C541 Sacred Music: Philosophy and Practice I. Continuation of C541.

Music Education

MUS E131 Freshman Colloquium in Music Education (2 cr.) C: EDUC M101 Laboratory/Field Experience. Introduction to the development of instructional materials and professional artifacts through observations, peer teaching, and the application of technological resources. A grade of C+ or higher is required.

MUS E230 Teaching Music through Performance (2 cr.) P: E130 Introduction to Music Learning or E131 Freshman Colloquium in Music Education. Preparation of lecture/demonstrations in music, including selection of topics and literature, administration, and evaluation. Ensembles composed of students enrolled in the class perform productions at community sites such as schools, hospitals, and service clubs.

MUS E231 General Music Methods K-12 (2 cr.) P: E131 Freshman Colloquium in Music Education; C: EDUC M201 Laboratory/Field Experience. Principles of musical development and curriculum planning applied to the teaching of general music in schools, including special populations. The application of computer technologies to the teaching of general music and music appreciation is examined. A grade of C+ or higher is required.

MUS E232 Inclusive Participatory Music Practices (3 cr.) P: E130 Introduction to Music Learning or E131 Freshman Colloquium in Music Education. C: EDUC M201 Laboratory/Field Experience. An examination of various avenues for learning music in contemporary culture. Includes an overview of informal music making practices such as garage bands and singing circles, learning and engagement with music from diverse places throughout the world, and using technology for creative music making. Contains a service learning component. A grade of C+ or higher is required.

MUS E241 Introduction to Music Fundamentals (2-3 cr.) Designed to aid elementary majors in the School of Education in learning to sing and read music.

MUS E400 Undergraduate Readings in Music Education (arr. cr.)

MUS E410 Topics in Music Education and Pedagogy (3 cr.) P: Junior standing in the Jacobs School of Music or consent of instructor. This upper-level undergraduate course will focus on theory and research in music education and pedagogy. The course is directed toward students enrolled in B.M. or B.S.O.F. degree programs. Readings will be drawn from the professional literature.

MUS E480 Methods and Materials for Teaching String Music (2 cr.) P: F261 String Class Techniques. String teaching materials, methods, and techniques for use with K-12 students.

MUS E481 Methods and Materials for Teaching Instrumental Jazz (2 cr.) P: T152 Music Theory and Literature II. Instrumental jazz materials, methods, and techniques for teaching K-12 students. A short survey of jazz history, including seminal recordings, and an introduction to teaching improvisation will be included.

MUS E482 Methods and Materials for Teaching Vocal Jazz (2 cr.) P: T152 Music Theory and Literature II. Strategies for teaching the basic principles of vocal jazz. Areas of study include historical perspective, landmark recordings, repertoire, improvisation, scat syllables, swing, accompaniment, amplification, auditioning, and sequence of instruction. No previous jazz experience necessary.

MUS E491 Senior Seminar in Music Education (2 cr.) P: EDUC M482 Student Teaching. Issues in the profession of music education, synthesis of student teaching experiences, and the development of a plan for personal growth as a teacher.

MUS E502 The Practice of Music Teaching (3 cr.) An overview of learning theories and curriculum design related to specific music education fields. Includes an investigation of general learning theories and application of these to choral, general, and instrumental music teaching situations. Field experience component will provide opportunities for observation of area teachers and implementation of curriculum with area students.

MUS E517 Sociology of Music (3 cr.) Discussions and informal lectures on aspects of the sociology of music viewed from the perspective of process.

MUS E518 Foundations of Music Education (3 cr.) Interdisciplinary approach, including aspects of philosophy, psychology, aesthetics, and sociology.

MUS E520 Seminar in Music Education for Master's Degree Students (2 cr.) P or C: E518 Foundations of Music Education and E598 Practicum/Thesis Proposal in Music Education. Required of master's degree students in music education. Two meetings a week. Reports on research by students or faculty members.

MUS E521 The Children's Chorus (3 cr.) Vocal and choral techniques, literature, and organizational practices appropriate to children's choral ensembles.

MUS E522 Music in Early Childhood (3 cr.) A survey of research literature in musical development and applications to the selection of materials and teaching methods for the preschool- and kindergarten-aged child.

MUS E523 Music in Special Education (3 cr.) Methods and materials for the musical education of learners with special characteristics. Emphasis on adaptive procedures for mainstream education students.

MUS E524 Exploratory Teaching in General Music K-12 (3 cr.) For graduate students in music education who have teaching experience. Comprehensive study of the general music program, including new techniques, materials, and literature.

MUS E525 Supervision of Music in the Public Schools (3 cr.) Functions and techniques of music supervision; problems of music consultants; in-service training for classroom teachers; and administration of school music programs.

MUS E527 Advanced Instrumental Methods (3 cr.) Application of current teaching techniques to group instrumental instruction. Designed for students with previous teaching experience.

MUS E528 Advanced Choral Methods and Materials (3 cr.) Advanced choral methods for the practicing teacher or advanced student. Literature survey for secondary school environment. Resources and methodology leading to a comprehensive choral curriculum.

MUS E530 Learning Processes in Music (3 cr.) Descriptive and prescriptive conditions of musical learning and development. Included are interdisciplinary studies of learning involving musical, psychological, physiological, cultural, and sociological factors.

MUS E533 Research in Music Education (1-3 cr.) P: consent of instructor. Independent research in music education.

MUS E535 Measurement, Evaluation, and Guidance in Music (3 cr.) Standardized tests, classroom or studio marking, auditioning, and adjudication; evaluation of aptitude in light of professional and educational criteria; and use of data in counseling.

MUS E540 Topics in General Music (3 cr.) For graduate students in music education with some teaching experience in general music. Topics include creativity, technology, and arts integration. Philosophies of music teaching, learning theories, curricular approaches, research, and classroom content, as they relate to teaching K-12 general music.

MUS E545 Guided Professional Experiences (1-3 cr.) P: Consent of instructor. Further development of professional skills in teaching, supervision, and administration by means of laboratory techniques and use of Jacobs School of Music facilities and resources. Evidence required of competency to carry out independent work.

MUS E561 Special Topics in Choral Methods (1-3 cr.)

MUS E568 Administration of Instrumental Groups (3 cr.) Supervision of school bands and orchestras: student personnel, financing, program construction, rehearsal techniques, festival participation, physical plant, and repair of instruments.

MUS E580 Methods and Materials for Teaching String Music (3 cr.) String teaching materials, methods, and techniques for use with K-12 students. This course will cover the skills and knowledge that will enable students to successfully teach public school string classes from the beginning through advanced levels. Knowledge of various pedagogical approaches as well as practical application of those concepts in this course.

MUS E581 Methods and Materials for Teaching Instrumental Jazz (3 cr.) Instrumental jazz materials, methods, and techniques for teaching K-12 students. A short survey of jazz history including seminal recordings, and an introduction to teaching improvisation will be included. A review of jazz research leading to a research paper and presentation.

MUS E582 Methods and Materials for Teaching Vocal Jazz (3 cr.) Strategies for teaching the basic principles of vocal jazz. Areas of study include historical perspective, landmark recordings, repertoire, improvisation, scat syllables, swing, accompaniment, amplification, auditioning, and sequence of instruction. No previous jazz experience necessary. A review of jazz research leading to a research paper and presentation.

MUS E598 Practicum/Thesis Proposal in Music Education (0 cr.) P: Consent of instructor. Enrollment required prior to or concurrent with E520 Seminar in Music Education for Master's Degree Students. Development of practicum or thesis methodology and analysis procedures.

MUS E599 Practicum in Music Education (1-3 cr.) Research-based practical or creative project or investigation (may be a phase of a cooperative study or an independent project). This course is eligible for deferred (R) grading.

MUS E600 Thesis in Music Education (1-3 cr.) Quantitative or qualitative scholarly research document. This course is eligible for deferred (R) grading.

MUS E616 Curriculum in Music Education (3 cr.) P: E518 Foundations of Music Education. Purpose, problems, development, and current trends in music curricular structures in elementary, secondary, and higher education.

MUS E618 History and Philosophy of Music Education (3 cr.) P: E518 Foundations of Music Education. The interaction of the theory and practice of music education with historical and philosophical developments in the European/ American tradition.

MUS E619 Psychology of Music (3 cr.) Functions of the musical mind; factors in the development of musical skills and maturity.

MUS E625 Administration of Music in Higher Education (3 cr.) Administration problems, curricular content, securing of teaching personnel and equipment, planning of music buildings, and other duties attendant upon the administrator of a music department or school of music.

MUS E631 Quantitative Research in Music Education (3 cr.) Nature of research and scientific method; application to problems of music research. Critique of research studies.

MUS E632 Advanced Quantitative Research in Music Education (3 cr.) P: E631 Quantitative Research in Music Education. Problem definition; development of research design. Probability and sampling procedure. Techniques for the location, collection, quantification, and treatment of data. Research report required.

MUS E635 College Music Teaching (3 cr.) Theory of teaching, philosophic assumptions, aesthetic theories, approaches to education, implications for teaching music education, music history and literature, and music theory courses.

MUS E640 Qualitative Research in Music Education (3 cr.) Basic sociological, anthropological, and historical backgrounds from which qualitative research in music education is drawn and the principal theories that govern qualitative research. Factors related to the design, collection of data, and analysis for field-based research. A hands-on approach to data collection and analysis strategies applied to research questions.

MUS E645 Music Teacher Education (3 cr.) Historical perspectives and current theory and practice in music teacher education including the structure and framework of public education, program evaluations, strategies for method classes, field experience, and student teaching. Investigation of current research in music teacher education.

MUS E646 Seminar in String Research (3 cr.) An overview of current topics in string research. A wide range of pedagogical topics examined through selected readings. Literature review of specific topics leading to a research paper and presentation.

MUS E650 Music Education Research Colloquium (0 cr.) Research presentations, poster presentations, and lectures by graduate students, faculty, and guest lecturers. Required of doctoral students in music education each semester of full-time enrollment.

MUS E658 Seminar in Music Education (2 cr.) Advanced professional study in the theory and practice of music education.

MUS E660 Philosophical Research in Music Education (2 cr.) An examination of the methods used in philosophical research in music education, with a survey of major studies and trends of inquiry.

MUS E661 Historical Research in Music Education (2 cr.) An examination of the methods used in historical research in music education, with a survey of major studies and trends of inquiry.

MUS E662 Public Lecture (0 cr.) P: Consent of instructor. A presentation made to the university community and submitted for consideration to an appropriate professional conference. The paper presented must represent new, doctoral-level research, and be approved by a primary faculty supervisor and a second faculty reader. This course is eligible for deferred (R) grading.

MUS E665 Historical and Philosophical Readings in Music Education (3 cr.) P: E660 Philosophical Research in Music Education or E661 Historical Research in Music Education. This course includes advanced and selected readings in the history and philosophy of music education. These readings are intended to broaden and deepen students' grasp of these literatures preparatory to undertaking research in these areas.

MUS E700 Dissertation in Music Education (arr. cr.) This course is eligible for deferred (R) grading.

Music Pedagogy

MUS E130 Introduction to Music Learning (2 cr.) Introduction to the philosophy, sociology, and psychology of music. Survey of careers in music, including teaching (school and private), performing, scholarship, publishing, and technical fields. This course fulfills the pedagogy requirement for B.M. degrees.

MUS E303 Violin/Viola Pedagogy I (2 cr.) Learning the skills to teach beginning violin or viola students through lectures, observation of private and group lessons, and teaching children under the supervision of the instructor. Paper on a topic from the course.

MUS E304 Violin/Viola Pedagogy II (2 cr.) P: E303 Violin/Viola Pedagogy I. Learning to teach shifting, vibrato, and bow strokes, and exploring the repertoire of young violinists and violists. Course includes lectures, observation of private and group lessons, and teaching children under the supervision of the instructor. Paper on a topic from the course.

MUS E306 Cello Pedagogy (2 cr.) Comparisons of cello methods and materials, study of right-hand and left-hand techniques, observation of teaching, and practical experience teaching private and class lessons. Paper on a topic from the course.

MUS E312 Arranging for Instrumental and Vocal Groups (2 cr.) P: T252 Music Theory and Literature IV and T232 Musical Skills III, or equivalent for all students, and F205 Introduction to Instrumental Techniques for B.M.E. Choral Teaching and General Music Teaching students. Scoring for orchestra, band, and chorus.

MUS E315 Double Bass Pedagogy (2 cr.) P: Junior standing. Study of techniques, practitioners, and scope of double bass pedagogy from the 18th century to the present. Weekly discussion topics; two papers required.

MUS E413 Harp Pedagogy (3 cr.) P: Junior standing. A survey of teaching materials and methods for the harp and texts on basic musicianship. Observation of private lessons and class instruction.

MUS E414 Applied Harp Pedagogy (3 cr.) P: Junior standing. A supervised series of private and class harp lessons.

MUS E459 Instrumental Pedagogy (1-3 cr.) Pedagogy classes pertaining to the individual instruments.

MUS E467 Techniques of String Class Teaching (3 cr.) Current pedagogical practices, procedures, and materials for string teaching for both class and private instruction.

MUS E470 Pedagogy of Jazz (2 cr.) P: Successful completion of upper-division examination and O316 Jazz Arranging 1. For Jazz majors and minors only. Techniques and methods of teaching jazz studies, including the training of jazz bands.

MUS E489 Organ Pedagogy (3 cr.) P: Successful completion of upper-division examination. Pedagogical practices, procedures, and materials for organ teaching.

MUS E493 Piano Pedagogy (2 cr.) P: Successful completion of upper-division examination. Methods and materials for teaching individuals and classes of both children and adults. Two hours of demonstration and two hours of teaching each week.

MUS E494 Vocal Pedagogy (3 cr.) P: Successful completion of upper-division examination. Principles of voice production. Quality, diction, range, breathing, vocalization, dynamics, agility, and vocal hygiene as bases for an approach to voice teaching.

MUS E503 Violin/Viola Pedagogy I (2 cr.) Learning the skills to teach beginning violin or viola students through lectures, observation of private and group lessons, and teaching children under the supervision of the instructor. Paper on a topic from the course.

MUS E504 Violin/Viola Pedagogy II (2 cr.) P: E503 Violin/Viola Pedagogy I. Learning to teach shifting, vibrato, and bow strokes, and exploring the repertoire of young violinists and violists. Course includes lectures, observation of private and group lessons, and teaching children under the supervision of the instructor. Paper on a topic from the course.

MUS E505 Violin/Viola Pedagogy III (2 cr.) P: E503 Violin/Viola Pedagogy I and E504 Violin/ Viola Pedagogy II. Extended work and independent projects in violin and viola pedagogy. Paper and lecture on a topic from the course.

MUS E506 Cello Pedagogy (2 cr.) Comparisons of cello methods and materials, study of right-hand and left-hand techniques, observation of teaching, and practical experience teaching private and class lessons. Paper on a topic from the course.

MUS E509 Horn Pedagogy (1 cr.) Observation of two private lessons per week taught by major teachers. Term paper required.

MUS E510 Trumpet Pedagogy (1 cr.) Observation of two private lessons per week taught by major teachers. Term paper required.

MUS E511 Trombone Pedagogy (1 cr.) Observation of two private lessons per week taught by major teachers. Term paper required.

MUS E512 Tuba Pedagogy (1 cr.) Observation of two private lessons per week taught by major teachers. Term paper required.

MUS E513 Harp Pedagogy (3 cr.) A survey of teaching materials and methods for the harp and texts on basic musicianship. Observation of private lessons and class instruction.

MUS E514 Applied Harp Pedagogy (3 cr.) A supervised series of private and class harp lessons.

MUS E515 Double Bass Pedagogy (2 cr.) Study of techniques, practitioners, and scope of double bass pedagogy from the 18th century to the present. Weekly discussion topics; two papers required.

MUS E557 Band Arranging for Graduate Students (3 cr.) P: Consent of instructor. Practical arranging of music for concert, marching, and pep bands. Transcriptions of appropriate selections from piano, organ, or orchestral literature.

MUS E559 Instrumental Pedagogy (1-3 cr.) P: Graduate standing. Pedagogy classes pertaining to individual instruments.

MUS E570 Pedagogy of Jazz (2 cr.) Techniques and methods of teaching jazz studies.

MUS E571 Kodály Concept I (3 cr.) Methods, analysis, and solfege; materials and curriculum development. Primary.

MUS E572 Kodály Concept II (3 cr.) Methods, analysis, and solfege; materials and curriculum development. Intermediate.

MUS E573 Kodály Concept III (3 cr.) Methods, analysis, and solfege; materials and curriculum development. Advanced.

MUS E574 Orff Program Development I (3 cr.) Methods and materials, movement, singing and playing skills; curriculum development. Primary.

MUS E575 Orff Program Development II (3 cr.) Methods and materials, movement, singing and playing skills; curriculum development. Intermediate.

MUS E576 Orff Program Development III (3 cr.) Methods and materials, movement, singing and playing skills; curriculum development. Advanced.

MUS N399 Honors Seminar in Music (3 cr.)

P: Admission to the Jacobs School of Music undergraduate honors program. Reading and discussion in special topics ranging from performance practice to music and culture.

MUS N499 Honors Project in Music (3 cr.)

P: N399 Honors Seminar in Music and approval of the school honors committee. For honors students only.

Music Information Technology

MUS N364 Music Information Representation, Search, and Retrieval (3 cr.) A comparative survey of computer-based representation schemes for music, including those oriented toward music notation, music performance, and music analysis. Overview of tools for computer-assisted music analysis using selected representation schemes.

MUS N468 Topics in Music Information Technology (3 cr.) P: Permission of instructor. May be repeated for different topics.

MUS N546 Symbolic Music Information Processing (3 cr.) Methodology and applications to algorithmically annotate, understand, recognize, and categorize music in symbolic form.

MUS N547 Audio Music Information Processing (3 cr.) Music analysis and processing problems using sampled audio as the primary data representation. Digital signal processing, including filtering and its relationship to Fourier techniques. Synthesis, effects processing, score following, blind music recognition, and accompaniment systems.

MUS N560 Introduction to Music Informatics (3 cr.) History, issues, and applications in music information technology. Survey of various types of musical information. Introduction to digital musical media, including data standards and processing; database structure and organization standards and processing; database structure and organization of audio-, score-, and textfile objects; and discussion of copyright issues.

MUS N561 MIDI and Computer Music (3 cr.) P: Graduate standing. Basics of the Musical Instrument Digital Interface system, its software, and instruments commonly used with desktop MIDI workstations (synthesizers, digital samplers). In-depth study of MIDI sequencing, digital audio editing, and the architecture of electronic instruments. A final project and a paper on a computer music topic are required.

MUS N562 Computer Music: Design/Perform (3 cr.) P: N561 Introduction to MIDI and Computer Music or equivalent experience and permission of instructor. Projects in fixed-media computer music composition (with and without video) and live electronic music performance. Field recording, audio editing, sampling, effects processing, mixing, mastering, video synchronization, methods of synthesis, virtual instrument design, real-time hardware control of audio, live video processing.

MUS N563 Developing Computer-Based Music Instruction (3 cr.) Overview of the instructional design process, learning theories, user-interface design, and delivery of computer-based music learning. Survey of authoring tools.

MUS N564 Music Information Representation, Search, and Retrieval (3 cr.) A comprehensive, comparative study of computer-based representation schemes for music, including those oriented toward music notation, music performance, and music analysis. Overview of musical metadata. Techniques and tools for search and retrieval of musical information.

MUS N568 Topics in Music Information Technology (3 cr.) P: Permission of instructor. May be repeated for different topics.

MUS N569 Independent Research in Music Information Technology (3 cr.) P: Admission to the Music Information Technology minor. Independent research in music information technology.

Jazz

MUS O311 Fundamentals of Jazz Theory (1 cr.) P: Music Fundamentals Online or T109 Rudiments of Music I with grade of C or higher. Jazz nomenclature, chord/scale relationships, harmony, tune forms, basic keyboard application, and ear training.

MUS O316 Jazz Arranging 1 (2 cr.) P: O311 Fundamentals of Jazz Theory and O321 Jazz Improvisation 1 or permission of instructor. Scoring for jazz instruments in various ensembles. Study of arrangers and arrangements in various styles to assimilate their characteristics; applications of these styles to original arrangements.

MUS O317 Jazz Arranging 2 (2 cr.) P: O316 Jazz Arranging 1. More advanced arranging for various combinations of instruments in different styles.

Regulations and Procedures

Academic Regulations

Academic and Professional Conduct

All students at Indiana University are responsible for knowing the rules governing academic and personal conduct in the Indiana University Code of Student Rights, Responsibilities, and Conduct. Code procedures for the Bloomington campus are available at <http://iu.edu/code/index.shtml>. The rules about academic honesty are important for everyone, but students who are new to the education system in the United States should be especially sure to read and understand them because the expectations here may be different from those to which they are accustomed.

Each student is expected to adhere to high professional, ethical, and academic standards, and the Jacobs School of Music may dismiss from its programs any student who fails to do so. In general, it is assumed that all academic work (such as papers, essays, quizzes, tests, oral reports, projects, compositions, dissertations, documents, and performances) is a student's original work. Collaboration is sometimes permitted for certain assignments in some courses. Students should always make certain that they understand what an instructor expects for a particular assignment. It is also assumed that material borrowed or quoted from other sources (including from books, articles, the Web, and elsewhere) will be acknowledged and cited.

The penalties for academic and personal misconduct are severe, and can include dismissal from the university. Students with questions about the rules and the disciplinary procedures for the Bloomington campus are welcome to ask the directors of undergraduate or graduate studies.

Change of Degree Requirements

Each student is subject to the music degree requirements outlined in the current Jacobs School of Music Bulletin. When new requirements are introduced after a student has matriculated, the student may elect to observe either the requirements in force at the date of matriculation or those most recently established by the Jacobs School of Music.

Grades

The official grading system of Indiana University is as follows:

A+ or A	4.0
A-	3.7
B+	3.3
B	3.0
B-	2.7
C+	2.3
C	2.0
C-	1.7
D+	1.3
D	1.0
D-	0.7
F	0.0

Addition of Courses

No course may be added after the normal schedule adjustment period of a semester unless the instructor and department chairperson of the course give signed approval and the course addition is approved by the dean of the school in which the student is enrolled. Permission to add a course after the end of a semester will be given only in extraordinary circumstances and in no case more than four weeks after the end of the semester.

Withdrawal from Courses

Withdrawals made before the end of the first week of classes will not appear on a student's permanent internal record. After the first week of classes, withdrawals are automatically marked W until the university automatic W deadline. After the automatic W deadline, withdrawal is permitted only if the instructor and dean of the student's school approve the request on the basis of urgent, documented reasons relating to the student's health or equivalent distress. The desire to avoid a low grade is not an acceptable reason for withdrawal from a course. If a student withdraws with the consent of the instructor and the dean, the grade in the course shall be W if the work is passing and F if the work is not passing. The grade will be recorded on the date of withdrawal. Failure to complete a course without an authorized withdrawal will result in the grade of FNN or FN.

Incompletes and Deferred Grades

If a student is not in attendance during the last two or three weeks of a semester, the instructor may report a grade of I (indicating the work is satisfactory at the end of the semester but has not been completed) if the instructor has reason to believe the absence was beyond the student's control; if not, the instructor shall record a grade of FN. In addition, a student may not enroll in a course in which the student has received a grade of Incomplete, except in performance, chamber music, and ensemble.

It is the responsibility of the student who has incurred the grade of Incomplete in any course to fulfill the requirements of that course within one calendar year from the date on which the Incomplete is recorded. The student is expected to complete all necessary work in time for the instructor to assign a regular grade before the expiration of this time period. If this is impossible because of circumstances clearly beyond the student's control, it is the student's responsibility to petition the instructor for an extension of time. Every Incomplete is changed to F at the end of one year unless a grade is assigned during that year.

The grade of R is used in courses such as research courses and recitals in which completion of the work of the course is not necessarily required at the end of the semester.

FNN and FN Grades

The grade of FNN is given to students who have never attended. The grade of FN is given to students who stopped attending, to distinguish the grade from the F awarded for poor performance. The instructor must provide on the electronic grade roster the last date of documented class attendance or participation when awarding the FN grade.

Pass/Fail Option

Under certain circumstances an undergraduate student in good standing (not on probation) may enroll in up to eight elective courses to be taken with a grade of P (Pass) or F (Fail) during the four years of the undergraduate program. A student may take two courses per academic year on the Pass/Fail option. An academic year begins with the first day of the fall semester and ends with the last day of the summer term.

If a student elects the Pass/Fail option in a course, the Office of the Registrar will convert the final grade to either P (grade of A, B, C, or D) or F (grade of F). The grade of P indicates satisfactory work in fulfillment of degree requirements, but it is not computed in the grade point average. The grade of F is included in determining grade point averages.

No courses fulfilling general education requirements or with a MUS or an EDUC prefix can be taken on a Pass/Fail basis by music majors. Students may use Pass/Fail courses only as free electives; they may not use Pass/Fail courses to meet stated degree requirements. Once the Pass/Fail option request has been processed, the decision cannot be reversed. The deadline for filing Pass/Fail option requests is the end of the fourth week of the semester or two weeks into a summer course. The Pass/Fail option is not available to graduate or diploma students.

Extended-X Policy

Undergraduate students may petition for a grade substitution under the amended FX (Extended-X) policy. Undergraduate students may retake a course for which they received a grade below an A. A student may exercise this option for no more than three courses, totaling no more than 10 credits. A student may use this option only once for a given course. The student's transcript shall record both grades. For the course retaken, only the second grade shall be counted in the determination of the student's grade point average (GPA). In the Jacobs School of Music, performance study at the 400 level, masterclass (I500), and major ensemble (see list of Major Ensembles in the Courses section of this bulletin) are ineligible for this type of grade petition.

Change of Grade and Grade Appeal

No grade may be changed after six calendar months from the date of the last day of final examinations. Grade appeals in the Jacobs School of Music are considered by the Academic Fairness Committee; there is no further appeal outside the School. A student must submit a grade appeal in writing to the Associate Dean for Instruction no later than four weeks after the grade is awarded.

Absences

Illness is usually the only acceptable excuse for absence from class and must be officially confirmed. A student's excessive absence may be reported by the instructor to the director of undergraduate or graduate studies.

A student who misses a final examination and who has a passing grade up to that time may be given a grade of Incomplete if the instructor has reason to believe that the absence was beyond the student's control.

Every effort is made to avoid time conflicts between Jacobs School of Music classes and performances. However, if a student is required to participate in performances or other activities officially sponsored by the Jacobs School of Music that coincide with classes or examinations within the school, the instructors involved will be informed in advance and asked to make some accommodation for the student. Consideration for professional opportunities not sponsored by the Jacobs School of Music is at the sole discretion of the instructor.

Minimum and Maximum Semester Load

Undergraduate Students

Undergraduates in the Jacobs School of Music are not permitted to enroll in fewer than 14 credit hours or more than 20 credit hours during the fall and spring semesters (more than 10 during the summer term), including major ensemble (2 credits), except with special permission from the director of undergraduate studies. A student in good standing may petition the director of undergraduate studies to enroll in more than 20 credit hours. Only in very exceptional cases shall the total carried exceed 22 credit hours. Any student taking a music performance course during a fall or spring semester or a summer term must enroll for at least two hours of credit in that performance course. B.M.E. students in the semester of student teaching are exempt.

Students in their final semester of enrollment may be permitted to enroll in fewer than 14 credit hours, which must include a major ensemble (2 credits). Students should consult other offices in the Jacobs School of Music and the university to determine the effect of part-time enrollment on financial aid, international student status, insurance, and other issues.

Graduate Students

In the fall or spring semester, graduate degree students must enroll in a minimum of 8 credit hours, and diploma students and visiting students must enroll in a minimum of 10 credit hours (including major ensemble). With the prior approval of the director of graduate studies, part-time enrollment in one or more academic course(s) is permitted for master's and doctoral students for a maximum of two semesters before the last semester of the degree. Part-time master's students may enroll for a maximum of 5 credit hours, and part-time doctoral students for a maximum of 7 credit hours. Part-time enrollment may not include performance (individual studio) study or chamber music and is not available for diploma or visiting students. Part-time students will not be required to enroll in major ensemble. Financial aid is not available to part-time students.

Master's students who are in their final semester of coursework and have fewer than 6 credits of required coursework remaining may register for just those credit hours, plus 2 credits of major ensemble if required for the degree. In that final semester, registration in fewer than 8 credits is not possible if the final requirement includes performance (individual studio) study. Master's students who register in performance study must enroll in a minimum of 8 credits in that semester. Doctoral students who are in or past their final semester of required coursework may enroll in fewer than 8 credit hours. Students should consult other offices in the Jacobs School of Music and the university to determine the effect of part-time enrollment on financial aid, international student status, insurance, and other issues.

Application for Degrees or Diplomas

All candidates for degrees or diplomas (except for the M.A. and Ph.D., which are applied for in the University Graduate School) must complete an application for graduation no later than the third week of the semester in which they expect to graduate. Consult with the music undergraduate and graduate offices for appropriate forms and procedures.

Audit Policy

The Jacobs School of Music of Indiana University has a long tradition of openness in its performing and academic activities. Students and visitors to the campus may benefit from opportunities to attend lectures, rehearsals, lessons, or other activities. These activities may range from informal observation for a limited number of sessions to the following regulations:

Permission to observe classes informally is at the discretion of the supervising teacher. Limitations in seating capacity may make it impossible to include auditors or observers. Permission to audit formally (i.e., with registration and fees) is primarily the responsibility of the supervising teacher, but is subject to the following regulations:

1. Students may not register as auditors for any class that involves class participation. This includes classes in written theory, sight singing, ear training and keyboard, instrumental techniques, ballet, and others. To determine if a class falls under this provision, the student should consult the chair of the department in which the class is given.
2. Students may register as auditors for music performance classes (applied music), but they will not be counted as part of the faculty load, and they will not perform themselves. To observe or audit a lesson, students must have permission not only from the supervising teacher, but also from the student whose lesson is being heard.

3. Formal auditing or informal observation of classes is not intended as preparation for exemption or proficiency tests. Permission to observe or audit a class may be denied by the supervising faculty member on this basis.
4. Music majors may not audit graduate review courses in music theory or M501 Proseminar in Music History and Literature.
5. Official audit status for a class requires the approval of the professor in charge. During the first week of classes, the student should obtain written approval from the professor. This approval will need to be taken to the Registrar's Office so that they can add the class to the student's schedule as an auditor. There is a fee of $25/credit hour.
6. No class that has been officially audited may be used towards degree credit of any kind in the Jacobs School of Music unless (a) the student passes a validation examination and any other requirements of the course under the supervision of the professor teaching the course, (b) the student has met any prerequisites for the course (to be verified by the approving faculty member), and (c) the student pays full tuition for the course.

Credit by Examination

Students who can demonstrate knowledge or skills in the area of specific undergraduate courses may receive credit by examination.

Students with Disabilities

Students with a learning disability, hearing impairment, speech impairment, or any other disability that may affect their ability to fulfill a requirement of the Jacobs School of Music should contact Disability Services for Students (DSS) (<http://studentaffairs.iub.edu/dss/>) at (812) 855-7578 before registering. Requirements will not be waived for students with disabilities; however, some accommodations can be made within specific courses after documentation is received from DSS.

Academic Standing - Undergraduate

Students are in good standing in the Jacobs School of Music if they are admitted to a music degree or diploma program, if they are making satisfactory progress toward that degree, and if they are not on academic probation.

Academic Warning, Academic Probation, and Dismissal

An undergraduate student will receive an academic warning after any semester in which

1. the student does not achieve a satisfactory grade in a music theory or music history course (D- or minimum required grade), or
2. the student fails to achieve a passing grade in any required secondary piano course, either by not enrolling or by earning the grade of F.

An undergraduate student will be placed on academic probation after any semester in which

1. the student's semester or cumulative GPA falls below 2.0; or

2. the student receives a grade of F or does not enroll in a major ensemble; or
3. the student receives a grade of F or does not enroll in the major area of study; or
4. the student receives an unsatisfactory grade (below D- or below minimum required grade) in a core course for the second time; or
5. the student receives unsatisfactory grades (below D- or below minimum required grade) in two or more music courses in one semester.

A student who has had two consecutive semesters of academic problems may also be placed on academic probation at the recommendation of the director of undergraduate studies. To be removed from academic probation, a student must meet the terms specified by the Jacobs School of Music. Students on academic probation are not eligible for financial aid from the Jacobs School of Music.

An undergraduate student will be subject to dismissal from the school when

1. the student's semester GPA falls below 1.0; or
2. the student does not fulfill the terms of academic probation; or
3. the student engages in an act of academic, personal, or professional misconduct; or
4. the student, in the judgment of the director of undergraduate studies, fails to make satisfactory progress toward the degree.

The Jacobs School of Music Administrative Committee considers petitions for readmission from students who have been dismissed.

Class Standing

Class standing is based on the number of credit hours successfully completed: freshman, fewer than 27 credit hours; sophomore, 27 to 55 credit hours; junior, 56 to 85 credit hours; and senior, 86 or more credit hours.

Academic Standing - Graduate and Diploma

Students are in good standing in the Jacobs School of Music if they are admitted to a music degree or diploma program, if they are making satisfactory progress toward that degree, and if they are not on academic probation.

Academic Warning, Academic Probation, and Dismissal

A graduate or diploma student will receive an academic warning after any semester in which

1. the student's semester GPA falls below 3.0; or
2. the student receives a grade below B in major ensemble; or
3. the student receives a grade below the required minimum in a course required for the major field; or
4. the student completes fewer than the number of credits required for his or her academic program; or
5. the student receives an unsatisfactory grade in a review course taken to satisfy a proficiency requirement.

A graduate or diploma student will be placed on academic probation after any semester in which

1. the student receives academic warning letters in consecutive semesters; or
2. the student's cumulative GPA (representative of at least two semesters) falls below 3.0; or
3. the student receives a grade of F in a major ensemble; or
4. the student receives a grade of F in a course required for the major field; or
5. the student accumulates two or more unsatisfactory grades in review courses taken to satisfy a proficiency requirement.

To be removed from academic probation, a student must meet the terms specified by the Jacobs School of Music. Students on academic probation are not eligible for financial aid from the Jacobs School of Music.

A graduate or diploma student will be subject to dismissal from the school when

1. the student receives an academic warning while on probation; or
2. the student is subject to probation a second time while already on probation; or
3. the student's semester GPA falls below 2.0; or
4. the student fails for a second time to achieve a satisfactory grade in the same review course taken to satisfy a proficiency requirement; or
5. the student does not fulfill the terms of academic probation; or
6. the student engages in an act of academic, personal, or professional misconduct; or
7. the student fails, in the judgment of the director of graduate studies, to make satisfactory progress toward the degree.

The Jacobs School of Music Administrative Committee considers petitions for readmission from students who have been dismissed.

Individual Studio Study and Performance-Related Policies

Assignments for Music Studio Study and Lessons

The dean of the Jacobs School of Music assigns students to teachers for the entire semester on the basis of student requests and teacher availability. While the Jacobs School of Music makes every effort to honor teacher preferences, it cannot guarantee specific studio assignments. The assignment takes place during the first week of classes of each semester for students who have not preregistered for a particular teacher. Such preregistration is accomplished only with the written authorization of the requested teacher.

Studio instruction (performance/composition) in individual lessons or a combination of individual and small group lessons is at the discretion of the teacher. Students ordinarily receive one lesson each week of classes during the semester. A student who cannot attend a scheduled lesson is required to notify the teacher at least 24 hours before the beginning of the lesson; otherwise, except for illness immediately prior to a lesson, the student forfeits the right to a make-up lesson. Students absent without excuse from more than three lessons in any one studio course during a semester fail in that course, but their lessons are not discontinued. Lessons missed by the teacher are made up at the mutual convenience of the student and teacher.

Practice time may be reserved each fall and spring semester and summer term. The amount of daily reserved practice time is determined by the degree and instrument for the semester in which the student is applying. To secure reserved practice time, the student must apply online. Application for reserved practice time should be made each semester after completing semester registration. Practice time assignments are not released until the first day of classes each semester. The deadline for reserved practice time applications is the Friday of the first week of classes. Applications received the first week of the semester will be assigned and returned the second week of classes. Adjustments to reserved practice time assignments will not be made until the third week of each semester. If at any time during the semester students withdraw or cancel their classes, their reserved practice time will be revoked. To obtain more information and to access the online application, see <http://music.indiana.edu/departments/offices/business-affairs/practice-time.shtml>.

Examinations and Goals in Performance

Level of Achievement

Each student taking performance courses must make satisfactory progress each semester as determined by the various examinations in performance.

Upper-Division Examination

The purpose of the upper-division examination is to assess the undergraduate student's general progress and to determine continuation in the chosen curriculum. The examination is administered, usually in the last week of classes, at the end of the fourth semester of study or, for transfer students, at the end of a semester to be determined by the instructor/department. Students who have a valid reason to postpone the examination may petition the director of undergraduate studies of the Jacobs School of Music. The exam should not be postponed past the time when an estimated four semesters of degree work remain to be completed.

A committee composed of the student's major department faculty members (in some cases including a Jacobs School of Music administrator) administers the examination and makes recommendations for the student's junior and senior years of study. A written report of the committee's comments is compiled in the Office of Undergraduate Studies and furnished to the student after the upper-division examination.

Bachelor of Music Education and Composition majors have a departmental examination in addition to the performance portion of the exam. Ballet and Recording Arts majors have only a departmental examination. Jazz Studies majors have a departmental examination, with the student's performance instructor included as part of the examining committee.

Each student who is studying performance is graded on the upper-division examination, and this grade is the final grade for the semester's work in the principal performance field. The student's teacher gives two grades, one for the semester's work and one for the performance at the examination; every other member of the committee gives one grade for the examination. The student's final grade is the average of all these grades.

Other Examinations in Music Performance Courses

The student should consult the relevant performance faculty for specific information on the scheduling of exams, the constitution of the hearing committee, and grading procedures. Examinations by a committee composed of the student's teacher and two other members usually are held as follows:

B.M. majors in performance: end of fall semester for all performance areas except string and woodwind majors, who have examinations at the end of the spring semester. The upper-division examination and junior and senior recital hearings constitute examinations for second, third, and fourth years.

B.M.E. concentrations, B.S. concentrations, and B.M. composition and jazz studies majors: end of spring semester. The upper-division examination and the senior recital constitute examinations for the second and fourth years.

Non-music majors in elective performance (undergraduates and graduates): each semester of enrollment.

Music majors enrolled in 100-, 700-, or 800-level performance study: each semester of enrollment, or as determined by the department.

Master's degree majors: no examinations (graduate recital only).

It is the prerogative of the teacher to ask for a committee examination of any student who is making doubtful progress in the curriculum.

Recitals

Enrollment in Individual Instruction

Undergraduate students must be enrolled in individual instruction during the semester (fall, spring, or summer term) during which they perform a junior or senior recital. Any exception requires approval of the student's teacher, the department chair, and the director of undergraduate studies before the recital may be scheduled.

Location

Recitals must take place in public spaces in Bloomington, announced to and open to the public. Exceptionally, with the approval of a student's doctoral advisory committee and the director of graduate studies, one doctoral recital may be performed out of town if attended in person, at the expense of the student, by the faculty member(s) who would ordinarily be present, including the committee chair.

Date

Recitals ordinarily take place during the fall or spring semesters according to deadlines specified in the scheduling policies. Recitals may take place during the summer term if a hearing can be arranged and if faculty members are available to attend the recital.

Hearing

A pre-recital hearing is required for all undergraduate, master's, and performer diploma recitals, except for composition recitals. At the discretion of the faculty, other recitals may also be given a hearing. A hearing must be scheduled so that it can be completed and the recital performed within the published deadlines; it is the student's responsibility to arrange a hearing and to meet the deadlines. Students may perform a hearing in the summer with the approval of the department chair if faculty members are available. A hearing is valid for 60 days.

Repertory

Recital repertory is subject to approval by a student's teacher or committee following any guidelines published by the department. Appropriate repertory for chamber music recitals is specified by departments. Recital repertory may not be repeated for degree or diploma credit.

Grading

The grade for an undergraduate, master's, performer diploma, or doctoral minor recital is assigned by the teacher, who hears the recital in person. A composition recital grade is based on an average of the grades of the faculty members who attend the recital. A jazz recital grade is based on an average of the grades of jazz studies department faculty members who attend the recital and the teacher with whom the student is enrolled in performance study.

Artist Diploma recitals are attended and graded in person by the three members of a student's AD committee. If a committee member is unable to attend, he or she and the student must arrange for a substitute from inside or outside the major department, as appropriate.

Doctoral recitals are ordinarily attended and graded in person by the three members of a student's doctoral advisory committee. The chair must hear the recital in person; exceptionally, in consultation beforehand with the committee chair and the student, a committee member may arrange for a departmental substitute, or to hear a recording of the recital. Recordings, when used, are available in the Music Library.

All recital grades are reported in writing to the director of undergraduate or graduate studies.

Recording

Doctoral and Artist Diploma recitals must be recorded by the recording arts department for the Music Library when they take place in a Jacobs School of Music venue. A recording of equivalent quality must be provided to the Music Library by the student when a Doctoral or Artist Diploma recital is performed in a non-Music School venue.

Assisting Performers

Recitals may include the participation of no more than 13 assisting performers and a conductor. All must be available for a hearing, if required. Participation by assisting performers must not interfere with their lessons, ensemble assignments or academic responsibilities. Chamber music credit is available to the assisting performers only if they have registered and arranged specifically for that credit. Special rules apply to conducting, composition, and jazz studies recitals that use Jacobs School of Music ensembles or specially-assembled groups; consult the appropriate department for information.

Length

The following are the minimum and maximum number of minutes of music for the categories of recitals indicated:

	Minimum	Maximum

* For composition students: Student's own compositions for various media written during residency, with the student participating as a performer or conductor in at least one work.

For students in computer music composition: Student's own compositions for computer-generated audio playback alone, audio playback with instrument(s), interactive live electronics, or multimedia works with substantial computer music component.

Performer's Certificate

Undergraduate students, master's students, and Performer Diploma, Solo Performance students are eligible for the Performer's Certificate, which is awarded as a special recognition of musical understanding and technical proficiency demonstrated in recital. Award of the Performer's Certificate is a three-step process involving the hearing, the recital, and a special hearing by the All-Faculty Performer's Certificate Committee. Each of the three steps must take place during a fall or spring semester. Details are available in the undergraduate office. The following procedures are to be observed:

1. The student is initially nominated for the Performer's Certificate at the recital hearing which must be attended by at least three faculty members. Based on the number present, the necessary number of positive votes to be nominated for a Performer's Certificate is shown in parentheses: 3(2), 4(3), 5(4), 6(4), 7(5), 8(6), 9(6), 10(7), 11(8), 12(8), 13(9), 14(10), 15(10), 16(11), 17(12), 18(12), 19(13), 20(14), 21(14).
2. The required quorum for attendance at the recital is five faculty members. The student, performance instructor, and department chair should consult to be sure that the recital is scheduled at a time when the required quorum can be met. The chair of the student's department has the responsibility to assemble the faculty committee in consultation with the performance instructor. Based on the number present, the necessary number of positive votes to be nominated for a special hearing by the All-Faculty Performer's Certificate Committee is shown in parentheses: 5(4), 6(4), 7(5), 8(6), 9(6), 10(7), 11(8), 12(8), 13(9), 14(10), 15(10), 16(11), 17(12), 18(12), 19(13), 20(14), 21(14).
3. If the recital quorum is met and the vote is positive, the student's department chair should notify the undergraduate office as soon as possible of the number of faculty present and the results of their vote. The chair should also instruct the student to go to the undergraduate office immediately to schedule the special hearing.
4. The regular size of the All-Faculty Performer's Certificate Committee is seven members; the required quorum at the special hearing is five members. Based on the number present, the number of positive votes required to award the Performer's Certificate is shown in parentheses: 5(4), 6(4), 7(5). The special hearing is scheduled for half an hour. The student selects the music for the first ten minutes, and the chairperson of the committee, in consultation with other committee members, chooses the repertoire for the remaining time.
5. At the special hearing, the student must be prepared to perform the entire recital program (the same program as the recital); if other performers were involved in the recital, the same performers must be present at the special hearing. The student is most strongly advised not to schedule the recital within the last two weeks of the semester. If the student is nominated at a recital taking place after the Sunday that precedes the second-to-last week of classes, the special hearing cannot take place during that semester. If the special hearing is thus delayed to the following (spring or fall) semester, the requirement that the student be prepared to perform the same recital with the same performers still stands.

Outside Instruction and Performance

Students are not permitted to use state property for private enterprises such as the teaching of lessons in university buildings.

Students are encouraged to consult with their faculty instructors before accepting an appearance as a soloist on public programs or before participating in music ensembles outside the Jacobs School of Music.

Ensemble Policy

All undergraduate and graduate degree students, diploma students, visiting students, and nondegree music students (except students accepted for certain doctoral programs, master's students who have completed their major ensemble degree requirement, or B.M.E. majors in their student-teaching semester) must register for and achieve a passing grade in a major ensemble each fall and spring semester. See list of Major Ensembles in the Courses section of this bulletin.

Students may request placement in a particular ensemble, but final placement will be made by the faculty.

The ensemble requirement was established by the faculty for several reasons. It provides professional training in an important area of a student's performance development, and it provides opportunities for music students to hear great masterworks in live performance. It also provides listening experiences for other members of the university community and helps to compensate for the fact that the university subsidizes the extra cost involved in professional music training.

The faculty of the Jacobs School of Music is strongly committed to the idea that students should be given the opportunity to develop their talents to the highest degree possible. They are also committed to the idea that each student can and should contribute to the education of others, to the advancement of the art of music, and to the enrichment of the cultural life of the university through participation in the major ensemble experience.

Official Dress

The official dress for public performances of Jacobs School of Music ensembles is as follows: black tuxedo, white shirt, black bow tie, black shoes, and black socks for men; solid long-sleeved black blouses, floor-length black skirts or black dress slacks, black shoes, and no jewelry for women. The Jacobs School of Music requires that students own concert attire by the beginning of the academic year. Certain ensembles specify other types of attire and make this known at the beginning of each semester.

Student Photography, Audio, and Video Recording Policy

Students participating in Indiana University Jacobs School of Music ("JSOM") performances, authorize the JSOM, its agents, employees, or representatives, to take photographs, audio recordings, and/or video recordings of their performances, including their name, image, or likeness. The Trustees of Indiana University own all copyrights in photographs, video recordings, and/or audio recordings of live concerts, performances, and recording sessions.

JSoM recordings are typically used for archival and educational purposes. JSoM retains the right to commercially reproduce, adapt, distribute, display, perform or otherwise use the recordings of JSoM performances in any manner consistent with the JSoM Policy on Rights of Ownership and Use of Audio and Video Recordings (available at http://music.indiana.edu/official-documents/_internal/exec-assoc-dean/JSOM_Recordings_Policy.pdf). Recordings and/or photographs, together with a student's name, image, or likeness, may be used by the JSoM, including its assigns and transferees, for marketing, advertising, publicity, or other promotional purposes.

JSoM reserves final editorial authority over the use of recordings and photographs, without any right on the part of students to inspect or withhold approval of any future use of photographs or recordings. Students shall not receive compensation for participating in recordings or for any future use of recordings.

Use of Jacobs School of Music Instruments

School instruments are available only to students enrolled in Jacobs School of Music courses, e.g., ensemble or performance lessons. Rental and deposit may be charged as approved by the Indiana University Board of Trustees. Non-music students must pay a rental fee.

The Jacobs School of Music cannot give exclusive use of an instrument to one individual. Thus instruments may be assigned for use by more than one person. For this reason, each instrument must be kept in the locker assigned to that instrument when not in use.

A prescribed method of sign-out and return of instruments is essential to their efficient use. Failure to follow sign-out or return procedures subjects the student to a minimum fine of $60 plus $1 per day until the student is released of responsibility.

Instruments are assigned for a specific period of time, which is never to extend beyond the last day of classes each semester. Students needing an instrument after the last day of classes must obtain special permission from the Instrumental Rental Office or be subject to the fine policy.

A student using a school-owned instrument is responsible for the care of the instrument; any damage incurred, other than the usual wear, is the responsibility of the student. Repairs are made by the university and charged to the student.

Check List

Students who have not returned equipment, music, instruments, keys, locks, etc., to the Music Facilities Office or other appropriate area by the designated date are fined and placed on the check list. A student on the check list may not register in the following semester, receive honorable dismissal to enter another institution, or obtain a degree. If the item is not returned, the student is charged for its value plus necessary fines to cover administrative expenses. The cost of a complete lock change, made necessary by the loss of a key or failure to return a key, is charged to the student. A fine is charged for late return of keys. Locks are changed one week after the deadline for return of keys.

Students who are dismissed from the Jacobs School of Music will also be placed on the check list and not allowed to register for future semesters until admitted by another academic unit at Indiana University.

Tuition and Fees

Information about tuition and fee rates, including payment information, fee schedules, and refund schedules, may be found here: <http://bursar.indiana.edu/home/>.

Rules determining resident and nonresident status for fee purposes are described here: <http://policies.iu.edu/policies/categories/academic-faculty-students/university-student-services-systems/USSS-07-rules-determining-resident-nonresident-student-status.shtml>.
